Technological Infrastructure Policy Morris Teubal,Dominique Foray,Moshe Justman,Ehud Zuscovitch,2013-03-09

Technological Infrastructure Policy provides a systematic treatment of technological infrastructure TI and Technological Infrastructure Policy TIP which are emerging fields of interest both for academic economists and for policy makers in both advanced and developing economies The specific topics covered include the role of TI in economic growth and development the nature and definition of TI TI components the relationships between TI and markets salient features of TIP Technological Infrastructure Policy reflects the distinction made between basic and advanced TI Basic TI involves the collective absorption of foreign technology for subsequent diffusion to domestic firms Several chapters explicitly deal with this process with an emphasis on the supply of advisory services to small and medium enterprises Advanced TI involves precompetitive cooperation research and development in cutting edge technologies undertaken by consortia of firms Several examples of advanced TIP are given The novel integration of various conceptual and practical aspects of TI and TIP is the strong point of this book

Risk and Innovation National Academy of Engineering, 1995-12-14 Smaller technically oriented companies often assume types of risk and an amount of risk that is not often tolerated by large companies In the United States both consumers and companies depend on smaller high tech companies to explore the commercial application of technology in potential emerging and small markets This book through comparison of six industries in which small companies play a critical role explores the principal economic function of small high tech companies to probe explore and sometimes develop the frontiers of the U S economy in search of unrecognized or otherwise ignored opportunities for economic growth and development

Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations, Fiscal Year 1996, 104th Congress, First Session, H.R. 2076 United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Commerce, Justice, State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies, 1995 Capitalizing on New Needs and New Opportunities National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy, 2001-01-11 This report addresses a topic of recognized policy concern To capture the benefits of substantial U S investments in biomedical R D parallel investments in a wide range of seemingly unrelated disciplines are also required This report summarizes a major conference that reviewed our nation s R D support for biotechnology and information technologies The volume includes newly commissioned research and makes recommendations and findings concerning the important relationship between information technologies and biotechnology It emphasizes the fall off in R D investments needed to sustain the growth of the U S economy and to capitalize on the growing investment in biomedicine It also encourages greater support for inter disciplinary training to support new areas such as bioinformatics and urges more emphasis on and support for multi disciplinary research centers

Linking Science and Technology to Society's Environmental Goals National Research Council, Policy and Global Affairs, Policy Division, 1996-11-21 Where should the United States focus its long term efforts to improve the nation s environment What are the nation s most important environmental issues What role should science and technology play in addressing these issues Linking Science and Technology to Society s Environmental Goals provides the current thinking and answers to these questions Based on input from a range of experts and interested individuals including representatives of industry government academia environmental organizations and Native American communities this book urges policymakers to Use social science and risk assessment to guide decision making Monitor environmental changes in a more thorough consistent and coordinated manner Reduce the adverse impact of chemicals on the environment Move away from the use of fossil fuels Adopt an environmental approach to engineering that reduces the use of natural resources Substantially increase our understanding of the relationship between population and consumption This book will be of special interest to policymakers in government and industry environmental scientists engineers and advocates and faculty students and researchers Manufacturing Extension Programs United States. General Accounting Office,1995 From Central State to Free Global Market Economy C. Corsi,S. Kudrya,C. Cardone,2013-03-14 Some rapid and complex changes have taken place during recent years in the former Soviet Union These incredible changes occurred not only in political policy and behavior but also in social life and within framework of economic rules especially the aspects concerning the key factor of new and advanced economies which is based on Innovation Technology IT In fact IT is becoming to be a key factor or at least the enzymatic factor necessary for activating a solid economy based on advanced products and manufacturing and with an incredible and unforeseeable impact on human lifestyle and wellbeing This tool of development coupled to a world wide movement towards a post industrial era with poorly defined economic social and cultural boundaries is rapidly gaining support all over the world supporting and creating a global market This globalization intended as market expansion and flooding is really a deeper and more complex phenomenon surely mainly deriving from a cultural movement the origin and aim of the use of IT as a tool for World Globalization The process of globalization of the Innovation Market which might have originated the economy failure of Eastern Europe with a risk of disintegration is really the only way to solve the problem therefore the integration within the whole of Europe should be based on the paradigm of an Innovation Policy Public/private Partnerships ,1998 This report provides an assessment of public private partnerships the challenges they face and their potential within the nation s transportation system Included are examples that highlight activities in various transportation modes and the lessons they demonstrate The report draws the following conclusions Public private partnerships in transportation have had modest success as compared to other public policy agendas The success of these partnerships is limited by factors such as divergent motivations limited resources evolving legal constraints and changing agendas among participants Preventive strategies that minimize the impact of these challenges are needed In order for transportation related partnerships to achieve a fuller potential additional efforts are needed to leverage existing research and development investments and build new ones possibly as part of the overall R D investment environment This report will support decision makers in the public private non profit and academic sectors as they examine and develop opportunities for public private partnership in transportation and other related fields Bibliography web links acronyms Effective Partnering ,1996
