Secret State Whitehall And The Cold War:

The Secret State Peter Hennessy, 2003 As Cold War Britain came under the terrifying shadow of nuclear destruction secret government plans were underway to ensure the survival of a chosen few Peter Hennessy's sensational book draws on recently declassified intelligence and war planning documents and interviews with key officials to reveal a chilling behind the scenes picture of the corridors of power when the world teetered on the brink of disaster Who would have gone underground with the Prime Minister in the event of an attack Where is this secret bunker Under what circumstances would we retaliate Where were the Soviet's UK targets thought to be Whose finger was and is on the button And what kind of world would have been left when the dust had settled and breakdown had occurred

The Secret State Peter Hennessy, 2010 This updated edition of The Secret State revises Hennessy's picture of the Soviet threat that was presented to ministers from the last days of the Second World War to the 1960s He maps the size and shape of the Cold War state built in response to that perceived threat and traces the arguments successive generations of ministers the military and civil servants have used to justify the British nuclear capability He also adds new material exploring the threats presented by the IRA and radical Islamic terrorists post 9/11 In what circumstances would the Prime Minister authorize the use of nuclear force and how would his orders be carried out What would the Queen be told and when In this captivating new account Peter Hennessy provides the best answers we have yet had to these questions

Defence Intelligence and the Cold War Huw Dylan, 2014 The first history of the Joint Intelligence Bureau an organisation designed to preserve and advance British capability in military intelligence for the Cold War shedding light on the largely unknown world of military and economic intelligence after 1945 and how this intelligence influenced British policies throughout the 1950s and 1960s
