Documenting Spain: Artists, Exhibition Culture, and the Modern Nation, 1929-1939 , The news media have given us potent demonstrations of the ambiguity of ostensibly truthful representations of public events Jordana Mendelson uses this ambiguity as a framework for the study of Spanish visual culture from 1929 to 1939 a decade marked on the one hand by dictatorship civil war and Franco's rise to power and on the other by a surge in the production of documentaries of various types from films and photographs to international exhibitions Mendelson begins with an examination of El Pueblo Español a model Spanish village featured at the 1929 International Exposition in Barcelona She then discusses Buñuel's and Dalí's documentary films relating them not only to French Surrealism but also to issues of rural tradition in the formation of regional and national identities Her highly original book concludes with a discussion of the 1937 Spanish Pavilion where Picasso's famed painting of the Fascist bombing of a Basque town Guernica was exhibited along with monumental photomurals by Josep Renau Based upon years of archival research Mendelson's book opens a new perspective on the cultural politics of a turbulent era in modern Spain It explores the little known yet rich intersection between avant garde artists and government institutions It shows as well the surprising extent to which Spanish modernity was fashioned through dialogue between the seemingly opposed fields of urban and rural fine art and mass culture

Salvador Dalí's Literary Self-portrait Carmen García de la Rasilla, 2009 This book remedies decades of critical neglect that has deprived the fields of art and literary criticism of one of the most important autobiographical and surrealist works of the twentieth century It reveals the origins of the text its relation to and role within Dalí's corpus as well as its reception provocative power and lasting popular success The study examines the literary contexts and sources of the text as well as its structural and narrative devices and reveals its complex parodic mechanics that caricaturize the Freudian self In addition the book illuminates the pictorial elements of Dalí's narrative and the major components of his fictional self portrait Finally an interpretation within the Freudian and Surrealist contexts of the fascinating and intricate drawings and photo montages of The Secret Life illustrates the uniqueness of an autobiography designed to be read as much as to be contemplated Illustrated Carmen Garcia de la Rasilla is Associate Professor of Spanish at the University of New Hampshire

Is He Dead? Mark Twain, 2003 A farcical comedy about the value of art by America's master satirist the piece was ignored in its time but it is stage worthy today Introduction and notes by a well known Twain scholar
