Passing For White A Study Of Racial Assimilation In A South African School:

Passing for White Graham Watson, 1970-01-01 Passing for White Graham Watson, 1970 Passing for White Graham Watson, 1970 South Africa R Social research study of the social structure and racial assimilation in a White African secondary education suburban area of Cape Town analyses the social organisation of the school its relations with the neighbourhood social mobility among the coloured people the relationships between teachers and students and covers poor academic performance records etc References The Emergence of the South African Metropolis Vivian Bickford-Smith, 2016-05-16 Focusing on South Africa's three main cities Johannesburg Cape Town and Durban this book explores South African urban history from the late nineteenth century onwards In particular it examines the metropolitan perceptions and experiences of both black and white South Africans as well as those of visitors especially visitors from Britain and North America Drawing on a rich array of city histories travel writing novels films newspapers radio and television programs and oral histories Vivian Bickford Smith focuses on the consequences of the depictions of the South African metropolis and the slums they contained and especially on how senses of urban belonging and geography helped create and reinforce South African ethnicities and nationalisms This ambitious and pioneering account spanning more than a century will be welcomed by scholars and students of African history urban history and historical geography Afrikaners and the Boundaries of Faith in Post-Apartheid South Africa Annika Björnsdotter Teppo, 2021-09-30 This book examines the shifting moral and spiritual lives of white Afrikaners in South Africa after apartheid The end of South Africa's apartheid system of racial and spatial segregation sparked wide reaching social change as social cultural spatial and racial boundaries were transgressed and transformed This book investigates how Afrikaners have mediated the country's shifting boundaries within the realm of religion For instance one in every three Afrikaners used these new freedoms to leave the traditional Dutch Reformed Church NGK often for an entirely new religious affiliation within the Pentecostal or Charismatic churches or New Religious Movements such as Wiccan neopaganism Based on long term ethnographic fieldwork in the Western Cape area the book investigates what spiritual life after racial totalitarianism means for the members of the ethnic group that constructed and maintained that very totalitarianism Ultimately the book asks how these new Afrikaner religious practices contribute to social solidarity and integration in a persistently segregated society and what they can tell us about racial relations in the country today This book will be of interest to scholars of religious studies social and cultural anthropology and African studies Change in Contemporary South Africa Leonard Thompson, Jeffrey Butler, 2023-11-15 Change in Contemporary South Africa examines the intricate and often contradictory realities of South Africa during a period of significant political and social tension The book explores the coexistence of apparent governmental stability marked by economic growth a strong coercive apparatus and sustained White political dominance with increasing signs of resistance including labor strikes student unrest and growing international condemnation By presenting a range of interpretations from authoritarian entrenchment to the potential for revolutionary change it delves into the complex dynamics that shape South Africa's trajectory. Structured across sections that analyze internal community dynamics, instruments of White domination, and the country's external relations, the book scrutinizes the processes of change within South Africa's unique socio-political framework. With contributions from scholars spanning diverse disciplines and perspectives, it raises critical questions about the future of racial inequality, the potential for redistribution of power and wealth, and the role of internal and external pressures in shaping outcomes. This comprehensive yet nuanced analysis offers a valuable lens for understanding a society on the brink of transformation, with implications that resonate far beyond its borders. This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program, which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice, reach, and impact. Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893, Voices Revived makes high-quality, peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology. This title was originally published in 1975.

The Tragic Black Buck Carlyle Van Thompson, 2004. The new edition of The Tragic Black Buck: Racial Masquerading in the American Literary Imagination offers a fresh perspective on this trail-blazing scholarship and the singular importance of F. Scott Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby as a challenge to the racial hegemony of biological white supremacy. Fitzgerald convincingly and boldly shows how racial passing by light-skinned Black individuals becomes the most fascinating literary trope associated with democracy and the enduring desire for the American Dream.

South African Literary Studies Christopher J. Lee, Andrew Offenburger, 2025-09-22. The collection delves into crucial themes and debates in South African literature, addressing the innovative aesthetics of Black poetry, the political complexities of white writing, non-fiction's significance, and the role of geography in South Africa's regional fiction. It particularly examines how literary works have engaged with the country's evolving post-apartheid identity and its place in global contexts.

South African Literary Studies: A Safundi Reader on Genre, Method, and Ideas 1999-2024. Marks the culminating volume in a series celebrating Safundi's twenty-fifth anniversary. This comprehensive collection showcases the journal's evolution from its initial focus on US South African comparative histories to its embrace of a wider range of interdisciplinary and literary studies. Divided into seven sections, this volume explores a diverse set of literary approaches, including transnational comparisons featuring influential figures like Maya Angelou, Alan Paton, Zora Neale Hurston, and Bessie Head. It further addresses the works of poets and novelists who have shaped South African literature, including Lesego Rampolokeng, Keorapetse Kgotsitsile, and J. M. Coetzee, while also offering illuminating interviews with writers such as Chris Abani, C. A. Davids, and Mark Behr. Through its exploration of various genres, methods, and ideas, this volume retains Safundi's founding spirit of examining comparative and transnational connections while also demonstrating how literary criticism has become indispensable in defining South African culture and identity after apartheid.

White Supremacy George M. Fredrickson, 1982-02-04. The history of race relations on two continents is enormously enriched by this comparative study.

Anglo-Indians and Minority Politics in South Asia Uther Charlton-Stevens, 2017-11-03 Anglo Indians are a mixed race Christian and Anglophone minority community which arose in South Asia during the long period of European colonialism. An often neglected part of the British Raj, their presence complicates the traditional binary through which British imperialism is viewed of ruler and ruled, coloniser and colonised. The book analyses the processes of ethnic group formation and political organisation beginning with petitions to the East India Company, state through the Raj's constitutional communalism to constitution making for the new India. It details how Anglo Indians sought to preserve protected areas of state and railway employment amidst the growing demands of Indian nationalism. Anglo Indians both suffered and benefitted from colonial British prejudices, being expected to loyally serve the colonial state as a result of their ties of kinship and culture to the colonial power whilst being the victims of racial and social discrimination. This mixed experience was embodied in their intermediate position in the Raj's evolving socio-racial employment hierarchy. The question of why and how a numerically small group who were privileged relative to the great majority of people in South Asia were granted nominated representatives and reserved employment in the new Indian Constitution amidst a general curtailment of minority group rights is tackled directly. Based on a wide range of source materials from Indian and British archives including the Anglo Indian Review and the debates of the Constituent Assembly of India, the book illuminatingly foregrounds the issues facing the smaller minorities during the drawn-out process of decolonisation in South Asia. It will be of interest to students and researchers of South Asia, Imperial and Global History, Politics and Mixed Race Studies.

Spaces of Multilingualism Robert Blackwood, Unn Rønneberg, 2021-10-17 This innovative collection explores critical issues in understanding multilingualism as a defining dimension of identity creation and negotiation in contemporary social life. Reinforcing interdisciplinary conversations on these themes, each chapter is co-authored by two different researchers, often those who have not written together before. The combined effect is a volume showcasing unique and dynamic perspectives on such topics as rethinking of language policy, testing of language rights, language pedagogy, meaning making and activism in the linguistic landscape. The book explores multilingualism through the lenses of spaces and policies as embodied in Elizabeth Lanza's body of work in the field, with a focus on the latest research on linguistic landscapes in diverse settings. Taken together, the book offers a window into better understanding issues around processes of change in and of languages and societies. This ground-breaking volume will be of particular interest to students and scholars in multilingualism, applied linguistics and sociolinguistics.

White Logic, White Methods Tuku Zuberi, Eduardo Bonilla-Silva, 2008-05-02 In this collection of essays, the authors examine how racial considerations have affected the way social science is conducted, how issues are framed and data is analyzed. With an assemblage of leading scholars, White Logic, White Methods explores the possibilities and necessary dethroning of current social research practices and demands a complete overhaul of current methods towards a multicultural and pluralist approach to what we know, think and question.

The Arrogance of Race George M. Fredrickson, 1988 An investigation of the issue of race over a generation.

of labor Quantitative History and Uncharted People Johan Fourie, 2023-08-10 One of the biggest challenges in the study of history is the unreliable nature of traditional archival sources which omit histories of marginalised groups This book makes the case that quantitative history offers a way to fill these gaps in the archive Showcasing 13 case studies from the South African past it applies quantitative sources tools and methods to social histories from below to uncover the experiences of unchartered peoples Examining the occupations of slaves victims of the Spanish flu health of schoolchildren and more it shows how quantitative tools can be particularly powerful in regions where historical records are preserved but questions of bias and prejudice pervade Applying methods such as GIS mapping network analysis and algorithmic matching techniques it explores histories of indigenous peoples women enslaved peoples and other groups marginalised in South African history Connecting quantitative sources and new forms of data interpretation with a narrative social history this book offers a fresh approach to quantitative methods and shows how they can be used to achieve a more complete picture of the past The
