Sahara : roman Clive Cussler, 1994-02 Cycle Dirk Pitt 11 A Novel Marketplace Evan Brier, 2012-02-25 As television transformed American culture in the 1950s critics feared the influence of this newly pervasive mass medium on the nation s literature While many studies have addressed the rhetorical response of artists and intellectuals to mid twentieth century mass culture the relationship between the emergence of this culture and the production of novels has gone largely unexamined In A Novel Marketplace Evan Brier illuminates the complex ties between postwar mass culture and the making marketing and reception of American fiction Between 1948 when television began its ascendancy and 1959 when Random House became a publicly owned corporation the way American novels were produced and distributed changed considerably Analyzing a range of mid century novels including Paul Bowles s The Sheltering Sky Ray Bradbury s Fahrenheit 451 Sloan

Wilson's The Man in the Gray Flannel Suit and Grace Metalious's Peyton Place reveals the specific strategies used to carve out cultural and economic space for the American novel just as it seemed most under threat. During this anxious historical moment the book business underwent an improbable expansion by capitalizing on an economic boom and a rising population of educated consumers and by forming institutional alliances with educators and cold warriors to promote reading as both a cultural and political good. A Novel Marketplace tells how the book trade and the novelists themselves successfully positioned their works as embattled holdouts against an oppressive mass culture even as publishers formed partnerships with mass culture institutions that foreshadowed the multimedia mergers to come in the 1960s. As a foil for and a partner to literary institutions, mass media corporations assisted in fostering the novel's development as both culture and commodity.

Sáhara Clive Cussler, 2005-01-11 Searching for a treasure on the Nile, Dirk Pitt thwarts the attempted assassination of a beautiful UN scientist investigating a disease that is driving thousands of North Africans into madness, cannibalism and death. The suspected cause of the epidemic is pollution that threatens to extinguish all oceanic life forms. In a race to save the world from environmental catastrophe, Pitt uncovers the truth behind two mysteries in the scorched desert and makes a last desperate stand in a battle he must win. Sahara Clive Cussler, 1992-11-01 The Massive Volume 4 Brian

Wood, 2015-01-13 Callum Israel and the crew of the Kapital face their greatest threat yet. Arkady Israel's former colleague bent on revenge. When the Kapital is bombed in port, Callum and Mag head into the dangerous streets of post-Crash Europe to confront Arkady. But what they ultimately discover may lead them to their long-lost ship. The Massive. Meanwhile, Mary reappears in the Sahara desert, guarding a convoy of fresh water holding a secret that might unravel Callum for good. The Massive begins its most powerful chapter yet as Brian Wood, Garry Brown and Daniel Zetzl unravel the ongoing mystery of Mary and set the stage for the final act when the cause of the Crash is revealed. Deep in the Sahara Kelly

Cunnane, 2013-10-08 Poetic language, attractive illustrations and a positive message about Islam without any didacticism: a wonderful combination, declares Kirkus Reviews in a starred review. Lalla lives in the Muslim country of Mauritania and more than anything she wants to wear a malafa, the colorful cloth Mauritanian women like her mama and big sister wear to cover their heads and clothes in public. But it is not until Lalla realizes that a malafa is not just worn to show a woman's beauty and mystery or to honor tradition, a malafa for faith that Lalla's mother agrees to slip a long cloth as blue as the ink in the Koran over Lalla's head, under her arm and round and round her body. Then together they pray. An author's note and glossary are included in the back of the book. Sahara Clive Cussler, Klajv Kasler, Apolon Gilevski, Aneta Velkoska, Snežana

Boškowska, 2005 The Oxford History of the Novel in English Cyrus R. K. Patell, Deborah Lindsay Williams, 2024-03-05 The Oxford History of the Novel in English is a twelve-volume series presenting a comprehensive global and up-to-date history of English language prose fiction, written by a large international team of scholars. The series is concerned with novels as a whole, not just the literary novel, and each volume includes chapters on the processes of production, distribution and reception.

and on popular fiction and the fictional sub genres as well as outlining the work of major novelists movements and tendencies This book offers an account of US fiction during a period demarcated by two traumatic moments the eve of the entry of the United States into the Second World War and the onset of the Covid 19 pandemic The aftermath of the Second World War was arguably the high point of US nationalism but in the years that followed US writers would increasingly explore the possibility that US democracy was a failure both at home and abroad For so many of the writers whose work this volume explores the idea of nation became suspect as did the idea of national literature as the foundation for US writing Looking at post 1940s writing the literary historian might well chart a movement within literary cultures away from nationalism and toward what we would call cosmopolitanism a perspective that fosters conversations between the occupants of different cultural spaces and that regards difference as an opportunity to be embraced rather than a problem to be solved During this period the novel has had significant competition for the US public s attention from other forms of narrative and media film television comic books videogames and the internet and the various forms of social media that it spawned If however the novel becomes a residual form during this period it is by no means archaic The novel has been reinvigorated over the past eighty years by its encounters with both emergent forms such as film television comic books and digital media and the emergent voices typically associated with multiculturalism in the United States The Nevada Bookstore Book Carole
