My Friends In The Barrios:

My Friends in the Barrios Juan M. Flavie, 1980 The Peace Corps Experience P. David Searles, 2021-12-14 For more than 35 years the Peace Corps has pursued John F Kennedy's vision of helping people of the Third World build a better life. Yet with the exception of a few celebrations of its early years little effort has been made to document that organization's history. Now a former deputy director of the Peace Corps offers a first hand look at life in the agency both in the field and at headquarters and a radical reinterpretation of its history during the Nixon and Ford administrations. By the end of the 1960s the Peace Corps was in disarray. Debate raged over its effectiveness and many new volunteers embraced the antiestablishment behavior of the day's youth. When President Nixon appointed Joseph Blatchford as director in 1969 some insiders felt the agency's days were numbered especially when Blatchford set about re-evaluating the Peace Corps mission and initiated a program called New Directions to reorient its work. Many observers simply lump Blatchford's efforts with the failures and faults of the Nixon administration. David Searles however contends that the new director's initiatives revitalized the Peace Corps and made it a more relevant organization. Searles faithfully relates the history of these policies and their implementation in the field drawing on his personal experience as country director for the Peace Corps in the Philippines. He shows how despite constant carping from veterans of the early Peace Corps and much furor at headquarters New Directions reenergized the agency and renewed and reaffirmed the Peace Corps mission. Searles's descriptions of political maneuverings are incisively observed and his firsthand characterizations of Peace Corps life richly impart the joys and frustrations of volunteer work. The Peace Corps Experience will give historians a new perspective on the agency and will also interest anyone who has served in the Peace Corps or who wants to understand it. A History of Publishing in the Philippines Dominador D. Buhain, 1998 Archipelago, 1974 Locomotive Engineering, 1899 Dr. V Thomas D'Agnes, 2012-05 Raised in a Greek immigrant family amid New England's industrial decline Manny Voulgaropoulos wanted to explore exotic places. His ticket to adventure was medical school in Belgium where he learned how Belgium's colonization of the Congo exploited its indigenous people. His medical training originally a passport to travel the world became his means to alleviate suffering of poor and underprivileged people. A serendipitous meeting with Tom Dooley the Jungle Doctor brought him to Kratie Cambodia in 1958 as the Indochina war was brewing. In Kratie Manny was the Great White Doctor treating hundreds every day just as Tom Dooley had done. After repeatedly seeing the same people with the same diseases Manny realized that Kratie's people didn't need a jungle doctor. They needed preventive medicine and public health delivered by Cambodians for Cambodians. These lessons molded Manny's professional philosophy in a career spanning four decades. From the pinnacle of academia at the University of Hawaii to the zenith of international public health leading USAID health programs in Vietnam Indonesia and the Philippines Manny Voulgaropoulos emphasized public health and preventive medicine and instilled his host country colleagues with the confidence to take control of their health programs and their destinies Popular Religion and Modernization in Latin America Cristian G. Parker, 2015-10-14 This landmark work constitutes a complete historical sociological and political view of religion as a cultural expression in Latin America Parker shows how beginning with the arrival of the conquistadors religion has played a transcendent role in shaping the national cultures of the region particularly its popular cultures and continues to do so Parker argues that while capitalistic modernization and urbanization do lead to secularization this process is not linear or progressive Secularization in Latin America does not destroy its religious fabric but rather transforms it accentuating its pluralistic character Christianity and particularly Roman Catholicism has influenced Latin American identity and culture most profoundly But it has by no means been the sole influence nor has Christianity itself remained unchanged in the process As a product of history and capitalistic modernization the trait of religion that emerges most clearly is that of cultural and religious pluralism Janitors, Street Vendors, and Activists Christian Zolniski, 2006-02-07 This book exposes the underbelly of California's Silicon Valley the most successful high technology region in the world in a vivid ethnographic study of Mexican immigrants employed in Silicon Valley's low wage jobs The author demonstrates how global forces have incorporated these workers as an integral part of the economy through subcontracting and other flexible labor practices and explores how these labor practices have in turn affected working conditions and workers daily lives These immigrants do not emerge merely as victims of a harsh economy despite the obstacles they face they are transforming labor and community politics infusing new blood into labor unions and challenging exclusionary notions of civic and political membership Donovan Kari Lemor, 2023-09-09 Going going gone to the lady who wants sweet revenge Magnolia Popham never forgot the way Donovan Sinclair humiliated her when she worked for his family Years later he's on the auction block to raise money for the children's hospital and she's got the perfect plan to pay him back A month mucking stalls and feeding chickens is just the thing to make him see what it feels like to be the hired help Donovan never meant to embarrass Maggie yet now he's paying the price He didn't know one stolen kiss years ago could cause so many problems Toiling beside her at Popham Farm shows him the successful woman she's become and he'd like to get closer Even with the drudgery of working the land he wants nothing more than to bid on her love and win
