Plotting Women Jean Franco, 1989 Where is the common ground for feminist theory and Latin American culture Jean Franco explores Mexican women s struggle for interpretive power in relation to the Catholic religion the nation and post modern society and examines the writings of women who wrote under the shadow of recognized male writers as well as the works of more marginal figures In this original and skillfully written book Franco demonstrates the many feminisms that emerge in apparently rigid and adverse situations and provides the foundation for a more comprehensive less ethnocentric feminist theory

Mexican Cinema Carl J. Mora, 1989 The author s main reason for writing this book however is simply to provide an introduction to the Mexican commercial cinema for American and other English speaking readers Although the United States has been and continues to be a major foreign market for Mexican movies the overwhelming majority of Americans are unaware of them Mexican films are restricted to the Hispanic theater circuits and shown without English subtitles therefore anyone wishing to see a Mexican movie would have to be fairly fluent in Spanish Such a requisite effectively eliminates almost the entire general audience in the United States from exposure to Mexican cinema

Critical White Studies Richard Delgado, Jean Stefancic, 1997 No longer content with accepting whiteness as the norm critical scholars have turned their attention to whiteness itself In Critical White Studies Looking Behind the Mirror numerous thinkers including Toni Morrison Eric Foner Peggy McIntosh Andrew Hacker Ruth Frankenberg John Howard Griffin David Roediger Kathleen Heal Cleaver Noel Ignatiev Cherrie Moraga and Reginald Horsman attack such questions as How was whiteness invented and why How has the category whiteness changed over time Why did some immigrant groups such as the Irish and Jews start out as nonwhite and later became white Can some individual people be both white and nonwhite at different times and what does it mean to pass for white At what point does pride in being white cross the line into white power or white supremacy What can whites concerned over racial inequity or white privilege do about it Science and pseudoscience are presented side by side to demonstrate how our views on whiteness often reflect preconception not fact For example most scientists hold that race is not a valid scientific category genetic differences between races are insignificant compared to those within them Yet the one drop rule whereby those with any nonwhite heritage are classified as nonwhite persists even today As the bell curve controversy shows race concepts die hard especially when power and prestige lie behind them A sweeping portrait of the emerging field of whiteness studies Critical White Studies presents for the first time the best work from sociology law history cultural studies and literature Delgado and Stefancic expressly offer critical white studies as the next step in critical race theory In focusing on whiteness not only do they ask nonwhites to investigate more closely for what it means for others to be white but also they invite whites to examine themselves more searchingly and to look behind the mirror

Bunuel and Mexico Ernesto R. Acevedo-Muñoz,2025-03-18 Though Luis Bu uel one of the most important filmmakers of the twentieth century spent his most productive years as a director in Mexico film histories and criticism invariably pay little attention to his work during this period The only book length English language study of Bu uel s Mexican films this book is the first to explore a significant but neglected area of this filmmaker s distinguished career and thus to fill a gap in our appreciation and understanding of both Bu uel s achievement and the history of Mexican film Ernesto Acevedo Mu oz considers Bu uel s Mexican films made between 1947 and 1965 within the context of a national and nationalist film industry comparing the filmmaker s employment of styles genres character types themes and techniques to those most characteristic of Mexican cinema In this study Bu uel s films emerge as a link between the Classical Mexican cinema of the 1930s through the 1950s and the new Cinema of the 1960s flourishing in a time of crisis for the national film industry and introducing some of the stylistic and conceptual changes that would revitalize Mexican cinema

Film Manifestos and Global Cinema Cultures Scott

MacKenzie, 2021-01-21 Film Manifestos and Global Cinema Cultures is the first book to collect manifestoes from the global history of cinema providing the first historical and theoretical account of the role played by film manifestos in filmmaking and film culture. Focusing equally on political and aesthetic manifestoes, Scott MacKenzie uncovers a neglected yet nevertheless central history of the cinema, exploring a series of documents that postulate ways in which to re-imagine the cinema and in the process re-imagine the world. This volume collects the major European waves and figures: Eisenstein, Truffaut, Bergman, Free Cinema, Oberhausen, Dogme 95, Latin American Third Cinema, Birri Sanjin's, Espinosa Solanas' radical art and the avant-garde, Buñuel, Brakhage, Deren, Mekas, Ono, Sanborn and world cinemas: Iimura, Makhmalbaf, Sembene, Sen. It also contains previously untranslated manifestos co-written by figures including Bolla, Debord, Herosimilo, Isou, Kieslowski, Painlevé, Straub and many others. Thematic sections address documentary cinema, aesthetics, feminist and queer film cultures, pornography, film archives, Hollywood and film and digital media. Also included are texts traditionally left out of the film manifestos canon such as the Motion Picture Production Code and Pius XI's Vigilanti Cura, which nevertheless played a central role in film culture.

Surrealism and film after 1945 Kristoffer Noheden, Abigail Susik, 2021-07-06 This is the first volume to focus on the diverse permutations of international surrealist cinema after the canonical interwar period. The collection features eleven original contributions by prominent scholars such as Tom Gunning, Michael Lewy, Gavin Parkinson and Michael Richardson alongside other leading and emerging researchers. An introductory chapter offers a historical overview as well as a theoretical framework for specific methodological approaches. The collection demonstrates that renowned figures such as Leonora Carrington, Maya Deren, Alejandro Jodorowsky and Jan van Kesteren took part in shaping a vibrant and distinctive surrealist film culture following the Second World War. Addressing highly influential films and directors related to international surrealism during the second half of the twentieth century, it expands the purview of both surrealism and film studies by situating surrealism as a major force in postwar cinema.

Mapping the Megalopolis Glen David Kuecker, Alejandro Puga, 2017-12-22 Mapping the Megalopolis: Order and Disorder in Mexico City brings the humanities and the social sciences into a conversation about Mexico City in its social, political and aesthetic manifestations. Through a shared exploration of the order and disorder that mutually constitute the city, contributing authors engage topics such as the privatization of public space, challenges to existing conceptualizations of the urban form and variations on the flâneur and other urban actors. Mexico City is truly a city of versions, and Mapping the Megalopolis celebrates the intersection of the image of the city and the lived experience of it. Readers will find substantive entries on a great variety of Mexico City's monumental and counter monumental spaces as well as some of its pivotal contemporary debates and cultural products The volume serves both as supplemental reading on the world city or the Latin American city and as a central text in a multidisciplinary study of Mexico City

Slums on Screen Igor Krstic, 2016-04-26 Near to one billion people call slums their home making it a reasonable claim to describe our world as a planet of slums But how has this hard and unyielding way of life been depicted on screen How have filmmakers engaged historically and across the globe with the social conditions of what is often perceived as the world s most miserable habitats Combining approaches from cultural globalisation and film studies Igor Krstic outlines a transnational history of films that either document or fictionalise the favelas shantytowns barrios poulares or chawls of our planet of slums exploring the way accelerated urbanisation has intersected with an increasingly interconnected global film culture From Jacob Riis How The Other Half Lives 1890 to Danny Boyle s Slumdog Millionaire 2008 the volume provides a number of close readings of films from different historical periods and regions to outline how contemporary film and media practices relate to their past predecessors demonstrating the way various filmmakers both north and south of the equator have repeatedly grappled with rejected or continuously modified documentary and realist modes to convey life in our planet of slums
