Noble, 2002 In the 1940s American thought experienced a cataclysmic paradigm shift Before then national ideology was shaped by American exceptionalism and bourgeois nationalism elites saw themselves as the children of a homogeneous nation standing outside the history and culture of the Old World This view repressed the cultures of those who did not fit the elite vision people of color Catholics Jews and immigrants David W Noble a preeminent figure in American studies inherited this ideology However like many who entered the field in the 1940s he rejected the ideals of his intellectual predecessors and sought a new multicultural postnational scholarship Throughout his career Noble has examined this rupture in American intellectual life In Death of a Nation he presents the culmination of decades of thought in a sweeping treatise on the shaping of contemporary American studies and an eloquent summation of his distinguished career Exploring the roots of American exceptionalism Noble demonstrates that it was a doomed ideology Capitalists who believed in a bounded nationalism also depended on a boundless international marketplace This contradiction was inherently unstable and the belief in a unified national landscape exploded in World War II The rupture provided an opening for alternative narratives as class ethnicity race and region were reclaimed as part of the nation's history Noble traces the effects of this shift among scholars and artists and shows how even today they struggle to imagine an alternative post national narrative and seek the meaning of local and national cultures in an increasingly transnational world While Noble illustrates the challenges that the paradigm shift created he also suggests solutions that will help scholars avoid romanticized and reductive approaches toward the study of American culture in the future      Reluctant Modernism George Cotkin, 2004-09-15 In Reluctant Modernism American Thought and Culture 1880-1900 George Cotkin surveys the intellectual life of this crucial transitional period His story begins with the Darwinian controversies since the mainstream of American culture was just beginning to come to grips with the implications of the Origins of Species Cotkin demonstrates the effects of this shift in thinking on philosophy anthropology and the newly developing field of psychology Throughout this fascinating readable history of the American fin de siècle run the contrasting themes of continuity and change faith and rationalism despair over the meaninglessness of life and ultimately a guarded optimism about the future      The Black Skyscraper Adrienne Brown, 2017-11-15 A highly interdisciplinary work The Black Skyscraper reclaims the influence of race on modern architectural design as well as the less well understood effects these designs had on the experience and perception of race      Louis Henry Sullivan Hans Frei, Louis H.
