Salt Hour Poems:

The Salt Hour J. P. White, 2001 With this dazzling collection J P White embarks on a windswept journey through seductive treacherous waterways Conveying a stormy sense of place defined less by geography than by the push and pull of the mind at odds with circumstance these bracing poems plumb the depths of the sea and of the human heart in muscular graceful language A restless traveler who takes us from England and Russia to Nicaragua and the Caribbean White pushes beyond the boundaries of the lyric narrative tradition to let more of the world more flux of the larger human condition rush in As The Salt Hour wends its way from Lake Erie to the Sea of Cortez from the Aegean Sea to ice choked Baffin Bay White reveals the electric clash of public and private in the natural and human worlds a teenaged boy face to face with the blue skinned sideshow freak who reminds him of himself a late shift utility worker catastrophically distracted by an angel in black lace and high heels the perilous first leap of seal pups into the black merciless water Drenched in color almost achingly vivid The Salt Hour evokes the very salt breath of the sea together with the poet s need for connection with the shore Back cover

The Salt House Cynthia Huntington, 2012-01-15 A woman writer s lyrical memoir of a summer with her artist husband in a remote Cape Cod dune shack

A Map of the Night David Wagoner, 2010-10-01 David Wagoner s wide ranging poetry buzzes and swells with life Woods streams and fields fascinate him he happily admits his devotion to Thoreau but so do people and their habits dear friends and family the odd poet and strangers who become even stranger when looked at closely In this new collection Wagoner catches the mixed feelings of a long drive the sensations of walking against a current the difficulty of writing poetry with noisily amorous neighbors and many more uniquely familiar experiences

The House of Song David Wagoner, 2002 As a recipient of Poetry s Levinson Prize and the Ruth Lilly Prize and a nominee for the American Book Award and National Book Award David Wagoner is one of this country s most celebrated poets In The House of Song he offers a hundred new poems in six parts At turns elegiac comic and nostalgic these poems venture to the seemingly infinitesimal points where people legends and culture collide with nature memory and action With characteristic wit and brevity Wagoner chronicles the material invasions of the natural world reconsidering Thoreau amid ruminations on voyeurs and destroyers slug watchers and moth collectors The House of Song asserts Wagoner s place among the finest of American poets past and present

Poetry from Sojourner Ruth Lepson, 2004 Collection of poems from 25 years of Sojourner For much of its history Sojourner was the most widely circulated feminist literary journal in America and more than 1 200 poems have appeared in its pages since it began publication in 1975 Nearly 150 of those poems are collected in this volume where together they form a powerful testament to the vibrancy wit and diversity of feminist poetry In addition to works by such well known poets as Molly Peacock Nikki Giovanni Betsy Sholl and Adrienne Rich this collection includes poems by women from a host of different backgrounds including many whose work appeared in print for the first time in Sojourner Some of these poems explode with energy others speak with a haiku like softness some discuss love lust and sexuality while others deal with loss divorce and revenge The voices collected here are old and young rural and urban straight and gay from mothers and daughters to wives lovers and countless others all contributing to this anthology's wide ranging conversation about feminism and feminist poetics

Asian American Poetry Victoria Chang, 2004 This exciting anthology of work by up and coming writers is the first to profile a new generation of Asian American poets Building on the legacy of now canonized poets such as Li Young Lee Cathy Song and Garrett Hongo who were the first to achieve widespread recognition in the American literary community this new generation also strikes off in bold new directions Asian American Poetry The Next Generation gathers for the first time a broad cross section of the very best work of these young poets all under the age of forty including Timothy Liu Adrienne Su Sue Kwock Kim Rick Barot Brenda Shaughnessy Mong Lan as well as less familiar names A foreword by Marilyn Chin puts the book in context of both Asian American national identity and history and makes the important distinctions between generations clear Asian American Poetry The Next Generation opens the door on a dynamic developing part of the poetic world making it finally accessible to students scholars and poetry fans alike

Guide to the Blue Tongue Virgil Suárez, 2002 Shimmering with saturated color and heat Guide to the Blue Tongue is an intoxicating sequence of memory poems about growing up in the tropics threaded through the myth of Caliban from Shakespeare's The Tempest Caliban is the monstrous native in love with what he cannot possess lost to his own sense of identity In Virgil Su rez's vision the island of Caliban's imprisonment merges with the island of Cuba where the carboneros make charcoal and sell it door to door by the pound young boxers crackle with caged energy dock workers spill like ants out of the bellies of ships and the rain falls in torrents on corrugated tin roofs On this island of fire the Marquis de Sade joins other historical figures to drink absinthe and J Edgar Hoover lingers over mojitos and a cigar at the Tropicana Night Club in Old Havana Hovering behind the hotel shutters or half concealed behind their masks the old poets and prophets Shakespeare Tiresias Pablo Neruda are waiting to speak their passions Out of this rich imaginative brew Su rez evokes the mythical and historical landscape of Cuba and distills the hollow deep thudded pangs of exile's rootlessness the immigrant's constant longing to be possessed by a sense of place Steeped in a seductive incantatory language of desire Guide to the Blue Tongue gives entry to a place of blue possibility and daily undoing where the sting of salt fresh air is compounded by the ache of displacement and loss

The Hollow Log Lounge R. T. Smith, 2010-10-01 This is no fairy tale It's all fantastic and bizarre and true It's my life a raspy song that sounds better if you sing along The men and women who live and work near Opelika Alabama gather at the Hollow Log Lounge There under the watchful eye of the stuffed fox behind the bar they unload their gripes and worries tell their stories argue joke commune complain and confess In this collection of poems R T Smith paints a vividly imagined portrait of the community in this small town bar capturing the chorus of the patrons voices echoing off the knotted wood paneled walls Smith's stand in Sam Buckhannon scribbles stories heard and overheard as tongues loosened by liquor spin out monologues in which southern idiom and vernacular seem perfectly at home within the constraints of measured verse

Arts of a Cold Sun G. E. Murray, 2010-10-01 In these poems G E Murray blends the colors of the soul with those of the world it brushes up against exploring the ways in which art both as possession and possessor informs perception Viewing his subjects sometimes from airplane altitude sometimes from the intimacy of a shared restaurant table Murray crafts true stories about color narratives of dislocation and belonging that invite readers to question their own relationship to art Included in this volume is a long sequential poem titled The Seconds which Murray composed across the second days of thirteen months The rhythms of this diary as poem seize the tensions of shifting times and locales capturing the essences of moments that are at once chosen and arbitrary Codes toward an Incidental City the sequence that closes the book is a confederacy of forty poems that delve into the concrete familiarities and mythologies of urban landscapes illuminating the ecstasies of city life

Fire Muse Cynthia Huntington, 2016-11-01 In Fire Muse Cynthia Huntington returns to the back shore of Provincetown and the beach and dunes that inspired her 1999 memoir The Salt House Reflecting on place time and memory Huntington's poems display a kind of ecstasy born of love for her surroundings and a keen awareness of their sweep and details Attentive to the outer world as well as what lies within in these poems we find Huntington exploring her deepening bond with a familiar place

House of Poured-out Waters Jane Mead, 2001 In House of Poured Out Waters Jane Mead's substantial new collection she continues to grapple with a world both personal and cultural Poised in the slender moment between too early and too late between the difficult past and the unimaginable future Mead's poems remind us that the old debates about fate and free will nature and nurture are also matters of personal urgency More than anything it is her spiritual dimension that offers Mead a way into the future but that way must be paved image by image with the world before her Simultaneously conversational and lyrical these fearless poems extend the possibilities of narrative verse

Sleeping with the Moon Colleen J. McElroy, 2024-03-18 PEN Oakland National Literary Award 2008 Colleen J McElroy's poetry shoots for the moon and takes it in too in one way after another The collection's award winning poems animate women's experiences of sex shopping and dancing while offering telling insight into the struggles and silver lining of lust love illness and aging Rich with vivid imagery and candid storytelling Sleeping with the Moon takes readers on moonlit adventures under the night sky through the barroom's smoky haze and under the covers Beware such delicate sights have driven more than one woman to despair instead she watched him breathe relishing for a moment that secret space where night grows soft and the moon's detumescence forgives and where if this jeweled light holds they might strip themselves of years if only for one night from In Praise of Older Women

The Fading Hours: Poetry & Prose Gregory Coley, Poetry Harriet Monroe, 2002

The Welcome David Friedman, 2010-10-01 Fables for the modern age The Disappearing Trick Len Roberts, 2007-07-27 In The Disappearing Trick Len Roberts wrestles with the loss of loved ones whether that loss be through death a son moving away to college or simply how people fade from our lives and memories Hybrids of the narrative and lyric form these poems are models of indirect statement that have as Sharon Olds has said emotional courage powerful music and a deep balance Like the light shining on a face or a girl's thigh back in a sixth grade class the poems often come as Proustian flashes lasting just a second but seeming eternal amid an increasing darkness Immortal Sofa Maura Stanton, 2010-10-01

In accessible poems full of rich detail and painterly images Maura Stanton looks under the surface of the ordinary hoping to find the magic spark below the visible In poems both humorous and elegaic she gathers strange facts odd events and overlooked stories to construct her own vision of immortality one made up of fragments of history and geography and the illusions of yearning human beings From elephants in Ceylon to Nazi prisoners in Ireland from Beowulf to Jane Austen from sonnets to prose poems to blank verse Immortal Sofa conjures our complex existence in all its sorrowful but astonishing variety

In the Black Window Michael Van Walleghen, 2004-05-12 The title of Michael Van Walleghen's new collection evokes thematic preoccupations that have shadowed him throughout his long career Appearing as a phrase in the poems themselves In the Black Window more generally points to Van Walleghen's enduring interest in the intersection between inner and outer worlds of experience those liminal moments in other worlds where we become aware of ourselves We live at once in a strictly personal material dimension but also in a distinctly spiritual one Yet when looking from a lighted kitchen into a night black window on a winter evening we might perhaps become suddenly aware not only of our own reflection but also of our complicity in some deeper mystery altogether

Manderley Rebecca Wolff, 2010-10-01 Selected by Robert Pinsky as one of five volumes published in 2001 in the National Poetry Series In the Manderley of Rebecca Daphne du Maurier's forbidding haven of mocking ghosts and secrets that refuse to remain buried nothing is as it seems So in this stunning debut collection by Rebecca Wolff cities partners mothers sisters friends and perfect strangers all disguise their true faces while they who seek connection are transported from one great gaping hole in the fabric of our knowledge to another No passage is too dark no garden too tangled for the troubled dreamer of Manderley Wolff turns a quicksilver gaze on a fluid world where both the real and the imaginary are transfigured Tempering steely candor with a sophisticated delight in wordplay these poems turn on a dime from the sensual to the eerie the resigned to the hopeful the comforting to the shocking Each poem weaves together layers of dream remembrance and fantasy distilling from romantic excess a gritty spare language of truth telling and surprise

Veil and Burn Laurie Clements Lambeth, 2010-10-01 Concerned with physical experience pain and disability Veil and Burn illuminates an intense desire to feel through the Other embrace it become it and in the transformation to understand the suffering body In poems about animals artifacts and monsters Lambeth displays a fascination for all bodies while exploring their pain common fate alienation and abilities Hovering between poem and prose fragment between the self and fellow creatures Laurie Clements Lambeth celebrates physical sensation imbuing it with lyric shape however broken however imprisoned the shape may be
