Identity and Belonging Among Chinese Australians Jennifer Martin, Dharma Arunachalam, Helen Forbes-Mewett, 2023-11-20. This book describes the ethnic identity construction involved in being feeling and doing Chinese for multi-generation Australian born Chinese who were born and raised in a different social environment. It demonstrates how Chineseness is manifested in a multitude of ways and totally debunks any notion that being Chinese is a simple identity marker. The book shows that while there are commonalities with the American born, the experiences of Australia born Chinese are distinct in many ways. This book is a timely and critically examination of the inescapability of Chineseness particularly when social and economic stability is threatened and those in power are looking for a scapegoat.

The Misrepresented Minority Samuel D. Museus, Dina C. Maramba, Robert T. Teranishi, 2023-07-03. While Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders (APIs) are growing faster than any other racial group in the U.S., they are all but invisible in higher education and generally ignored in the research literature and thus greatly misrepresented and misunderstood. This book presents disaggregated data to unmask important academic achievement and other disparities within the population and offers new insights that promote more authentic understandings of the realities masked by the designation of API. In offering new perspectives, conceptual frameworks, and empirical research by seasoned and emerging scholars, this book both makes a significant contribution to the emerging knowledge base on APIs and identifies new directions for future scholarship on this population. Its overarching purpose is to provide policymakers, practitioners, and researchers in higher education with the information they need to serve an increasingly important segment of their student populations In dispelling such misconceptions as that Asian Americans are not really racial minorities the book opens up the complexity of the racial and ethnic minorities within this group and identifies the unique challenges that require the attention of anyone in higher education concerned with student access and success as well as the pipeline to the professoriate
