Mother-Tongue in Modern Japanese Literature and Criticism Takayuki Yokota-Murakami, 2018-07-28 This book examines how early research on literary activities outside national literatures such as migr literature or diasporic literature conceived of the loss of mother tongue as a tragedy and how it perpetuated the ideology of national language by relying on the dichotomy of native language foreign language It transcends these limitations by examining modern Japanese literature and literary criticism through modern philology the vernacularization movement and Korean Japanese literature Through the insights of recent philosophical linguistic theories it reveals the political problems of the notion of mother tongue in literary and linguistic theories and proposes strategies to realize genuinely exophonic and translational literature beyond the confines of nation Examining the notion of mother tongue in literature and literary criticism the author deconstructs the concept and language itself as an apparatus of nation state in order to imagine alternative literature genuinely creolized and heterogeneous Offering a comparative transnational perspective on the significance of the mother tongue in contemporary literatures this is a key read for students of modern Japanese literature language and culture as well as those interested in theories of translation and bilingualism Yoko Tawada's Portrait of a Tongue Yoko Tawada, 2013-09-26 Yoko Tawada's

Portrait of a Tongue An Experimental Translation by Chantal Wright is a hybrid text innovatively combining literary criticism experimental translation and scholarly commentary This work centres on a German language prose text by Yoko Tawada entitled Portrait of a Tongue Porträt einer Zunge 2002 Yoko Tawada is a native speaker of Japanese who learned German as an adult Portrait of a Tongue is a portrait of a German woman referred to only as P who has lived in the United States for many years and whose German has become inflected by English The text is the first person narrator's declaration of love for P and for her language a thinking out loud about language's and a self reflexive commentary Chantal Wright offers a critical response and a new approach to the translation process by interweaving Tawada's text and the translator's dialogue creating a side by side reading experience that encourages the reader to move seamlessly between the two parts Chantal Wright's technique models what happens when translators read and responds to calls within Translation Studies for translators to claim visibility to practice thick translation and to develop their own creative voices This experimental translation addresses a readership within the academic disciplines of Translation Studies Germanic Studies and related fields Published in English

Handbook of Japanese Lexicon and Word Formation Taro Kageyama, Hideki Kishimoto, 2016-01-29 This volume presents a comprehensive survey of the lexicon and word formation processes in contemporary Japanese with particular emphasis on their typologically characteristic features and their interactions with syntax and semantics Through contacts with a variety of languages over more than two thousand years of history Japanese has developed a complex vocabulary system that is composed of four lexical strata i native Japanese ii mimetic iii Sino Japanese and iv foreign especially English This hybrid composition of the lexicon coupled with the agglutinative character of the language by which morphology is closely associated with syntax gives rise to theoretically intriguing interactions with word formation processes that are not easily found with inflectional isolate or polysynthetic types of languages

Verb Raising and Theta-Driven Movement Akemi Matsuya, 2017-12-04 Under the framework of the Minimalist Program this book attempts to clarify that greedy movement in Japanese fulfills locality and is driven by checking theta roles as well as Case categorial features and so on as formal features The findings are as follows the Spec of TP and an uninterpretable V feature make successive cyclic verb raising possible thus producing a complex verb Multiple Predicate Formation MPF and the Spec TP parameter attribute nonobligatory controlled PRO in the subject position of the adjunct to checking the nominative Case at the Spec of TP within the adjunct Overt verb raising beyond the nonfinite clause boundary enables the long distance A movement in the control constructions The derivational difference among ni direct passives ni indirect passives and ni yotte direct passives is due to the three corresponding types of checking theta roles and Case The impossibility of scrambling ni indirect passives is predicted by the exhaustion of the theta roles The semantic difference between o causatives and ni causatives is caused by dative NP s checking Case and theta roles No passives of noncoercive causatives are produced because of the exhaustion of theta roles at

TP The passivization in double object constructions are limited by the functions of dative markers in Case and theta role checking Verb Doubling and Dummy Verb Johannes Hein,2020-06-22 This monograph provides the first cross linguistic study of repair strategies in verbal fronting verb doubling and do support addressing both typological properties and theoretical aspects First it brings together data hitherto scattered across the empirical and theoretical literature and adds newly collected data from two African languages For each of the 47 languages the properties of verbal fronting are documented in detail Based on this sample the empirical part establishes two novel typological generalizations regarding the interaction between the size of the fronted category and the type of repair strategy used The first of these identifies a systematic typological gap No language that allows both verb and verb phrase fronting has do support with the former and verb doubling with the latter In the theoretical part it is shown that previous theories of verb doubling do support are unable to account for both generalizations A new approach within the Copy Theory of the Minimalist Framework is developed that rests on the interaction of head movement copy deletion and the properties of different movement types The book thus provides the first comprehensive empirical and theoretical overview of repair patterns in verbal fronting Diachronic, Typological, and Areal Aspects of Converbs Paola Cotticelli-Kurras,Eystein Dahl,Jelena Živojinović,2024-12-30 This book deals with the category of converbs whose denomination refers to a set of structures which cross linguistically are not comparable Specifically we tackle the following topics 1 converbs and related constructions as areal features distinguishing between a general coordinating and subordinating type of converb 2 converbs in the context of linguistic families particularly in the Indo European domain displaying different non finite structures to express the adverbial domain 3 converbial constructions and competing construction types 4 the diachronic typology of converbs and their source constructions
