Second Long Walk:

Long Walk Home Lilian Darcy, 2014-11-03 Everyone has baggage by the time they re into their thirties When single mom and Marietta High School teacher Gemma Clayton acquires a strong family oriented and very good looking new neighbor over her back fence she s not put off by his complicated past as the attraction flares between them Her own past is a very different matter however Nobody knows what she went through on the night of the 1996 Marietta High School senior prom between running after Judd and Garth Newell s car as it left River Bend Park and limping into her friend Neve Shepherd s street two hours later But Gemma s secrets have been rusted up inside her for so long that not even a gorgeous man like Dylan Saddler can help her to break them free

A Long Walk South Sean Rothery, 2014-04-08 Patronising advice by a doctor at a retirement course to walk a couple of miles a day challenges architect Sean Rothery to take a proper walk and so at the age of sixty five he sets out to walk the GR5 the Grande Randon e Cinq From the steely grey North Sea to the intense blue Mediterranean Sean s 2 300km long route follows a network of old trails forest paths canal banks Alpine valleys and passes Along the way he recounts some of his youthful enterprises including cycling from Dieppe to Rome in the ruins of post war Europe and a climbing accident in 1967 that saw him challenge another doctor s prognosis Ghosts of the past are revisited most poignantly in the Alps where two friends died in climbing accidents but also alongside the ruins of First World War trenches Sketchbook in hand Sean savours the landscape history and culture as he passes from one country to another Every day he looks out for the distinctive red and white waymarks of the GR5 not an easy task especially when change in the name of progress has cleared swathes of trails This enthralling diary of a long walk south will have the reader urging the author on to the last step of the way

Comics and Conquest Rhiannon Koehler, 2023-11-21 The untold story of Navajo and Hopi resistance and solidarity in the face of forced removal by the US government as documented by tribal editorial cartoons For generations US politicians and energy companies attempted to gain access to the coal and uranium in the Four Corners region where Arizona New Mexico Colorado and Utah meet The land on which they found billions of tons of high grade coal in 1909 however was reserved for the Navajo Din and Hopi peoples and not accessible to extractive enterprise Despite Din and Hopi protests US officials gained access to the coal rich land on Black Mesa in Arizona by purposely fabricating and fueling conflict between the Din and the Hopi In Comics and Conquest historian Rhiannon Koehler documents the story of this conflict through an engaging analysis of historical Navajo and Hopi editorial cartoons Despite the false narrative that the conflict was driven by inter tribal animosity and that the subsequent forced removals of thousands of Indigenous peoples were part of a plan to keep the peace the cartoons that Koehler shares reveal a rich history of artistic activism and Hopi Din solidarity against this land grab The content and claims featured in political cartoons published in the tribal newspapers Qua Toqti and the Navajo Times in the late 1960s and early 1970s were some of the most critical tools for both coping with the threats of industry and exposing the history of exploitation as it carries on into the present The conflict popularly known as the Navajo Hopi Land Dispute was presented in mainstream media as an egregious threat to US interests Acutely aware of their land s value and the minerals and other resources on it Din and Hopi political cartoonists used their medium to assert their protest and agency identify the true instigators of the dispute and expose and counter the myth that the conflict had intertribal origins Koehler shows how tribal activism and media ultimately resulted in international recognition of the harms perpetrated by the federal government on Din and Hopi soil

The Last Great Walk Wayne Curtis,2014-09-09

In 1909 Edward Payson Weston walked from New York to San Francisco covering around 40 miles a day and greeted by wildly cheering audiences in every city The New York Times called it the first bona fide walk across the American continent and eagerly chronicled a journey in which Weston was beset by fatigue mosquitos vicious headwinds and brutal heat He was 70 years old In The Last Great Walk journalist Wayne Curtis uses the framework of Weston s fascinating and surprising story and investigates exactly what we lost when we turned away from foot travel and what we could potentially regain with America s new embrace of pedestrianism From how our brains and legs evolved to accommodate our ancient traveling needs to the way that American cities have been designed to cater to cars and discourage pedestrians Curtis guides readers through an engaging intelligent exploration of how something as simple as the way we get from one place to another continues to shape our health our environment and even our national identity Not walking he argues may be one of the most radical things humans have ever done
