Natural Selection Margaret Mulvihill, 1985-01-01 Books and Bookmen, 1984 Women's Review, 1985 The Age of Analogy Devin Griffiths, 2016-10-28 How did literature shape nineteenth century science Erasmus Darwin and his grandson Charles were the two most important evolutionary theorists of eighteenth and nineteenth century Britain Although their ideas and methods differed both Darwins were prolific and inventive writers Erasmus composed several epic poems and scientific treatises while Charles is renowned both for his collected journals now titled The Voyage of the Beagle and for his masterpiece The Origin of Species In The Age of Analogy Devin Griffiths argues that the Darwins writing style was profoundly influenced by the poets novelists and historians of their era The Darwins like other scientists of the time labored to refashion contemporary literary models into a new mode of narrative analysis that could address the contingent world disclosed by contemporary natural science By employing vivid language and experimenting with a variety of different genres these writers gave rise to a new relational study of antiquity or comparative historicism that emerged outside of traditional histories It flourished instead in literary forms like the realist novel and the elegy as well as in natural histories that explored the continuity between past and present forms of life Nurtured by imaginative cross disciplinary descriptions of the past from the historical fiction of Sir Walter Scott and George Eliot to the poetry of Alfred Tennyson this novel understanding of history fashioned new theories of natural transformation encouraged a fresh investment in social history and explained our intuition that environment shapes daily life Drawing on a wide range of archival evidence and contemporary models of scientific and literary networks The Age of Analogy explores the critical role analogies play within historical and scientific thinking Griffiths also presents readers with a new theory of analogy that emphasizes language s power to foster insight into nature and human society The first comparative treatment of the Darwins theories of history and their profound contribution to the study of both natural and human systems this book will fascinate students and scholars of nineteenth century British literature and the history of science Re-Thinking Agency Joanna Godlewicz-Adamiec, Paweł Piszczatowski, 2024-10-07 The book explores the multi faceted nature of contemporary reflections on agency focusing on various discursive practices that shape the posthumanist approach to the relationship between the human and non human world from a planetary perspective The chapters delve into critical human animal studies examine new non anthropocentric identity constructs and offer analyses that reinterpret meanings through semiotic inversions and challenge static cultural patterns The book concludes with discussions on decolonization practices that aim to liberate agency from oppressive systems particularly those dominated by imperial phallogocentrism New Books on Women and Feminism, 1997 Love Objects Anna Moran, Sorcha O'Brien, 2014-08-28 How are love and emotion embodied in material form Love Objects explores the emotional potency of things addressing how objects can function as fetishes symbols and representations active participants in and mediators of our relationships as well as tokens of affection symbols of virility triggers of nostalgia replacements for lost loved ones and symbols of lost places and times Addressing both designed things with attitude and the wild things of material culture Love Objects explores a wide range of objects from 19th century American portraits displaying men s passionate friendships to the devotional and political meanings of religious statues in 1920s Ireland Books in Series ,1985 Vols for 1980 issued in three parts Series Authors and Titles René Girard and Creative Mimesis Vern Neufeld Redekop,Thomas Ryba,2013-11-21 For half a century Ren Girard s theories of mimetic desire and scapegoating have captivated the imagination of thinkers and doers in many fields as an incisive look into the human condition particularly the roots of violence In a 1993 interview with Rebecca Adams he highlighted the positive dimensions of mimetic phenomena without expanding on what they might be Now two decades later this groundbreaking book systematically explores the positive side of mimetic theory in the context of the multi faceted world of creativity Several authors build on Adams insight that loving mimesis can be understood as desiring the subjectivity of the other particularly when the other may be young or wounded With highly nuanced arguments authors show how mimetic theory can be used to address child and adult development including the growth of consciousness and a capacity to handle complexity Mimetic theory is brought to bear on big questions about creativity in nature evolutionary development originality and religious intrusion into politics London Irish Fictions Tony Murray,2012-01-01 Examines the specific role that the metropolis plays in literary portrayals of Irish migrant experience as an arena for the performance of Irishness as a catalyst in the transformations of Irishness and as an intrinsic component of second generation Irish identities
