

Safety plays

- Safety plays are as the name implies. It is a play to minimize the risk of losing the contract.
 - Looking both ways before crossing the street.
 - Taking an umbrella if it may rain.
- Two kinds of safety plays:
 1. Deliberately sacrificing a trick to reduce the chance of not making the contract.
 2. Handling card combinations in a way that will overcome the worst possible holding by the opponents without losing the contract.

Contract bridge, usually known simply as bridge, is a trick-taking card game of skill for four players usually sitting around a table who form two partnerships or sides. The partners on each side sit opposite one another. The game consists of two main parts: bidding or auction, and play. The rules of play are rather simple and similar to other trick-taking games. However, the bidding and associated conventions are much more complex and represent the true learning barrier to new players. Also, there is an immense variety of techniques in play of the hand whose effective use requires learning and experience. Reese on Play Terence Reese, 2001 This book is one of the all-time classics, a landmark in the development of bridge, especially in the field of card play. First published in 1948, it is now back in print after being unavailable for a number of years. In it, the author reveals what counts in play and defense and shows the reader how to join the ranks of the experts. This is a book that every improving bridge player must own.
