Motherhood By Choice Pioneers In Womens Health And Family Planning:

Motherhood by Choice Perdita Huston, 1992 To honor the 40th anniversary of the International Planned Parenthood Federation journalist Perdita Huston travelled the world to gather this remarkable collection of oral histories of and about the often unknown leaders of a worldwide movement to bring women their reproductive rights Drawing on personal interviews Huston delineates the motivations strategies and heartaches of twelve pioneers eight women four men both from the developing world before and after colonial rule and from industrialized countries who braved scorn and abuse to raise the issues of family planning contraception and sex education and to fight for improved healthcare for women These moving testimonies reflect the personal leadership style of each pioneer from Dr Evangelina Rodriguez the first woman doctor in the Dominican Republic who defied church policies and the corrupt dictator Trujillo to promote family planning and fight the spread of venereal disease to Miyoski Ohba who contended with innumerable taboos in postwar Japan to introduce poor villagers to the use of condoms to Elsie Ottsen Jensen born in 1886 to a poor Norwegian family of 17 children who became acutely aware of the high rate of maternal mortality throughout turn of the century Scandinavia and went on to found the Swedish Association of Sex Educators in 1933 Motherhood by Choice stands as a significant historical document tracing the development of public health services sex education and contraceptive services that will inspire and inform all who are concerned about women's health and reproductive rights

Revolutionary Womanhood Laura Bier, 2011-08-24 Laura Bier unpacks the complicated dynamics and legacy of an historical moment in which women were understood to be crucial to modern nation building Lila Abu Lughod author of Do Muslim Women Need Saving The first major historical account of gender politics during the Nasser era Revolutionary Womanhood analyzes feminism as a system of ideas and political practices international in origin but local in iteration Drawing connections between the secular nationalist projects that emerged in the 1950s and the gender politics of Islamism today Laura Bier reveals how discussions about education companionate marriage and enlightened motherhood as well as veiling work and other means of claiming public space created opportunities to reconsider the relationship between modernity state feminism and postcolonial state building Bier highlights attempts by political elites under Nasser to transform Egyptian women into national subjects These attempts to fashion a new yet authentically Egyptian woman both enabled and constrained women's notions of gender liberation and agency Ultimately Bier challenges the common assumption that these emerging feminisms were somehow not culturally or religiously authentic and details their lasting impact on Egyptian womanhood today Addresses a major void in the historical literature on Egypt Showing how gendered politics proved central to Nasserist attempts to modernize the book broadens our understanding of state feminism secularism and the postcolonial period A very welcome addition the work combines theoretical sophistication with rich evidence and well crafted arguments Beth Baron author of Egypt as a Woman Laura Bier's well researched and engaging text skillfully illustrates how Nasser spun the woman question to define his Arab socialist agenda Lisa Pollard author of Nurturing the Nation Development and Women's Reproductive Health in Ghana, 1920-1982 Holly Ashford, 2022-12-09 This book investigates the history of women's reproductive health in Ghana arguing that between the 1920s and 1980s it was largely driven by discourses of development and population control rather than a concern for women's health or rights Between the 1920s and 1980s the choices that Ghanaian women made regarding their reproductive health were defined by development policy and practice Spanning the colonial and immediate postcolonial periods this book demonstrates that whilst the substance of development discourse shifted over time principles of development continued to be used to impact and legitimise reproductive health policy and practices well after independence The book explores Ghana's pluralist health system the introduction of maternal and child welfare the dominance of the Red Cross in Ghana's maternal and child health landscape nationalist pronatalism and global population activism In order to understand how global iterations of development and health policy impacted ordinary lives in Ghana the author uses evidence from multiple levels including private papers national archives and records of international and transnational organisations Providing balanced archival perspectives the book includes extensive oral history interviews carried out with both rural Ghanaian women and traditional birth attendants as well as with midwives doctors and family planning fieldworkers This book will have an important impact on a number of historical fields including Ghanaian history global health history global histories of population and family planning and histories of development It will be of interest to researchers and students in the history of public health development Africa Ghana and gender The Gospel of Family Planning Nicole C. Bourbonnais, 2025-05-06 An engaging insightful history of the family planning movement and its connection to broader social and political developments across the globe Historical accounts of the twentieth century global family planning movement have largely focused on the most prominent activists and those at the helm of international organizations philanthropic foundations and government programs In The Gospel of Family Planning however historian Nicole C Bourbonnais shifts our attention to frontline workers doctors social workers nurses fieldworkers consultants church groups and volunteers who she compellingly shows played a central if complicated role Through a mix of collective biography and microhistory Bourbonnais visits clinics doorsteps and bedrooms revealing the everyday ground level workings of grassroots family planning campaigns state population control programs and the movements for reproductive rights and justice that arose to contest them Throughout the book Bourbonnais invites readers to consider how the intertwined histories of missionary work humanitarianism feminism decolonization and international development shaped intimate interventions into people's reproductive lives around the world A New Woman of Japan Helen M. Hopper, 2019-03-13 This perceptive detailed biography traces the life of Kat Shidzue one of Japan's most powerful female activists and politicians Kat's activism initially was sparked by her friendship with Margaret Sanger who inspired Kat to found a Japanese birth control movement in the 1920s The Oxford Handbook of the History of Eugenics Alison Bashford, Philippa Levine, 2010-09-24 Eugenic thought and practice swept the world from the late nineteenth to the mid twentieth century in a remarkable transnational phenomenon Eugenics informed social and scientific policy across the political spectrum from liberal welfare measures in emerging social democratic states to feminist ambitions for birth control from public health campaigns to totalitarian dreams of the perfectibility of man This book dispels for uninitiated readers the automatic and apparently exclusive link between eugenics and the Holocaust It is the first world history of eugenics and an indispensable core text for both teaching and research Eugenics has accumulated generations of interest as experts attempted to connect biology human capacity and policy In the past and the present eugenics speaks to questions of race class gender and sex evolution governance nationalism disability and the social implications of science In the current climate in which the human genome project stem cell research and new reproductive technologies have proven so controversial the history of eugenics has much to teach us about the relationship between scientific research technology and human ethical decision making

Colonizing Sex Sabine Frühstück,2003-10-07 Table of contents Any Friend of the Movement Jimmy Elaine Wilkinson Meyer,2004 In the 1920s a few Cleveland women perceived a need for reliable birth control They believed that health and social service professionals denied women especially poor and working class women critical health care information Any Friend of the Movement tells the story of these women their actions and the organization they created the direct forerunner of a modern Planned Parenthood affiliate The disparate threads of this particular tale include the suicide of a pregnant woman the gift of a bereaved inventor smuggling contraceptive supplies across state lines and sponsoring ice skating galas to fund the work Any Friend of the Movement breaks new ground in the history of birth control activism in North America Meyer argues that private philanthropy and voluntary action on the part of clinics like the Maternal Health Association MHA and their clients vitalized the larger movement at its roots and pushed it forward BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Experiencing Society and the Lived Welfare State Pertti Haapala, Minna Harjula, Heikki Kokko, 2023-05-23 This open access book presents a new approach to the history of welfare state By applying the concepts of experiencing society and the lived welfare state the collection introduces theoretical methodological and empirical insights for bridging the everyday life and institutional structures The chapters analyze how the welfare state as a particular individual society relationship has become an integral part of living in the modern society With a long term perspective the chapters explore the experience of society which enabled the building and the resilience of a welfare state As the welfare state is not a universal model of social development but historically unique in different contexts the book broadens the focus from the Nordic countries to Southern Europe colonial Asia and post colonial South America This collection is essential reading for scholars and students in the social sciences and history as well as for policymakers and practitioners who face the contemporary and future challenges of the welfare states The Seasons Jo Sinclair, 1993 As a novelist concerned with issues of gender social class and ethnicity Jo Sinclair has won coveted literary prizes and a devoted following Now in this extraordinary memoir she relates a tale as fascinating and as moving as any work of fiction At the center of Sinclair s story is her relationship with Helen Buchman a middle class wife and mother with a passion for literature and gardening The two women couldn t have been more different Buchman despite suffering from diabetes was self assured cultured stable Sinclair on the other hand was a product of the Jewish ghetto carrying a host of emotional and spiritual scars Nevertheless when Buchman invited the young woman into her home in the 1940s the two developed an intense relationship Buchman became both best friend and mentor encouraging Sinclair s writing and passing along a sense of the spiritual nature of gardening The book deals not only with these early formative years but also with Sinclair s struggle to accept her friend s death in 1963 her triumph over alcoholism and her ultimate transfiguration as an accomplished author Equality and Non-Discrimination under International Law Stephanie Farrior, 2017-07-05 The principles of equality and non discrimination lie at the heart of international human rights law They are the only human rights explicitly included in the UN Charter and they appear at the beginning of virtually every major human rights instrument This volume contains selected works by leading authors on the subject of equality and non discrimination under international law The selections are grouped into four sections The first presents essays that explore theoretical concepts of equality and non discrimination The next addresses the development of international legal standards on the subject The third presents articles analyzing how those standards have been interpreted and applied by UN and regional human rights bodies and the last contains works on what measures besides legal action States are to take to in order to achieve equality and non discrimination

Cesarean Section Jacqueline H. Wolf, 2018-05-15 Why have cesarean sections become so commonplace in the United States Between 1965 and 1987 the cesarean section rate in the United States rose precipitously from 4.5 percent to 25 percent of births By 2009 one in three births was by cesarean a far higher number than the 5-10% rate that the World Health Organization suggests is optimal While physicians largely avoided cesareans through the mid twentieth century by the early twenty first century cesarean section was the most commonly performed surgery in the country Although the procedure can be lifesaving how and why did it become so ubiquitous Cesarean Section is the first book to chronicle this history In exploring the creation of the complex social cultural economic and medical factors leading to the surgery's increase Jacqueline H Wolf describes obstetricians reliance on assorted medical technologies that weakened the skills they had traditionally employed to foster vaginal birth She also reflects on an unsettling malpractice climate prompted in part by a raft of dubious diagnoses that helped to legitimize defensive medicine and a health care system that ensured cesarean birth would be more lucrative than vaginal birth In exaggerating the risks of vaginal birth doctors and patients alike came to view cesareans as normal and increasingly as essential Sweeping change in women's lives beginning in the 1970s cemented this markedly different approach to childbirth Wolf examines the public health effects of a high cesarean rate and explains how the language of reproductive choice has been used to discourage debate about cesareans and the risks associated with the surgery Drawing on data from nineteenth and early twentieth century obstetric logs to better represent the experience of cesarean surgery for women of all classes and races as well as interviews with obstetricians who have performed cesareans and women who have given birth by cesarean Cesarean Section is the definitive history of the use of this surgical procedure and its effects on women's and children's health in the United States
