Our Man in Yugoslavia Sebastian Ritchie, 2004-06-01 As a fully documented study of a Second World War Secret Intelligence Service SIS operative Our Man in Yugoslavia is absolutely unique Its subject is Owen Reed an army officer recruited into SIS in the summer of 1943 and then parachuted in to German occupied Croatia to work with Tito's Partisans and other Allied secret organisations. After reporting back to London in July 1944, Reed returned to Yugoslavia to find relations with the Partisans deteriorating. His erstwhile comrades began working against him and the intelligence he passed to the SIS came increasingly to focus on the communist takeover. Reed found himself at the centre of the first great confrontation of the Cold War. Blending biography and operational history, Our Man in Yugoslavia is a remarkable case study illustrating how SIS operatives were recruited and trained and describing their work in detail.

Neglected Skies Angus Britts, 2017-10-15 Neglected Skies uses a reconsideration of the clash between the British Eastern Fleet and the Imperial Japanese Navy's First Air Fleet in the Indian Ocean in April 1942 to draw a larger conclusion about declining British military power in the era. In this book, Angus Britts explores the end of British naval supremacy from an operational perspective. By primarily analyzing the evolution of British naval aviation during the interwar period as well as the challenges that the peacetime Royal Navy was forced to confront, a picture emerges of a battle fleet that entered the war in September 1939 unready for combat. By examining the development of Japan's first strike carrier battle group, the Kido Butai, Britts charts both the rise of Japan as a wartime power as well as the demise of the Royal Navy. Japan, by concentrating their six largest aircraft carriers into a single strike force with state-of-the-art aircraft, had taken a quantum leap forward in warfighting at sea. Simultaneously, British forces found themselves outmatched in this Eastern theatre, and Britts makes the case by looking at a set of key battles that this is where the global supremacy of Britain's naval power ended. Midget

Submarine Commander Paul Watkins, 2013-01-19 A biography of the twentieth-century British Royal Navy officer and Victoria Cross recipient who fought below the waves. Of all the acts of gallantry in World War II, few were as audacious as the attack by midget submarines on the pride of the German fleet, the battleship Tirpitz, lying in her heavily fortified lair deep in a Norwegian fjord. Lieutenant Godfrey Place was in command of submarine X7 in September 1943 and travelled over 1,000 miles negotiating minefields and anti-submarine nets to place four tons of high explosive accurately under the hull of the Tirpitz. For this, he was awarded the Victoria Cross in 1944 at the age of twenty-two. Taken prisoner, he was repatriated to England at the end of the war and continued to serve in the Royal Navy for twenty-five years, flying with 801 Squadron in the Korean War and serving on aircraft carriers at Suez, Nigeria, and the withdrawal from Aden. On his retirement in 1970, he had the distinction of being the last serving naval officer to hold the Victoria Cross. This overdue biography details Godfrey Place's eventful life from a childhood spent partly in East Africa to being the hugely respected Chairman of the Victoria Cross and George Cross Association for over twenty years. Thanks to the author's extensive access to previously unpublished material, including Place's own recollections of the attack, there is unlikely to be a better or more thrilling account of the attack on the Tirpitz. Scenario Designer's Handbook (2nd Ed.) Michael Dorosh, 2015 Scenario Designer's Handbook ISBN 978 0 9782646 8 0 is intended as a reference for those interested in designing historical scenarios for the Advanced Squad Leader game system.
