My Peoples Waltz Stories:

My People's Waltz Dale Ray Phillips, 1999-03-17 These award winning stories introduce a heartbreaking and hilarious new voice in Southern American fiction MY PEOPLES WALTZ PB Dale R. Phillips, 2000-10-24 A collection of interlocking stories from a central figure in contemporary Southern American fiction centers on the figure of Richard a winningly ambiguous pilgrim through modern life and his chaotic background and environment as he seeks some redemption A first collection Reprint Stories I Lived to Tell Gary Carden, 2024-08-20 Stories I Lived to Tell is more than a selection of stories from revered mountain storyteller Gary Carden it is a testimony of a distinguished culture sense of place and spirit of community that connects the Appalachian past to its present This memoir in stories invites the reader to move beyond stereotypes to experience the scenes characters and community of the author's childhood and formative years intersecting with the regional folktales and mythologies that fired his imagination It is not only a fascinating window into an Appalachian community in the middle of the twentieth century but also an insightful reminder of who that community is today in spite of the external changes Featuring an introduction by documentarian Neal Hutcheson this book is a moving often funny collection by a talented storyteller who cuts through cliché and sanctimony with his powerful words American Short Story Cycle Jennifer J. Smith, 2017-11-22 This work spans two centuries to tell the history of a genre that includes both major and marginal authors from Washington Irving through William Faulkner to Jhumpa Lahiri Vale of Humility George Hovis, 2007 This is an inviting look at the influence of the yeoman's small farm on six modern southern writers In a deft analysis of works by Doris Betts Reynolds Price Fred Chappell Lee Smith Clyde Edgerton and Randall Kenan Vale of Humility explores the lives of the plain folk white and black who populate the worlds of contemporary North Carolina fiction Hovis explains that a wealthy planter elite was significantly less prominent in North Carolina than in neighboring regions and as such the state's plain folk did not develop a class identity based as deeply in relation to a superior planter class Instead the identification of the yeoman's small farm rather than the plantation as necessary to the ideal life has been a distinguishing feature of the state's literature In this first full length study of North Carolina's contemporary fiction Hovis examines the work of six representative writers from the state's three geographic regions Lee Smith and Fred Chappell from the mountains Doris Betts and Clyde Edgerton from the Piedmont and Reynolds Price and Randall Kenan from the coastal plain The work of these six writers is explored within the broader southern literary tradition with attention to how they have revised such modes as pastoral family saga and southwestern humor in order to portray their own regional experiences Although these writers celebrate the egalitarianism at the heart of the yeoman ideal they also expose the forms of racism sexism and classism that have also marked the state's history Stories My Folks Told Me Susanne Keller, 2016-06-16 This is a book of family stories of pioneers who immigrated to central Illinois from a variety of locations in Germany They dared to leave the Old World and seek their fortune in the New World and strove every day of their lives to improve the
