My Mothers People To Colorado They Came:

Mochi's War Chris Enss, Howard Kazanjian, 2015-06-15 Colorado Territory in 1864 wasn't merely the wild west it was a land in limbo while the Civil War raged in the east and politics swirled around its potential admission to the union. The territorial governor John Evans had ambitions on the national stage should statehood occur and he was joined in those ambitions by a local pastor and erstwhile Colonel in the Colorado militia John Chivington. The decision was made to take a hard line stance against any Native Americans who refused to settle on reservations and in the fall of 1864 Chivington set his sights on a small band of Cheyenne under the chief Black Eagle camped and preparing for the winter at Sand Creek. When the order to fire on the camp came on November 28 one officer refused other soldiers in Chivington's force however immediately attacked the village disregarding the American flag and a white flag of surrender that was run up shortly after the soldiers commenced firing. In the ensuing battle fifteen members of the assembled militias were killed and more than 50 wounded. Between 150 and 200 of Black Kettle's Cheyenne were estimated killed nearly all elderly men, women and children. As with many incidents in American history the victors wrote the first version of history turning the massacre into a heroic feat by the troops. Soon thereafter however Congress began an investigation into Chivington's actions and he was roundly condemned. His name still rings with infamy in Colorado and American history. Mochi's War explores this story and its repercussions into the last part of the nineteenth Century from the perspective of a Cheyenne woman whose determination swept her into some of the most dramatic and heartbreaking moments in the conflicts that grew through the West in the aftermath of Sand Creek.

Chicano Authors Bruce-Novoa, 2014-04-15 The need for this book became apparent to Bruce Novoa when he first taught a Chicano culture course in 1970. His students could find no source to satisfy their curiosity about Chicano writers' backgrounds, opinions and attitudes. Chicano Authors: Inquiry by Interview provides that information. Fourteen leading Chicano authors respond to questions about their personal and educational backgrounds, their perception of the role of the Chicano writer and their evaluation of the literary, linguistic and sociocultural significance of Chicano literature. The authors included are Jos Antonio Villarreal, Rolando Hinojosa, Sergio Elizondo, Miguel M. Ndez, M. Abelardo Delgado, Jos Montoya, Tom's Rivera, Estela Portillo, Rudolfo A. Anaya, Bernice Zamora, Ricardo S. nchez, Ron Arias, Tino Villanueva and Alurista. Each interview is preceded by a brief introductory note which locates the author in the context of Chicano literature and provides a sense of his or her writing. Also included are a general introduction to Chicano literature, a chronological chart of publications by genre and a selected bibliography. The volume will be an essential research tool for the student of Chicano literature and culture and a useful introduction for the general reader.

My Mother's Branch: The Lineage and Life of Carrie Viola Reeves and Her Family Doyle W. Williams, 2014-03-11 Doyle Williams has written a family history focusing on his mother Carrie Viola Reeves, her siblings Emma, Annie and Charlie, and her parents James Morgan Reeves and Sarah Frances Spencer. In this story he describes the turmoil that enveloped James Morgan as a small child in Arkansas during the Civil War and how it took his father's life and the lives of five of his siblings. He follows James Morgan as he moves to Texas with his mother leaving home at age ten to find his own way and returning to Arkansas to grow up and marry. When his wife Elizabeth Wolf dies leaving him with a large family to rear, he returns to Texas where he finds a new wife in Sarah Frances Spencer. James Morgan and Sarah move to Oklahoma Territory in the early 1890s, make their lives there and rear their own family. The author follows the children of James Morgan and Sarah as they grow up, marry, and eventually care for their aging parents. This is the story of an American pioneering family. Before We Get Old Toni

Sears, 2013-02-28 Six years ago my mother requested that I should write a story about how things were when we all were young. The experiences we had and endured along the way while making memories that would last a lifetime. The things that we often sat around talking about on so many occasions and would laugh so hard we would be in tears. My mother felt that other people would enjoy some of our fondest memories from my childhood as she did her best to raise her children as a single parent most of the time. My family felt it was a blessing to be able to look back and laugh about it all, what my mother referred to as the good old days. There are some stories you would not believe but they are true, some are funny and some are sad. My mother passed away on Thanksgiving day of 2006 so I am really trying to keep a promise that I made to her and keep our fondest and most cherished memories from my childhood and share it with the world. That is what my mother wanted me to do. I really hope you enjoy Before We Get Old the good old days. My Mother's Journal Adonica Schultz

Aune, 2013-01-25 The initial idea for this work was to provide a space for a reader to record daily events in accordance to the date as recorded by my mother. What transpired is an abridged account of my mother's last year of her life living at Luther Memorial Home in Mayville, North Dakota, with added remarks and snippets of my life now in The Villages, Florida. Written in my mother's aging hand with extreme intellect and charm, the journal is a historical account of the daily life in a nursing facility. My Mother's Journal portrays small matters that when pieced together and seen from a distance become large. Subsequently, her words are a rare gift and it is my hope that this will foster more such journaling. I would like to thank my early readers Aunt Dorothy, my sister Karen, my friend Trish, and my step daughter in law Dixie for their encouragement and support in completing this bittersweet and challenging project. Imperialism and Expansionism in American History

Triumph of an American Black Man Alfred Douglas Turnipseed,2008-10 Alfred Turnipseed was a very small boy with bright eyes a quick smile dark complexion close cropped hair with an engaging personality Although he was outgoing there was a timid quality about him He dressed differently from other boys With a quick eye for fashion Alfred wore black and white or brown and white shoes while other boys wore solid colors Sometimes he wore overalls but pants with suspenders and a belt was his normal dress His mother made sure his clothes were always clean and pressed He took pride in his overall appearance In school kids lined up by height for many events Alfred always led the line He was not only the smallest boy but the smallest person in his class And he didn t feel too good about this When Alfred went to school his mother insisted that the barber cut off all his hair He hated this because the older boys would constantly tap his head But his mother wouldn t change her mind so his head was always bald looking Everyone agreed that Alfred was a nice little boy He was innocent of all vices well most of them anyway But he was a tough minded little boy who kept plugging away and never quit on himself
