Northern Lights

B. J. Epstein, 2009 This volume is a collection of essays based on papers given at the Nordic Translation Conference which took place in London in March 2008 The purpose of the collection is twofold First it serves to place the Nordic languages firmly into the field of translation studies where hitherto little research has focused on the Nordic region the essays include many Nordic specific studies and ideas Second the book presents research and conclusions which are relevant to translation studies in all languages and cultures Therefore this volume which covers a wide range of Nordic languages and both literary and non literary topics is unambiguously pertinent to the Nordic countries while also being universally valuable The 20th Century Go-N Frank N. Magill, 2014-03-05 Each volume of the Dictionary of World Biography contains 250 entries on the lives of the individuals who shaped their times and left their mark on world history This is not a who's who Instead each entry provides an in depth essay on the life and career of the individual concerned Essays commence with a quick reference section that provides basic facts on the individual's life and achievements The extended biography places the life and works of the individual within an historical context and the summary at the end of each essay provides a synopsis of the individual's place in history All entries conclude with a fully annotated bibliography The Week in Germany, 1979 True North B.J. Epstein, 2014-06-02 True North Literary Translation in the Nordic Countries is the first book to focus solely on literary translation from to and between the Nordic tongues The book is divided into three main sections These are novels children's literature and other genres encompassing drama crime fiction sagas cookbooks and music although naturally there are connections and overlapping themes between the sections Halldór Laxness Virginia Woolf Selma Lagerlöf Astrid Lindgrén Mark Twain Henrik Ibsen Henning Mankell Janis Joplin and Jamie Oliver are just some of the authors analysed Topics examined include particular translatorial challenges translating for specific audiences or influencing audiences through translation re translation the functions of translated texts the ways in which translation can change a genre the creation of identity through translation and more As is clear from this list many of the theories proposed and findings discussed here are also relevant to the wider field of translation studies as well as to literary studies more generally It is time for the world's growing Nordicmania to influence the field of translation studies and for translation to take its place as a relevant and essential issue in our understanding of the Northern countries The varied chapters in this book will contribute to these stimulating and critical conversations New Times, 1953-07 Land of the Olympians Robert Corfe, 2009-03-02 Aspects of everyday life and politics in both Scandinavia and Britain as seen through the author's 9 years residence in the Far North in the 1960s and through today's perspective in perceiving the future through the past From Coldwar Communism to the Global Emancipatory Movement Peter Waterman, 2014-12-12 Boaventura de Sousa Santos says This is an admirable memoir of an intellectual activist who has lived most intensely the progressive struggles of the last sixty years of world history because despite being born in Europe Peter in the best tradition of communist internationalism participated in struggles and movements not only in Central and Eastern Europe but also in Africa and most recently in Latin America But this is much more than a memoir It is so well documented that in this personal experience there are reflected some of the most decisive events of contemporary history It is a living history book But even more than this this book is so clearly and vividly written that at times it reads like the script for an imaginary documentary of our times This book should be read by all concerned with our recent history in order to get a much more complex inside view of what happened while it was happening In particular it should be read by the youth in order to get a close up of the difficulties and possibilities in building another possible world at a time where there existed a vibrant international communist movement It is up to such youth to evaluate whether difficulties are now or more daunting the possibilities less or more luminous Beyond Perception Caroline Gatt, Jan Peter Laurens Loovers, 2025-06-25

This book showcases the way a range of scholars have engaged with Tim Ingold's opus since the publication of his ground breaking The Perception of the Environment in 2000 Ingold's work has become key for a variety of disciplines ranging from anthropology archaeology and human geography to art architecture design and studies of material and visual culture As set out in The Perception of the Environment and subsequent publications Ingold proposed an understanding of the world that placed sentient remembering and imagining organisms or inhabitants some of them human at the heart of an extensive field of socio ecological relations In this work Ingold develops broad ranging analyses of personhood knowledge and skills among many other topics This volume sets out to synthesize critical scholarship drawing on Ingold's work to lay out its principles methods and results and to demonstrate its contribution to reshaping both contemporary anthropology and wider intellectual terrains By bringing together chapters from a variety of scholars all critically furthering Ingold's proposals the book advances a paradigm change occurring in various academic disciplines from fixist to emergence onto epistemologies Life and Letters and the London Mercury, 1935 The Facts on File Companion to the World Novel Michael Sollars, Arbolina Llamas Jennings, 2008 Life and Letters To-day, 1967

Re-Reading the Age of Innovation Louise Kane, 2022-07-28 The period of 1830-1950 was an age of unprecedented innovation From new inventions and scientific discoveries to reconsiderations of religion gender and the human mind the innovations of this era are recorded in a wide range of literary texts Rather than separating these texts into Victorian or modernist camps this collection argues for a new framework that reveals how the concept of innovation generated forms of literary newness that drew novelists poets and other creative figures working across this period into dialogic networks of experiment The 14 chapters in this volume explore how inventions like the rotary print press or hot air balloon and emergent debates about science trade and colonialism evolved new forms and genres Through their examinations of a wide range of texts and writers from well known novelists like Conrad Dickens Hardy and Woolf to less canonical figures like Charlotte Mew Elsie Mar and Walter Frances White the chapters in this collection re-read these texts as part of an age of innovation characterized not by division and divide but by collaboration and community

The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
