Kaye Lamb, 2017-05-15 Four of the greatest maritime exploring expeditions were crammed into two decades late in the 18th century Cook s third voyage the French expedition commanded by La P rouse the Malaspinga expedition sent out by Spain and George Vancouver s Voyage of Discovery All four visited the northwest coast of North America but weather and circumstances prevented Cook from making more than what Beaglehole calls a magnificent an epoch making reconnaissance La P rouse only touched the coast in a significant way at Yakutat Bay and Lituya Bay and Malaspinga s memorable visits were to Yakutat Bay and Nootka Sound Vancouver by contrast surveyed the enormous extent of coast from Lower California to Cook Inlet and his meticulous survey literally set out on the map of the world the intricacies of Puget Sound and the western coast of mainland Canada It was an achievement that places him with his mentor Cook in the first rank of marine surveyors As a midshipman Vancouver had been with Cook when he discovered the Sandwich Hawaiian Islands in 1778 They attracted his interest and the attention he devoted to the islands their inhabitants and their political future when he twice later wintered there will surprise many This is the first annotated edition of Vancouver s journal as he revised it for publication in 1798 The original manuscript has disappeared but fortunately no fewer than 25 partial or complete logs or journals by other members of the expedition have survived These supplement Vancouver s narrative at many points It has been possible to identify virtually all the host of islands channels and inlets that Vancouver encountered and the provenance of most of the approximately 400 place names he bestowed nine out of ten of which are still in use is indicated Book 1 of a new and annotated edition of A Voyage of Discovery London 1798 The main pagination of this and the following three volumes is continuous The voyage to Australia and Tahiti Book Catalog of the Library and Information Services Division: Subject index Environmental Science Information Center.
