White, 2011-11-15 The time not to become a father is eighteen years before a world war E B White on fatherhood I was lucky to be born abnormal It ran in the family on luck I would really rather feel bad in Maine than feel good anywhere else on Maine The English language is always sticking a foot out to trip a man on language The author of Charlotte's Web and One Man's Meat coauthor of The Elements of Style and columnist for The New Yorker for almost half a century E B White 1899 1985 is an American literary icon Over the course of his career White inspired generations of writers and readers with his essays both serious and humorous children's literature and stylistic guidance In the Words of E B White offers readers a delightful selection of quotations selected and annotated by his granddaughter and literary executor Martha White. The quotations cover a wide range of subjects and situations from Automobiles, Babies, Bees, City Life and College to Spiders, Taxes, Weather, Work and Worry. E B White comments on writing for children, how to tell a major poet from a minor one and what to do when one becomes hopelessly mired in a sentence. White was apt to address the subject of security by speaking first about a Ferris wheel at the local county fair or the subject of democracy from the perspective of roofing his barn and looking out across the bay; he had a gift for bringing the abstract firmly into the realm of the everyday. Included here are gems from White's books and essay collections as well as bits from both published and unpublished letters and journals. This is a book for readers and writers for those who know E B White from his Notes and Comment column in The New Yorker have turned to The Elements of Style for help in crafting a polished sentence or have loved a spider's assessment of Wilbur as Some Pig. This distillation of the wit, style and humanity of one of America's most distinguished essayists of the twentieth century will be a welcome addition to any reader's bookshelf.
