Jesus, Gnosis and Dogma Riemer Roukema,2010-02-18 In Jesus Gnosis and Dogma Roukema investigates and assesses the various views of Jesus in early Christianity basing his approach on a distinction between historical and theological statements about Jesus Historical statements can be arrived at through a critical study of the earliest records although Roukema recognizes that scholars differ widely here Theological statements about Jesus are to do with what has been and is believed about him Roukema demonstrates that Gnostic traditions about Jesus mostly derive from the earlier traditions preserved in the New Testament writings and do not give a more accurate view of the historical Jesus He shows that the view of Jesus as the divine Lord Yahweh and Son of God is inspired by an early Jewish pattern that was exploited by the very first Christians In spite of some later dogmatic precisions there is more continuity between the New Testament picture of Jesus and the Nicene creed than between the historical Jesus and the Jesus of early Gnosticism Even the essence of the Trinitarian dogma appears to have Jewish roots label Ophite In the unique Ophite mythology which rewrites the Genesis paradise story and is attested for example in Irenaeus Adversus haereses 1 30 The Apocryphon of John and On the Origin of the World the snake s advice to eat of the tree of knowledge is considered positive the creator and his angels are turned into demonic beasts and the true Godhead is presented as an androgynous heavenly projection of Adam and Eve It is argued that Hans Martin Schenke s influential model of the Sethian system only reveals part of a larger whole to which the Ophite material belongs as an important and organic component
