Philosophical Questions in Art Education Dorit Barchana-Lorand, 2025-08-21 This book examines the rationale of incorporating the arts in the school curriculum from a philosophical rather than pedagogical perspective Educational resources are frequently under scrutiny and education policy makers wish to maximize the use of public funds and children's time at school leaving the arts as a lower priority To understand the logic behind this Lorand revisits milestones in the history of the philosophy of art to address core questions in art education namely what are the challenges of teaching the arts And why teach the arts at all Lorand draws on the work of a broad range of philosophers including Dewey Eisner Greene Hume Plato Kant Langer Read and Schiller The book aims to show how attempts to justify art as a tool for societal and individual improvement fail in advocating art education Ultimately she claims that the arts should be taught because children have the right to receive art education That right stems from the unique nature of art

Rethinking Language Arts Nina Zaragoza,2013-12-02 In Rethinking Language Arts Passion and Practice SecondEdition author Nina Zaragoza uses the form of letters to her students to engage pre service teachers in reevaluating teaching practices thus bringing to life a vision of an alternative classroom environment in which the teacher is the prime mover and creative leader Zaragoza discusses and explains the need for teachers to be decision makers reflective thinkers political beings and agents of social change in order to create a positive and inclusive classroom setting This book is both a critical text that deconstructs the way language arts are traditionally taught in our schools as well as a visionary text with clear no nonsense directions on how to provide much needed change in our schools practice helping them to plan lessons across the subject in a variety of teaching situations Handbook for Achieving Gender Equity Through Education Susan S. Klein, Barbara Richardson, Dolores A. Grayson, Lynn H. Fox, Cheris Kramarae, Diane S. Pollard, Carol Anne Dwyer, 2014-05-22 First published in 1985 the Handbook for Achieving Gender Equity Through Education quickly established itself as the essential reference work concerning gender equity in education This new expanded edition provides a 20 year retrospective of the field one that has the great advantage of documenting U S national data on the gains and losses in the efforts to advance gender equality through policies such as Title IX the landmark federal law prohibiting sex discrimination in education equity programs and research Key features include Expertise Like its predecessor over 200 expert authors and reviewers provide accurate consensus research based information on the nature of gender equity challenges and what is needed to meet them at all levels of education Content Area Focus The analysis of gender equity within specific curriculum areas has been expanded from 6 to 10 chapters including mathematics science and engineering Global Diversity Focus Global gender equity is addressed in a separate chapter as well as in numerous other chapters The expanded section on gender equity strategies for diverse populations contains seven chapters on African Americans Latina os Asian and Pacific Island Americans American Indians gifted students students with disabilities and lesbian gay bisexual and transgender students Action Oriented All chapters contain practical recommendations for making education activities and outcomes more gender equitable A final chapter consolidates individual chapter recommendations for educators policymakers and researchers to achieve gender equity in and through education New Material Expanded from 25 to 31 chapters this new edition includes more emphasis on male gender equity and on sexuality issues special within population gender equity challenges race ability and disability etc coeducation and single sex education increased use of rigorous research strategies such as meta analysis showing more sex similarities and fewer sex differences and of evaluations of implementation programs technology and gender equity is now treated in three chapters women s and gender studies communication skills relating to English bilingual and foreign language learning and history and implementation of Title IX and other federal and state policies Since there is so much misleading information about gender equity and education this Handbook will be essential for anyone who wants accurate research based information on controversial gender equity issues journalists policy makers teachers Title IX coordinators equity trainers women s and gender study faculty students and parents Color Expressions: an Art Educational Voyage Dr. Lonnie G. Ford, 2009-08-28 Several years ago I enrolled in a graduate course on educational research that focused on closing the achievement gap for African American children The course was structured to explore issues causes and concerns for the achievement gap Studying different educational outcomes reading books and articles we regularly shared our insights about some leading causes Most importantly we were instructed to stay within our subject areas when finding any contributions to that gap In my attempt to complete the assignment of researching possible causes in my discipline of art education I found myself frustrated and angry Why There were no research studies exploring how art education was a part of the equation leading to solutions in closing the gap In addition there were no basic instructions or curricula designed to make connections to the art student to develop critical thinking skills or to incorporate the use of students life experiences for learning Furthermore I felt that art education was used as a testing ground in urban schools like the Chicago Public Schools using Teaching Artists to teach art with no teaching certification or teaching qualifications Booth 2003 The purpose of this approach was to use their knowledge and practices of art to influence change in students learning This kind of experiment branched away from any real effort to integrate art education and truly recognize it as a viable core subject area While conducting research for the course I found that researchers defined the achievement gap between white and African American students solely in terms of the four core subjects of math science social studies and language arts with no attention given to art education e g Berlak 2001 Honig 2001 Limn 2000 Sacks 2000 A study by the National Black Caucus entitled Closing the Achievement Gap Improving Education Outcomes for African American Children November 2001 reports Make improving the literacy skills of students a top priority Students who cannot read will experience little success in school Reading is the key to academic achievement in every subject ranging from math and English to science and history We must put reading first by finding initiatives and programs designed to strengthen the reading skills of students particularly low performing students Again there was no mention of art As both an African American and an art teacher I found it very disturbing that the recommendations of many national and local art educational organizations and schools failed to address the importance of teaching art education in African American urban school settings My dissertation research ultimately arose from this concern

Keywords in Remix Studies Eduardo Navas, Owen Gallagher, xtine burrough, 2017-11-27 Keywords in Remix Studies consists of twenty four chapters authored by researchers who share interests in remix studies and remix culture throughout the arts and humanities The essays reflect on the critical historical and theoretical lineage of remix to the technological production that makes contemporary forms of communication and creativity possible Remix enjoys international attention as it continues to become a paradigm of reference across many disciplines due in part to its interdisciplinary nature as an unexpectedly fragmented approach and method useful in various fields to expand specific research interests The focus on a specific keyword for each essay enables contributors to expose culture and society s inconclusive relation with the creative process and questions assumptions about authorship plagiarism and originality Keywords in Remix Studies is a resource for scholars including researchers practitioners lecturers and students interested in some or all aspects of remix studies It can be a reference manual and introductory resource as well as a teaching tool across the humanities and social sciences

Transforming City Schools Through Art Karen Hutzler, Flavia MC Bastos, Kimberly J. Cosier, 2012 This anthology places art at the center of meaningful urban education reform Providing a fresh perspective contributors describe a positive asset based community development model designed to tap into the teaching learning potential already available in urban settings Rather than focusing on a lack of resources this innovative approach shows teachers how to use the cultural resources at hand to engage students in the processes of critical imaginative investigation Featuring personal narratives that reflect the authors vast experience and passion for teaching art this resource Offers a new vision for urban schools that reflects current directions of urban renewal and transformation Highlights successful models of visual art education for the K 12 classroom Describes meaningful socially concerned teaching practices Includes unit plans a glossary of terms and online resources Contributors include Olivia Gude James Haywood Rolling Jr and Leda Guimar es This terrific much needed resource promises to become a classic in the field Christine Marm Thompson Penn State University

Critical Literacy as Resistance Laraine

Wallowitz,2008 Critical Literacy as Resistance is a collaborate effort among secondary and university educators from across the United States that addresses questions such as What does a critical literacy classroom look like What various texts are used What strategies do teachers use to encourage students and teacher candidates to recognize how texts construct power and privilege How do educators inspire activism in and out of the classroom This book documents the experiences of scholars and teachers who have successfully bridged theory and practice by applying critical literacy into their respective content areas The authors spell out the difference between critical thinking and critical literacy then show how to write and implement curriculum that incorporates diverse texts and multiple literacies in all content areas including world language and includes the voices of students as they confront issues of race class gender and power The principles and practices laid out here will help teachers use literacy to liberate and empower students both in and outside the classroom by respecting and studying the literacies students bring to school while simultaneously teaching and challenging the literacies of those in power This is a book for pre and in service teachers in all content areas staff developers secondary literacy specialists university professors and anyone interested in social justice
