DECEMBER

Figure 1 displays a 4x8 grid of scatter plots showing the relationship between the number of children and the number of children in the household. The rows represent different household types: 'All children', 'All children', 'All children', and 'All children'. The columns represent different household types: 'All children', 'All children', 'All children', and 'All children'. Each plot shows a positive correlation between the number of children and the number of children in the household. The x-axis is labeled 'Number of children' and the y-axis is labeled 'Number of children in the household'. The data points are represented by small circles.
