Love In The Valley:

Love in the Valley of the Kings Nicola Italia, 2015-08-16 Intelligent and lovely Emma Hayward is the pride and joy of her father renowned archaeologist Rupert Hayward. Having graduated from college, Emma is intent on following in her father's footsteps to become an archaeologist in her own right. After extensive research from decades of digging in Egypt, Rupert believes there remains an undiscovered intact tomb in the Valley of the Kings. With financial backing secured, Rupert decides to bring his family to Egypt, and Emma is thrilled to begin excavation on her first official dig. When the Haywards arrive in Egypt, Emma is introduced to the newest member of the excavation team, exotic and handsome Winston Spencer. Half Egyptian and half British, Winston finds himself drawn to the blond beauty even though she is engaged to another man. Working and living together day in and day out, the two archaeologists find themselves falling in love amid the endless sand and sultry heat of Luxor. But as the team closes in on the tomb of the famed King Nebnubuta, someone among them wants nothing more than to destroy it all. Emma and Winston must stop a killer before he strikes again and before they lose their one chance at a lifetime of happiness.

Love in the Valley of Fire David Reynolds, 2020-04-24 Who is shooting at us and why? Ken asked. It's probably my boyfriend, Kim replied casually. Ken should have known. Every other woman named Kim had been trouble, but this one she might be deadly unless he found a way out of the mess he had just skied into.

Love in Sayre Valley Dennis Carr, 2022-05-31 When fate draws two musicians from opposite ends of the music spectrum together in West Virginia and both look to own the same stunning piece of real estate, sparks inevitably fly. Courtney Meadows, lead violinist with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra, inherits her ancient family homestead called The Meadows in Sayre Valley, West Virginia, and decides to flee her boring life and move to the property abandoned for decades. At the same time, Rob Wilson, frontman for the underground grunge band Treetop Rant, settles on West Virginia as his escape destination from an anything but boring life in the rock music world and becomes obsessed with buying the property. Simply establishing ownership and developing the property proves to be difficult for whoever wins the battle. They face obstacles and hurdles that range from locating the various wills, deeds, and other legal instruments relating to the land to surveying and environmental testing to rebuilding a washed-out access bridge and infrastructure for such basic services as roads, water, sewage, and power. Not to mention there is also an armed hillbilly claiming squatter's rights. Although the mutual attraction is undeniable from their first brief meeting, the same fate that keeps throwing them together physically seems determined to keep them from connecting romantically. Can a grunge rock star from the East Coast and an ultra-conservative classical symphony violinist from the Midwest overcome their many philosophical, cultural, and musical differences and find love?

Merton, 2013 Shortly after entering the monastic life in December 1941 a relatively unknown Trappist monk called Frater

Louis who would later be known to the world by his given name Thomas Merton began to pen biographical sketches of early Cistercian blessed and saints. These were initially collected, printed and bound inexpensively with no mention of the author by the Abbey of Gethsemani. They are now published here for a wide audience for the first time. This work of the very young Merton perhaps takes on added significance when one considers the writing that lay just ahead of him at the time. In 1948 his autobiography The Seven Storey Mountain was published and soon became an unexpected national bestseller. This long-awaited publication of In the Valley of Wormwood offers a window into Merton's thinking and his spiritual life just a few years before his phenomenal autobiography would see the light of day. Thomas Merton 1915-1968 was a monk of the Abbey of Gethsemani, Kentucky. He was a renowned writer, theologian, poet and social activist. Patrick Hart OCSO, a native of Green Bay, Wisconsin, entered the Abbey of Gethsemani in 1951 and served as secretary to Thomas Merton during the last year of his life. He has edited many books by and about Thomas Merton during the thirty-eight years since the latter's death on December 10, 1968. He has served on the board of directors for Cistercian Publications for the past thirty years.
