Serotte, 2006-01-01 This is the memoir of a Sephardic Jewish girl living among Ashkenazi neighbors in the Bronx She comes down with polio just before her eighth birthday She begins a fight against immobility set within a cultural realm where Catholic and Jew and Turkish Moslem once met Where a beautiful aunt could be abducted into a Turkish harem and another aunt could still keep the 400 year old iron key to the family house in the Cordoba of the Spanish Inquisition Songs from the Black Chair Charles Barber, 2007-03-01 Day after day night after night desperate men come to sit in the black chair next to Charles Barber s desk in a basement office at Bellevue and tell of their travails of prison and disease of violence and the voices that plague them Between the stories amid the peeling paint musty odor and flickering fluorescent light of his office Barber observes that this isn t really where he is supposed to be and reveals his privileged youth in contrast to his own nightmare of mental illness By relating these troubled lives to his own Barber illuminates some of the most disturbing and enduring truths of human nature Local Wonders Ted Kooser, 2004-03-01 In the quietest magnificent book I Uve ever

Between Panic and Desire Dinty W. Moore, 2008-01-01 Insouciant and irreverent are the sort of words that come up in reviews of Dinty W Moore's books and invariably hilarious Between Panic and Desire named after two towns in Pennsylvania finds Moore at the top of his astutely funny form A book that could be named after one of its chapters A Post Nixon Post panic Post modern Post mortem this collection is an unconventional memoir of one man and his culture which also happens to be our own Blending narrative and quizzes memory and numerology and imagined interviews and conversations with dead presidents on TV the book dizzily documents the disorienting experience of growing up in a postmodern world Here we see how the major events in the author's early life the Kennedy assassination Nixon's resignation watching Father Knows Best and dropping acid atop the World Trade Center to name a few shaped the way he sees events both global and personal today More to the point we see how these events shaped and possibly even distorted today's world for all of us who spent our formative years in the 50s 60s and 70s A curious meditation on family and bereavement longing and fear self loathing and desire Between Panic and Desire unfolds in kaleidoscopic forms a coroner's report a TV movie script a Zen koan aptly reflecting the emergence of a fractured virtual America
