State Formation Christian Krohn-Hansen, Knut G. Nustad, 2005-09-20 What is the state and how can we best study it This book investigates new ways of analysing the state The contributors argue that the state is not a fixed and definite object Our perceptions of it are constantly changing and differ from person to person What is your idea of the state if you are a refugee Or if you are living in post apartheid South Africa Our perceptions are formed and sustained by evolving discourses and techniques these come from institutions such as government but are also made by communities and individuals The contributors examine how state structures are viewed from the inside by official state bodies composed of bureaucrats and politicians and how these state manifestations are supported reproduced or transformed at a local level An outline of theoretical approaches is followed by nine case studies ranging from South Africa to Peru to Norway With a good range of contributors including Cris Shore Clifton Crais Ana Alonso and Bruce Kapferer this is a comprehensive critical analysis of anthropological approaches to the study of state formation Peasant Society Under Siege Michiel Baud, 1991 Los campesinos del Cibao Pedro Luis San Miguel, 1997 Sociaal economische geschiedenis van de boerenstand in de Cibao vallei in de Dominicaanse Republiek Behalve de sociaal economische aspecten wordt ook de rol van de Staat behandeld New West Indian Guide, 2000 Historical Abstracts Eric H. Boehm, 1997 American Sugar Kingdom César J. Ayala, 2009-11-15 Engaging conventional arguments that the persistence of plantations is the cause of economic underdevelopment in the Caribbean this book focuses on the discontinuities in the development of plantation economies in Cuba Puerto Rico and the Dominican Republic in the early twentieth century Cesar Ayala analyzes and compares the explosive growth of sugar production in the three nations following the War of 1898 when the U S acquired Cuba and Puerto Rico to show how closely the development of the Spanish Caribbean s modern economic and social class systems is linked to the history of the U S sugar industry during its greatest period of expansion and consolidation Ayala examines patterns of investment and principal groups of investors interactions between U S capitalists and native planters contrasts between new and old regions of sugar monoculture the historical formation of the working class on sugar plantations and patterns of labor migration In contrast to most studies of the Spanish Caribbean which focus on only one country his account places the history of U S colonialism in the region and the history of plantation agriculture across the region in comparative perspective
