The Carrot Purple and Other Curious Stories of the Food We Eat Joel S. Denker,2015-10-01 How many otherwise well educated readers know that the familiar orange carrot was once a novelty It is a little more than 400 years old Domesticated in Afghanistan in 900 AD the purple carrot in fact was the dominant variety until Dutch gardeners bred the young upstart in the seventeenth century After surveying paintings from this era in the Louvre and other museums Dutch agronomist Otto Banga discovered this stunning transformation The story of the carrot is just one of the hidden tales this book recounts Through portraits of a wide range of foods we eat and love from artichokes to strawberries The Carrot Purple traces the path of foods from obscurity to familiarity Joel Denker explores how these edible plants were in diverse settings invested with new meaning They acquired not only culinary significance but also ceremonial medicinal and economic importance Foods were variously savored revered and reviled This entertaining history will enhance the reader s appreciation of a wide array of foods we take for granted From the carrot to the cabbage from cinnamon to coffee from the peanut to the pistachio the plants beans nuts and spices we eat have little known stories that are unearthed and served here with relish Lemon Zest Lori Longbotham,2002 Lemon Zest also brims with juicy tidbits of lemon lore as well as household hints for making the most of this all natural cleanser throughout the home Complete information on using every part of the lemon along with advice for selecting and storingand even growing them is included too Jewish Cultural Studies Simon J. Bronner,2021-05-04 Defines the distinctive field of Jewish cultural studies and its basis in folkloristic psychological and ethnological approaches Jewish Cultural Studiescharts the contours and boundaries of Jewish cultural studies and the issues of Jewish culture that make it so intriguing and necessary not only for Jews but also for students of identity ethnicity and diversity generally In addition to framing the distinguishing features of Jewish culture and the ways it has been studied and often misrepresented and maligned Simon J Bronner presents several case studies using ethnography folkloristic interpretation and rhetorical analysis Bronner building on many years of global cultural exploration locates patterns processes frames and themes of events and actions identified as Jewish to discern what makes them appear Jewish and why Jewish Cultural Studiesis divided into three parts Part 1 deals with the conceptualization of how Jews in complex heterogenous societies identify themselves as a cultural group to non Jews and vice versa such as how the Jewish home is socially and materially constructed Part 2 delves into ritualization as a strategic Jewish practice for perpetuating peoplehood and the values that it suggests for example the rising popularity of naming ceremonies for newborn girls simhat bat or zeved habat in the twenty first century Part 3 explores narration including the global transformation of Jewish joking in online settings and the role of Jews in American political culture Bronner reflects that a reason to separate Jewish cultural studies from the fields of Jewish studies and cultural studies is the distinctiveness of Jewish culture among other ethnic experiences As a diasporic group with religious ties and varying local customs Jews present difficulties of categorization He encourages a multiperspectival approach that considers the Jewish double consciousness as being aware of both insider and outsider perspectives participation in ancient tradition and recent modernization and the great variety and stigmatization of Jewish experience and cultural expression Students and scholars in Jewish studies cultural studies ethnic religious studies folklore sociology psychology and ethnology are the intended audience for this book Falafel Nation Yael Raviv,2015-11-01 Revised version of the author s thesis doctoral New York University 2002 Everyday Life in the Muslim Middle East Donna Lee Bowen,Evelyn A.
