Future of Hope and Present Reality Andrew Chester, 2012 This book is the first of a two volume work with the overall title Future Hope and Present Reality These volumes had their origin in the Speaker's Lectures that Andrew Chester gave in Oxford their main focus is central themes in biblical eschatology and especially the apparent contradictions between what is hoped for in the future and what is experienced in the present the stark discrepancy that is between the world as it is and the world as it should be In this first volume as the subtitle Eschatology and Transformation in the Hebrew Bible indicates the author is concerned with the Hebrew Bible or Old Testament the second will be on the New Testament He deals successively with central eschatological themes and the deep tensions they involve divine threats of an absolute end to human life and to the world itself and divine promises of blessing and transformation along with the theological questions inevitably raised by these both in themselves and in relation to each other the whole phenomenon of prophecy and the problems it involves not least whether it can be taken seriously in face of the contradictions and failures it manifests He discusses the sheer discrepancy between ideal and reality in traditions relating to kingship along with the tensions inherent in the emergence of messianic hope death as representing the end of any relationship with God along with hope that goes beyond death in relation both to the individual and also the nation and finally visions of a transformed and paradisaical world and whether these can bear any relation to reality It is argued that the Hebrew Bible can be seen to offer genuine grounds for hope but that these can have any cogency only if the problems involved are really engaged with

Cholesterol and PI(4,5)P₂ in Vital Biological Functions Avia Rosenhouse-Dantsker, 2023-03-29 Cholesterol is an essential component of the plasma membrane Phosphatidylinositol 4 5 bisphosphate PI 4 5 P₂ although a minor phospholipid is the most abundant membrane phosphoinositide Both lipids play key roles in a variety of cellular functions including as signalling molecules and major regulators of protein function Studies on these important lipids have traditionally focused on the effect of each lipid individually Accumulating evidence indicates however that these lipids may cross regulate each other's levels Furthermore it is becoming evident that cholesterol and PI 4 5 P₂ can act together to modulate protein function and biological processes This book provides an overview of cellular functions and molecular mechanisms in which cholesterol and PI 4 5 P₂ functions extend from parallel existence to crosstalk It includes four sections The first section introduces the reader to cholesterol and PI 4 5 P₂ The second section demonstrates the mutual influence of these two critical lipids on their levels The third section divided into two parts describes the co modulation of protein function by cholesterol and PI 4 5 P₂ The first part focuses on ion channels and the second on lipid transfer proteins The fourth section highlights other cellular processes at the intersection of cholesterol and PI 4 5 P₂ involvement Collectively the book portrays the emerging relationship between cholesterol and PI 4 5 P₂ in a broad array of biological systems and processes The book will be of interest to a wide audience of research scientists with an interest in the biophysical properties of lipids and the physiological consequences of their presence in biological systems as well as graduate students postdoctoral trainees basic and clinical researchers and pharmaceutical scientists Specifically the content will be relevant to researchers in the fields of biochemistry molecular biophysics pharmacology neurobiology cardiovascular biology among others Provides a comprehensive overview of the current knowledge of the interplay between cholesterol and PI 4 5 P₂ Provides an overview of the emerging relationship between cholesterol and PI 4 5 P2 in biological systems and processes Discusses cellular processes and molecular mechanisms where lipid functions extend from parallel existence to crosstalk
