

Maggie's story

Maggie was oscillating between both the loss orientated (LO) process and the restoration orientated (RO) process within the dual process model.

She explains how it's worse now at 4 months as the shock has worn off, and she mentions 'everyone expects her to get on with it', she is getting on, she takes the kids to school, keeps the house going, she's sorted out probate and the pension. She is currently in the RO as she is attending to life changes, but she soon oscillates to the (LO) process. She goes on to mention she tries to keep herself busy of an evening, otherwise she will miss her husband, this is an intrusion of grief within the (LO) process.

She mentions she had to sign 'widow' on a form, and she felt hurt, this was another intrusion of grief, but she was also in the (RO) process as she was using her new identity.

She mentions she went to the cinema with a friend, had a lovely time and really laughed so was in the (RO) process, but she felt guilty for having a good time. So she had dipped back into the (LO) process.

She also mentions how they always used to go to a club with a group of friends, and how they have invited her, but she says how they all have partners and she would stick out like a sore thumb. She is in the (LO) process here as she is allowing intrusion of grief and avoiding restoration.

She said about how angry she feels at times, and how she hates her self at times. She ends this with 'I'm horrible aren't I?' its as if she seeks clarification from the person she is talking too. She does this on several occasions, 'of course you have to go on for the children, don't you?', 'stupid isn't it?'. 'but you cant, can you?'. This is not only confusion as Maggie suddenly has had her whole world turned upside down. She's suddenly now alone, new identity, new job roles etc, all part of the grieving process I believe. It makes her question herself, everything she does, her actions etc?

Imaginary Existences Ignés Sodre, 2014-07-17 Imaginary Existences A psychoanalytic exploration of phantasy fiction dreams and daydreams interweaves scholarly psychoanalytic knowledge and extensive clinical experience with insights derived from close readings of great literature in a uniquely imaginative and creative manner convincingly demonstrating how these two ways of thinking psychoanalysis and literary criticism organically relate to each other This is simultaneously a psychoanalytic book and a book about literature illuminating the imaginative possibilities present within both the psychoanalytic encounter and the act of reading fiction Scholarly and well researched the psychoanalytic ideas presented have their basis in the work of Freud and Klein and some of their followers the extensive and innovative writing about the great authors in Western literature is equally scholarly and lucid Here Ignés Sodre explores creativity itself and specifically the impediments to creative thinking defences mostly narcissistic against dependency guilt and loss and the mis use of imagination to deny reality In her studies of the characters created by authors such as George Eliot Cervantes Flaubert Thomas Mann Proust and Shakespeare Sodre examines the way great writers create characters who mis use their imagination twisting reality into romantic daydreams or sado masochistic enactments which petrify experience and freeze the fluidity of thought Her clinical studies continue and expand this theme broadening the field and lending verification and weight to the arguments These two poles of Sodre's thinking psychoanalysis and literature interact seamlessly in Imaginary Existences the two disciplines work together each an intimate part of a learned exploration of the human condition our desires our fears and our delusions This convergence pays tribute to the great depth of the fictional work being studied and to the psychological validity of the psychoanalytic ideas This book will be of interest to psychoanalysts psychologists psychotherapists literary critics and those interested in literature and literary criticism

Selcer,2009 Fort Worth history is far more than the handful of familiar names that every true blue Fort Worthers hears growing up leaders such as Amon Carter B B Paddock J Frank Norris and William McDonald Their names are indexed in the history books for ready reference But the drama that is Fort Worth history contains other less famous characters who played important roles like Judge James Swayne Madam Mary Porter and Marshal Sam Farmer well known enough in their day but since forgotten Others like Al Hayne lived their lives in the shadows until one spectacular moment of heroism Then there are the lawmen Jim Courtright Jeff Daggett and Thomas Finch They wore badges but did not always represent the best of law and order These seven plus five others are gathered together between the covers of this book Each has a story that deserves to be told If they did not all make history they certainly lived in historic times The jury is still out on whether they shaped their times or merely reflected those times Either way their stories add new perspectives to the familiar Fort Worth story revealing how the law worked in the old days and what life was like for persons of color and for women living in a man s world As the old TV show used to say There are a million stories in the Naked City There may not be quite as many stories in Cowtown but there are plenty waiting to be told enough for future volumes of Fort Worth Characters But this is a good starting point Nineteenth-Century British Literature Then and Now Simon Dentith,2016-05-06 Envisioning today s readers as poised between an impossible attempt to read texts as their original readers experienced them and an awareness of our own temporal moment Simon Dentith complicates traditional prejudices against hindsight to approach issues of interpretation and historicity in nineteenth century literature Suggesting that the characteristic aesthetic attitude encouraged by the backward look is one of irony rather than remorse or regret he examines works by Charles Dickens George Eliot Anthony Trollope William Morris and John Ruskin in terms of their participation in significant histories that extend to this day Liberalism class gender political representation and notions of progress utopianism and ecological concern as currently understood can be traced back to the nineteenth century Just as today's critics strive to respect the authenticity of nineteenth century writers and readers who responded to these ideas within their historical world so too do those nineteenth century imaginings persist to challenge the assumptions of the present It is therefore possible Dentith argues to conceive of the act of reading historical literature with an awareness of the historical context and of the difference between the past and the present while allowing that friction or difference to be part of how we think about a text and how it communicates His book summons us to consider how words travel to the reality of the reader's own time and how engagement with nineteenth century writers anticipation of the judgements of future generations reveal hindsight's capacity to transform our understanding of the past in the light of subsequent knowledge
