Passenger Arrivals At The Port Of Charleston:

Passenger Arrivals at the Port of Charleston, 1820-1829 Brent Holcomb,1994 Official passenger lists for the port of Charleston be they Customs Passenger Lists or State Department Transcripts exist only for the years 1820 1829 This work compiled by South Carolina genealogist Brent Holcomb captures this unique body of genealogical data on the several thousand people who managed to slip into Charleston through a relatively narrow window of time Most were from Great Britain and Ireland and most were young most were male and most were unskilled farmers and laborers The lists themselves are arranged in the order in which they are found in the original and all names in the lists are accessible by means of the name index at the back of the volume The data in each entry arranged in tabular format is as follows name of vessel name of passenger age sex date of arrival occupation where the passenger is from country to which he belongs and country which he intends to inhabit From publisher description Passenger Arrivals at the Port of New York, 1830-1832 ,2000 Starting in 1820 ships passenger lists were collected by U S Customs officials at all ports of entry Well into the 1890s these lists Customs Passenger Lists furnish proof of the arrival in the United States of nearly twenty million persons With the exception of federal census records they are the largest and most continuous body of records of the entire century Listing each passenger by name age sex occupation the country he intended to inhabit the name of his ship his port of embarkation and the date of his arrival the lists were kept under the authority of the collectors of customs at the various ports of entry later deposited with the Immigration and Naturalization Service and finally given to the National Archives where they were sorted and arranged by port date and ship and then microfilmed The microfilm version of the Customs Passenger Lists for the port of New York by far the busiest port of entry in the U S consists of both original passenger lists and copies of those lists depending on which list was most suitable for microfilming This new compilation by Mrs Bentley a sequel to her recent book covering the period 1820 1829 is a direct transcription of the original microfilmed lists National Archives Microfilm 237 for the port of New York for the period 1830 through 1832 In this one encyclopedic volume are the names in alphabetical order of 65 000 passengers with their age sex occupation place of origin etc and the names of the 1 700 ships that brought them to New York Also included is a separate list of ships with the names of ship masters ports of embarkation and dates of arrival Until now these passenger lists have been virtually inaccessible available only through a somewhat incomplete card index maintained by the National Archives Along with the first volume in this series we now have complete coverage of passengers arriving at the port of New York for the entire period from 1820 through 1832 Amazon They Came in Ships John Philip Colletta,2002 Provides information on searching passenger ship lists and indexes naturalization and immigration records and genealogical Websites to find records of ancestors who came to the United States on ships Passenger Arrivals at the Port of Philadelphia, 1800-1819 Michael Tepper,1986 The Philadelphia baggage lists are the oldest federal passenger lists existing Compiled in accordance with a law made to exempt in coming passengers from paying duty on their personal belongings they provide proof of immigration in the first two decades of the 19th century In the lists are the names of the passengers and in many cases there is data on such items as passengers ages nationalities former places of residence occupations destinations and the names and relationships of accompanying family members In all there were about 4 767 ship lists with about 40 000 passengers identified most from Great Britain especially Northern Ireland and Germany For convenience all of the passengers names have been arranged in a single alphabetical list   Forum ,2001   Hearings United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations,1964   Passengers from Ireland ,1980 Deriving from the New York newspaper The Shamrock or Hibernian Chronicle Passengers from Ireland includes all data published on immigrants during the entire seven year run of the paper and presents the lists in their original format so that family groupings are readily apparent In substance it comprises passenger lists for the whole period 1811 to August 1817 supplying information on over 7 000 travelers such as name of the passenger sometimes listed with his parish or county of former residence name of the vessel name of the ship s captain length of journey port of departure port and date of arrival and additional remarks concerning such untoward experiences on the high seas as seizure and impressment   Hearings, Reports and Prints of the House Committee on Appropriations United States.
