Realism And Imagination In Ethics:

Realism and Imagination in Ethics Sabina Lovibond,1991-01-08 Feminist Interpretations of David Hume Anne Jaap Jacobson,2010-11-01 These essays cover a diversity of subjects in Hume s work They discuss his theory of knowledge his conception of human inquiry and the human mind his views on our knowledge of the external world and the future his treatments of the passions emotions and virtue his conception of moral education and his views on aesthetics and religion and his historical work The Cambridge Companion to Wittgenstein Hans Sluga,David G. Stern,2018 Updated edition of this important book charting the development of Wittgenstein s philosophy of the mind language logic and mathematics

The Cambridge Companion to Wittgenstein Hans D. Sluga,David G. Stern,1996-10-28 The essays in this volume address central themes in Wittgenstein s writings on the philosophy of mind language logic and mathematics Rationalism, Realism, and Relativism Robert L. Arrington,2019-05-15 During the 1970s and 1980s the field of ethics underwent a profound change in perspective from noncognitivism to cognitivism regarding moral judgments and reasoning Although metaethical noncognitivism had been the predominant point of view during the previous three decades a series of attacks had undermined its authority by the 1970s and it gave way to the cognitivist belief that moral judgments have truth values This book provides a descriptive and critical guide to the often bewildering scene that resulted from these controversies in contemporary moral epistemology Encyclopedia of Ethics Lawrence C. Becker,Charlotte B.

Becker,2013-10-18 The editors working with a team of 325 renowned authorities in the field of ethics have revised expanded and updated this classic encyclopedia Along with the addition of 150 new entries all of the original articles have been newly peer reviewed and revised bibliographies have been updated throughout and the overall design of the work has been enhanced for easier access to cross references and other reference features New entries include Cheating Dirty hands Gay ethics Holocaust Journalism Political correctness and many more Feminist Interpretations of Richard Rorty Marianne Janack,2010-01-01 A discussion of issues raised by Richard Rorty s engagement with feminist philosophy Includes essays about the relevance for feminism of pragmatism philosophy rhetoric realism and liberalism Provided by publisher

Christian Ethics and Commonsense Morality Kevin Jung,2014-11-27 Christian Ethics and Commonsense Morality goes against the grain of various postmodern approaches to morality in contemporary religious ethics In this book Jung seeks to provide a new framework in which the nature of common Christian moral beliefs and practices can be given a new meaning He suggests that once major philosophical assumptions behind postmodern theories of morality are called into question we may look at Christian morality in quite a different light On his account Christian morality is a historical morality insofar as it is rooted in the rich historical traditions of the Christian church Yet this kind of historical dependence does not entail the evidential dependence of all moral beliefs on historical traditions It is possible to argue for the epistemic autonomy of moral beliefs according to which Christian and other moral beliefs can be justified independently of their historical sources The particularity of Christian morality lies not in its particular historical sources that also function as the grounds of justification but rather in its explanatory and motivational capacity to further articulate the kind of moral knowledge that is readily available to most human beings and to enable people to act upon their moral knowledge

Rhetorical Spaces Lorraine Code, 2013-03-07 The arguments in this book are informed at once by the moral political implications of how knowledge is produced and circulated and by issues of gendered subjectivity In their critical dimension these lucid essays engage with the incapacity of the philosophical mainstream's dominant epistemologies to offer regulative principles that guide people in the epistemic projects that figure centrally in their lives In its constructive dimension Rhetorical Spaces focuses on developing productive case by case analyses of knowing other people in situations where social political inequalities create asymmetrical patterns of epistemic power and privilege

Morality and Moral Theory Robert B. Louden, 1992-05-28 Contemporary philosophers have grown increasingly skeptical toward both morality and moral theory Some argue that moral theory is a radically misguided enterprise that does not illuminate moral practice while others simply deny the value of morality in human life In this important new book Louden responds to the arguments of both anti morality and anti theory skeptics In Part One he develops and defends an alternative conception of morality which he argues captures more of the central features of both Aristotelian and Kantian ethics than do other contemporary models and enables the central importance of morality to be convincingly reaffirmed In Louden's model morality is primarily a matter of what one does to oneself rather than what one does or does not do to others This model eliminates the gulf that many anti morality critics say exists between morality's demands and the personal point of view Louden further argues that morality's primary focus should be on agents and their lives rather than on right actions and that it is always better to be morally better i.e. it is impossible to be too moral Part Two presents Louden's alternative conception of moral theory Here again he draws on the work of Aristotle and Kant showing that their moral theories have far more in common than is usually thought and that those features that they share can be the basis for a viable moral theory that is immune to the standard anti theory objections Louden reaffirms the necessity and importance of moral theory in human life and shows that moral theories fulfill a variety of genuine and indispensable human needs

Value and Context Alan Thomas, 2006-07-27 Alan Thomas presents an original study of the status of value and its relation to the contexts in which evaluative claims are justified He articulates and defends the view that human beings do possess moral and political knowledge but that it is historically and culturally contextual knowledge in ways that say mathematical or chemical knowledge is not His exposition of a cognitivist contextualism in ethics and politics builds upon contemporary work in epistemology moral philosophy and political theory to fashion an argument that is relevant to current debates about culture modernity and relativism

Ethical Formation Sabina Lovibond, 2009-07 Lovibond suggests how the practical reason view of ethics can survive challenges from within philosophy and from the antirationalist postmodern critique of reason At the heart of her argument is the Aristotelian idea of the formation of character through upbringing this idea can be made contemporary if one understands it in a naturalized way Realism, Ethics and Secularism George Levine, 2008-10-09 George Levine is one of the world's leading scholars of Victorian literature and culture. This collection of his essays develops the key themes of his work: the intersection of nineteenth-century British literature, culture, and science; and the relation of knowledge and truth to ethics. The essays offer perspectives on George Eliot, Thackeray, the Positivists, and the Scientific Naturalists, and reassess the complex relationship between Ruskin and Darwin. In readings of Lawrence and Coetzee, Levine addresses Victorian and modern efforts to push beyond the limits of realist art by testing its aesthetic and epistemological limits in engagement with the self and the other. Some of Levine's most important contributions to the field are reprinted in revised and updated form alongside previously unpublished material. Together, these essays cohere into an exploration both of Victorian literature and culture and of ethical, epistemological, and aesthetic problems fundamental to our own times.

An Introduction to Ethics Geoffrey Thomas, 1993-01-01 A comprehensive yet concise introduction to central topics, debates, and techniques of moral philosophy in the analytic tradition, this volume combines a thematic, issue-oriented format with rigorous standards of clarity and precision. Thomas introduces fundamental concepts and terms, proceeding through a step-by-step exploration of five general areas of debate: the specification of moral judgment, moral judgment and the moral standard, the justification of moral judgment, logic, reasoning, and moral judgment, and moral judgment and moral responsibility. Key historical and contemporary figures in moral philosophy, including Plato, Aristotle, Kant, Hume, Mill, Hare, Ross, Nagel, Foot, Stevenson, and Dancy, are used effectively as a means of examining the topics themselves.

Wittgenstein and the Moral Life Cora Diamond, 2007 Essays by leading scholars that take as their point of departure Cora Diamond's work on the unity of Wittgenstein's thought and her writings on moral philosophy.

Beyond Moral Judgment Alice Crary, 2009-09-30 What is moral thought, and what kinds of demands does it impose? Alice Crary's book Beyond Moral Judgment claims that even the most perceptive contemporary answers to these questions offer no more than partial illumination, owing to an overly narrow focus on judgments that apply moral concepts, for example, good, wrong, selfish, courageous, and a corresponding failure to register that moral thinking includes more than such judgments. Drawing on what she describes as widely misinterpreted lines of thought in the writings of Wittgenstein and J. L. Austin, Crary argues that language is an inherently moral acquisition and that any stretch of thought without regard to whether it uses moral concepts may express the moral outlook encoded in a person's modes of speech. She challenges us to overcome our fixation on moral judgments and direct attention to responses that animate all our individual linguistic habits. Her argument incorporates insights from McDowell, Wiggins, Diamond, Cavell, and Murdoch and integrates a rich set of examples from feminist theory as well as from literature, including works by Jane Austen, E. M. Forster, Tolstoy, Henry James, and Theodor Fontane. The result is a powerful case for transforming our understanding of the difficulty of moral reflection and of the scope of our ethical concerns.
