Chatterton, 2024-01-05 The first full history of the highly trained and ruthless civilian volunteers secretly trained across Britain to be deployed in the case of a German invasion The narrative surrounding Britain s anti invasion forces has often centered on Dad s Army like characters running around with pitchforks on unpreparedness and sense of inevitability of invasion and defeat The truth however is very different Top secret highly trained and ruthless civilian volunteers were being recruited as early as the summer of 1940 Had the Germans attempted an invasion they would have been countered by saboteurs and guerrilla fighters emerging from secret bunkers and monitored by swathes of spies and observers who would have passed details on via runners wireless operators and ATS women in disguised bunkers Alongside these secret forces the Home Guard were also setting up their own guerrilla groups and SIS MI6 were setting up post occupation groups of civilians including teenagers to act as sabotage cells wireless operators and assassins had the Nazis taken control of the country The civilians involved in these groups understood the need for absolute secrecy and their commitment to keeping quiet meant that most went to their grave without ever telling anyone of their role not even their closest family members There has been no official and little public recognition of what these dedicated men and women were willing to do for their country in its hour of need and after over 80 years of silence the time has come to highlight their remarkable role Bomb Girls -

Britain's Secret Army: The Munitions Women of World War II Jacky Hyams, 2013-08-05 They were the unsung heroines of World War II the wives mums and teenage girls all doing their bit for the war effort clocking in daily to work in cast munitions factories helping make the explosives bullets and war machines that would ensure victory for Britain It was dangerous dirty and exhaustive work They worked round the clock often exposed to toxic lethal chemicals A factory accident could mean blindness loss of limbs or worse Many went home with acid burns yellow skin or discoloured hair Others were forced to leave their loved ones and move to live with total strangers in unfamiliar surroundings Frequently their male bosses were coarse and unsympathetic Yet this hidden army of nearly two million women toiled on regardless through the worst years of the war cheerfully ignoring the dangers and the exhaustion as bombing rationing and the heartbreak of loss or separation took their toll on everyone in the country Only now all these years later have they chosen to tell their remarkable stories Here in their own words are the vivid wartime memories of the secret army of female munitions workers whose resilience and sheer grit in the face of danger has only now started to emerge These are the intimate and personal stories of an unforgettable group of women whose hard work and quiet courage made a significant contribution to Britain's war effort They didn't fire the bullets but they filled them up with explosives And in doing so they helped Britain win the war
