Working With Older People And Their Families Nolan, Mike, Davies , Nolan, Grant, Gordon, 2001-02-01 This text combines reviews of specialist literatures with empirical data in an attempt to synthesise themes about making a reality of person centred care Intermediate Care of Older People Siân Wade, 2006-02-22 Intermediate care has become a buzzword within health and social care over the last few years Seen as the panacea for a number of woes particularly for older people intermediate care has been held up as a way forward within contemporary health and social care This text explores in detail what is understood by the concept of intermediate care and in particular ways in which the needs of older people can be best met by this new range of services Initial discussion centres on the concept of intermediate care and the motives for its development This is followed by a summary of the range of intermediate care services that have been developed with a discussion of some of the confusion that surrounds the concept The debate then moves on to centre on older people discussing first why older people have come to be perceived as one of the main client groups that may benefit from intermediate care and then how intermediate care could be developed to better serve their needs An overview of ageing and the uniqueness of older people is then provided followed by an exploration of some of the challenges faced by older people within society and how this has extended into the delivery of health and social care Human Rights and the Care of Older People Maeve O'Rourke, 2024-04-24 Set against the rapid aging of the world s population Human Rights and the Care of Older People explores the potential for the rule against torture and ill treatment in international human rights law to better protect older people from care related mistreatment The book s analysis is broadly relevant but is prompted by the widespread reports of older people s suffering due to lack of access to care and coercion in respect of care needs This includes the deprivation of liberty for care While recognizing that a new United Nations Convention on the rights of older people is on the horizon the book argues that there is a pressing need for older people and all human rights actors to use and progressively interpret the established right to freedom from torture and ill treatment As an interpretive lens the book offers a conception of a dignity violation that may amount to prohibited ill treatment and thus trigger states positive obligations to protect including through systemic prevention measures This book is intended as a tool for advocacy and a call for critical awareness highlighting the anti torture norm s potential for more effective application and challenging current legal barriers to such effectiveness Meant for readers worldwide the book addresses the rule against torture and ill treatment from international law regional European Inter American and African perspectives This is an open access title available under the terms of a CC BY NC ND 4 0 International licence It is free to read on Oxford Academic and offered as a free PDF download from OUP and selected open access locations
