Excerpt from Poets of the South A Series of Biographical and Critical Studies With Typical Poems Annotated The poets of the South who constitute a worthy galaxy of poetic talent and achievement are not sufficiently known Even in the South which might naturally be expected to take pride in its gifted singers most of them it is to be feared are but little read This has been called an age of prose Under the sway of what are regarded as practical interests there is a drifting away from poetic sentiment and poetic truth This tendency is to be regretted for material prosperity is never at its best without the grace and refinements of true culture At the present time as in former ages the gifted poet is a seer who reveals to us what is highest and best in life There is at present a new interest in literature in the South The people read more and in recent years an encouraging number of Southern writers have achieved national distinction With this literary renaissance there has been a turning back to older authors It is hoped that this little volume will supply a real need It is intended to call fresh attention to the poetic achievement of the South About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Poets of the South F.
