Post-nonclassical Arts Education Olga Oleksyuk, 2019-11-22 This volume is a collective work bringing together Ukrainian researchers in the field of arts education Professional artistic education in Ukraine is currently one of the most important directions of a person's spiritual and ideological development. It suggests that the spiritual development of an individual can be fulfilled through musical art. To this end, this book presents a set of methodological approaches and principles of post nonclassical didactics allowing the formation of a new model of post nonclassical knowledge in the system of professional artistic education. The results provided here will be of great practical importance and can be used for drawing up special courses, methodological recommendations and training guides on artistic disciplines. The volume, which has a role to play in the scientific reflection of new trends, will be useful to researchers, educationalists, students and all those interested in the modern processes involved in the development of artistic education and who are looking for new pathways for the cultural development of Ukraine in the context of identifying the value of post nonclassical culture.

A Dictionary of Musical Terms Theodore Baker, 1895      Musical times and singing-class circular, 1884      The Complete Catalogue of Music Published by Novello, Ewer and Co, 1890      Text Genetics in Literary Modernism and other Essays Hans Walter Gabler, 2018-02-20. This collection of essays from world renowned scholar Hans Walter Gabler contains writings from a decade and a half of retirement spent exploring textual criticism, genetic criticism and literary criticism. In these sixteen stimulating contributions, he develops theories of textual criticism and editing that are inflected by our advance into the digital era, structurally analyses arts of composition in literature and music and traces the cultural implications discernible in book design and in the canonisation of works of literature and their authors. Distinctive and ambitious, these essays move beyond the concerns of the community of critics and scholars. Gabler responds innovatively to the issues involved and often endeavours to re-think their urgencies by bringing together the orthodox tenets of different schools of textual criticism. He moves between a variety of topics ranging from fresh genetic approaches to the work of James Joyce and Virginia Woolf to significant contributions to the theorisation of scholarly editing in the digital age. Written in Gabler's fluent style, these rich and elegant compositions are essential reading for literary and textual critics, scholarly editors, readers of James Joyce, New Modernism specialists and all those interested in textual scholarship and digital editing under the umbrella of Digital Humanities.

Nineteenth-century Choral Music Donna Marie Di Grazia, 2013. Nineteenth Century Choral Music is a collection of essays studying choral music making as a cultural phenomenon, one that had an impact on multiple parts of society. Rather than merely offering a collection of raw descriptions of works, the contributors focus their discussions on what these pieces reveal about their composers as craftsmen, women. Major works as well as other equally rich parts of the repertoire are discussed, including smaller choral works and contributions by composers such as Fanny Mendelssohn, Amy Beach, Charles Stanford.

Staging Christ's Passion in Eighteenth-Century Nahua Mexico Louise M. Burkhart, 2023-06-15. Staging Christ's Passion in Eighteenth Century Nahua Mexico explores the Passion plays performed in Nahuatl Aztec by Indigenous Mexicans living under Spanish colonial occupation. Though sourced from European writings and devotional practices that emphasized the suffering of Christ and his mother, this Nahuatl theatrical tradition grounded the Passion story.

in the Indigenous corporate community Passion plays had courted controversy in Europe since their twelfth century origin but in New Spain they faced Catholic authorities who questioned the spiritual and intellectual capacity of Indigenous people and in the eighteenth century sought to suppress these performances Six surviving eighteenth century scripts variants of an original play possibly composed early in the seventeenth century reveal how Nahuas passed along this model text while modifying it with new dialogue characters and stage techniques Louise M Burkhart explores the way Nahuas merged the Passion story with their language cultural constructs social norms and religious practices while also responding to surveillance by Catholic churchmen Analytical chapters trace significant themes through the six plays and key these to a composite play in English included in the volume A cast with over fifty distinct roles acted out events extending from Palm Sunday to Christ's death on the cross One actor became a localized embodiment of Jesus through a process of investiture and mimesis that carried aspects of pre Columbian materialized divinity into the later colonial period The play told a far richer version of the Passion story than what later colonial Nahuas typically learned from their priests or catechists And by assimilating Jesus to an Indigenous or macehualli identity the players enacted a protest against colonial rule The situation in eighteenth century New Spain presents both a unique confrontation between Indigenous communities and Enlightenment era religious reformers and a new chapter in an age old power game between popular practice and religious orthodoxy By focusing on how Nahuas localized the universalizing narrative of Christ's Passion Staging Christ's Passion in Eighteenth Century Nahua Mexico offers an unusually in depth view of religious life under colonial rule Burkhart's accompanying website also makes available transcriptions and translations of the six Nahuatl language plays four Spanish language plays composed in response to the suppression of the Nahuatl practice and related documentation providing a valuable resource for anyone interested in consulting the original material Comments restricted to single page plays composed in response to the suppression of the Nahuatl practice and related documentation providing a valuable resource for anyone interested in consulting the original material

How Music Developed: A Critical and Explanatory Account of the Growth of Modern Music William James Henderson, 2020-09-28 IN reading any history of the development of music as an art one must ever bear in mind the fact that music was also developing at the same time as a popular mode of expression and that the two processes were separate The cultivation of modern music as an art was begun by the medieval priests of the Roman Catholic Church who were endeavoring to arrange a liturgy for their service and it is due to this fact that for several centuries the only artistic music was that of the Church and that it was controlled by influences which barely touched the popular songs of the times In the course of years the two kinds of music came together and important changes were made But any account of the development of modern music as an art is compelled to begin with the story of the medieval chant In the beginning the chants of the Christian Church from which the medieval chant was developed were without system They were a heterogeneous mass of music derived wholly from sources which chanced to be near at hand The early Christians in Judea must naturally have borrowed their music from the worship of their forefathers who were mostly Jews The Christians in Greece naturally adapted Greek music to their requirements while those in Rome made use of the Roman kithara lyre songs which in their turn were borrowed from the Greeks Christ and the apostles at the Last Supper chanted one of the old Hebrew psalms Saint Paul speaks also of hymns and spiritual songs by one of which designations he certainly means the hymns of the early Christians founded on Roman lyre songs It is also on record that the Christian communities of Alexandria as early as 180 A D were in the habit of repeating the chant of the Last Supper with an accompaniment of flutes and Pliny the Younger 62 110 A D describes the custom of singing hymns to the glory of Christ     The Musical Herald and Tonic Sol-fa Reporter ,1889     Cantata for the 22nd Sunday After Trinity Johann Sebastian Bach,1911     The Musical Times ,1908     New Music Review and Church Music Review ,1905     The New Music Review and Church Music Review ,1928     The Bach Choir: The First Hundred Years Basil Keen,2017-07-05 This study of the Bach Choir provides a much needed overview of one of the major choral societies in London Dr Basil Keen examines the background that led to the formation of an ad hoc body to give the first performance in England of J S Bach s B minor Mass The musical and organizational effects of a permanent choral society drawn from one social group are traced during the first twenty years after such time the pressures of social change led to a complete review followed by a restructuring of the methods of recruitment and internal organization The rebuilding of the choir at the opening of the twentieth century the expansion of the repertoire the upheaval resulting from the First World War and the impact of these events on preparation and performance are all considered The book is essentially structured around the tenure of successive Musical Directors Otto Goldschmidt Charles Villiers Stanford Walford Davies Hugh Allen Ralph Vaughan Williams Adrian Boult Reginald Jacques and David Willcocks since their varied tastes and interests inevitably had a decisive influence on policy Keen draws upon previously unpublished material including minutes and correspondence of the Bach Choir interviews with relatives and descendants and examination of family records and correspondence To date there has been no survey of a major London choir that encompasses the full history of the organization in context In this study Dr Basil Keen provides a thorough examination of the Bach Choir including the response of the choir to social changes the influence of conductors and officials changes in musical taste relationships with composers and composition major national and international events and the effect of these matters on organization and repertoire
