LeVine, Sarah LeVine, 2016-09-06 When it comes to parenting more isn't always better but it is always more tiring In Japan a boy sleeps in his parents bed until age ten but still shows independence in all other areas of his life In rural India toilet training begins one month after infants are born and is accomplished with little fanfare In Paris parents limit the amount of agency they give their toddlers In America parents grant them ever more choices independence and attention Given our approach to parenting is it any surprise that American parents are too frequently exhausted Over the course of nearly fifty years Robert and Sarah LeVine have conducted a groundbreaking worldwide study of how families work They have consistently found that children can be happy and healthy in a wide variety of conditions not just the effort intensive cautious environment so many American parents drive themselves crazy trying to create While there is always another news article or scientific fad proclaiming the importance of some factor or other it's easy to miss the bigger picture that children are smarter more resilient and more independent than we give them credit for Do Parents Matter is an eye opening look at the world of human nurture one with profound lessons for the way we think about our families World Yearbook of Education 2009 Marilyn Fleer, Mariane Hedegaard, Jonathan Tudge, 2012-04-05 The World Yearbook of Education 2009 Childhood Studies and the Impact of Globalization Policies and Practices at Global and Local Levels examines the concept of childhood and childhood development and learning from educational sociological and psychological perspectives This contributed volume seeks to explicitly provide a series of windows into the construction of childhood around the world as a means to conceptualizing and more sharply defining the emerging field of global and local childhood studies At the global level there has been increasing discontent with how children have been reified and measured Prevailing Eurocentric and North American notions of childhood and development across the North South boundaries show vast differences in how childhood is constructed and how development is theorized The World Yearbook of Education 2009 volume provides comprehensive research from Asia Pacific the Americas the African region and European communities and is presented with a special focus on education It examines childhood from birth to twelve years of age across institutional contexts and within both poor majority and rich minority countries Cultural historical theory has been used as the framework for investigating and providing insights into how childhood is theorized politicized enacted and lived across these communities A range of theoretical orientations informs this book including cultural historical theory ecological theory and cross cultural research The World Yearbook of Education 2009 volume is organized into 3 sections Section 1 Examines the global construction of childhood development and learning Section 2 Discusses the local conditions and global imperatives that arise from a broadly based analysis of the studies presented within this section Section 3 Draws upon cultural historical theory and ecological theory and brings together the themes explored throughout the preceding two sections The World Yearbook of Education 2009 volume seeks to make visible the cultural historical construction of childhood and development across the north south regions and scrutinizes the policy imperatives that have maintained the global colonization of families

New, 2008-02-11 This unprecedented collection of articles is an introduction to the study of cultural variations in childhood across the world and to the theoretical frameworks for investigating and interpreting them Presents a history of cross cultural approaches to child development Recent articles examine diverse contexts of childhood in ecological semiotic and sociolinguistic terms Includes ethnographic studies of childhood in the Pacific Africa Latin America East Asia Europe and North America Illuminates the process through which people become the bearers of culturally historically specific identities Serves as an ideal text for anthropology courses focusing on childhood as well as classes on development psychology The Middle East Gary S. Gregg, 2005-07-21 The first comprehensive summary of psychological studies of Arab Muslim societies this book examines psychological development through the life span describing how traditional patterns appear to be changing in both modernizing and underdeveloping sectors of Middle Eastern societies It provides a scholarly account of the region s cultural psychology and also offers insight into the daily lives of parents children and families as they struggle behind and sometimes in the headlines to modernize while conserving valued traditions Polygamous Families in Contemporary Society Irwin Altman, Joseph

Ginat, 1996-07-26 This groundbreaking book examines marital relationships in contemporary Mormon polygamous families

The Psychology of Cultural Experience Carmella C. Moore, Holly F. Mathews, 2001-09-06 The essays in this volume first published in 2001 focus upon the relationship of individual experience to culture and chart a research agenda for psychological anthropology in the twenty first century Drawing upon fieldwork in diverse cultural settings the authors use a range of contemporary perspectives in the field including person centred ethnography activity theory attachment theory and cultural schema theory to describe the ways in which people think feel remember and solve problems Fascinating insights emerge from these fine grained accounts of personal experience The research demonstrates that it is possible to identify cross cultural universals in psychological development and mental states and that individual psychology is not determined solely by unique cultural patterns Conflict and Accommodation in Western Kenya Robert M. Maxon, 1989 The Gusii people of Kenya Africa were the last major Kenyan ethnic group to be conquered by the British This is an account of their experience under colonial control and a portrayal of their strong and steadfast resistance Illustrated with maps and tables
