Past In The Present Using Reminiscence In Health And Social Care:

Working with Older Adults: Group Process and Technique Barbara Haight, Faith Gibson, 2005-03-30 Beginning with an overview of the changing world of aging this book goes on to address practical principles and guidelines for group work

The Voice of the Past Paul Thompson, 2017-02-24 Oral history gives history back to the people in their own words And in giving a past it also helps them towards a future of their own making Oral history and life stories help to create a truer picture of the past and the changing present documenting the lives and feelings of all kinds of people many otherwise hidden from history It explores personal and family relationships and uncovers the secret cultures of work It connects public and private experience and it highlights the experiences of migrating between cultures At the same time it can bring courage to the old meaning to communities and contact between generations Sometimes it can offer a path for healing divided communities and those with traumatic memories Without it the history and sociology of our time would be poor and narrow In this fourth edition of his pioneering work fully revised with Joanna Bornat Paul Thompson challenges the accepted myths of historical scholarship He discusses the reliability of oral evidence in comparison with other sources and considers the social context of its development He looks at the relationship between memory the self and identity He traces oral history through its own past and weighs up the recent achievements of a movement which has become international with notably strong developments in North America Europe Australia Latin America South Africa and the Far East despite resistance from more conservative academics This new edition combines the classic text of The Voice of the Past with many new sections including especially the worldwide development of different forms of oral history and the parallel memory boom as well as discussions of theory in oral history and of memory trauma and reconciliation It offers a deep social and historical interpretation along with succinct practical advice on designing and carrying out a project The Voice of the Past remains an invaluable tool for anyone setting out to use oral history and life stories to construct a more authentic and balanced record of the past and the present

Parting Ways Denise Carson, 2011-04-10 Carson explores in captivating detail the new alternatives to traditional institutionalized dying mourning and memorialization She deftly paints a vivid portrait of her own experiences and successfully ties in conceptual research on newer death rituals This book is truly unique and timely Tony Bell Professor Emeritus at California State University Fullerton Department of Sociology Parting Ways provides a fresh and contemporary perspective on American death rituals Carson expertly weaves her personal narrative around existing research and in the process she delivers an important analysis on ritual and death that is poignant and widely accessible Justin Holcomb Reformed Theological Seminary

Remembering Home Habib Chaudhury, 2008-06-23 Research has shown that stimulating early memories can have positive effects for persons with dementia or related disorders and can energize the relationships between such persons and their families friends and caregivers Remembering Home emphasizes the importance of home in the lives of memory challenged adults offers insight into the richness and variety of life experiences associated with the idea of home and suggests ways in which caregivers can encourage reminiscences to improve the quality of life for those with dementia or associated diseases This volume advances the goals of affirming the dignity of and reinforcing personhood in adults with debilitating memory loss Environmental gerontologist Habib Chaudhury draws on research and fieldwork along with the stories and actions of persons with dementia and their loved ones to discuss dementia and the concept of self He shows how recollections of home can reach persons with compromised mental capacity and he shares techniques designed to spark conversation and stimulate participation in group and one on one activities Chaudhury encourages health care professionals and activity leaders to embrace a personhood affirming mode of care and provides tools and information for nonprofessionals who want to connect with understand and better appreciate people with dementia Aging and the Art of Living Jan Baars,2012-10-01 Baars explores philosophers from Plato to Foucault as they consider the meaning of aging and wisdom in our society In this deeply considered meditation on aging in Western culture Jan Baars argues that in today s world living longer does not necessarily mean living better He contends that there has been an overall loss of respect for aging to the point that understanding and dealing with aging people has become a process focused on the decline of potential and the advance of disease rather than on the accumulation of wisdom and the creation of new skills To make his case Baars compares and contrasts the works of such modern era thinkers as Foucault Heidegger and Husserl with the thought of Plato Aristotle Sophocles Cicero and other Ancient and Stoic philosophers He shows how people in the classical period less able to control health hazards had a far better sense of the provisional nature of living which led to a philosophical and religious emphasis on cultivating the art of living and the idea of wisdom This is not to say that modern society s assessments of aging are insignificant but they do need to balance an emphasis on the measuring of age with the concept of living in time Gerontologists philosophers and students will find Baars discussion to be a powerful perceptive conversation starter
