Past Trauma In Late Life European Perspective On Therapeutic Work With Older People:

Past Trauma in Late Life Linda Hunt, Mary Marshall, Cherry Rowlings, 1997 In the professional and practice literature on working with older people little attention has been given to the potential impact of trauma experienced in childhood and early adult life This book looks at the effect of trauma on behaviour which is often mistakenly viewed as part of the pathology of old age The contributors pay particular attention to the impact of the Holocaust and of the war experience of civilians and combatants as well as individual trauma The authors call for sensitivity on the part of professionals and carers to the possibility of early trauma as a causal factor in distress in older people The book encourages all those providing services to prepare themselves and their clients for a journey through what is often painful territory the material contained in this volume will help both specialist and non specialist practitioners to map a more certain course towards a coherent approach to therapeutic intervention and the care and support of many people still suffering from the consequences of earlier traumatic experiences

Critical Issues in Social Work With Older People Mo G. Ray, Miriam Bernard, Judith Phillips, 2018-06-26 This timely text highlights the importance of informed and critical practice in social work with older people With an emphasis on reflection throughout it argues for the need to rethink how social workers support some of the most vulnerable people in society The text begins with an exploration of the relationship between gerontology the study of aging and social work and demonstrates that a gerontological approach has long been missing from social work practice The central chapters consider key issues affecting older people and social work practice such as Risk of poverty Memory loss and dementia Palliative and end of life care Loss and bereavement Moving into a care home Bringing together theoretical and research insights this agenda setting text provides a sound base for creative practice with older people All those looking to make a positive and discernible difference to older people will find this text rewarding reading

Aging and Development Ann O'Hanlon, Peter Coleman, 2018-04-17 With increasing numbers of the population living into old age we need a better understanding of the nature and experience of ageing in all its aspects Up to now very few texts have considered this in any depth but Ageing and Development a new volume in the Texts in Developmental Psychology series provides a detailed and comprehensive overview of the theories and research in adult development into old age The classic early accounts of theorists such as Jung and Erikson are considered as well as their present day successors Particular attention is given to theories of adjustment to loss and to the threat of loss which dominate current gerontological research A notable feature of the book is the separate section devoted to the psychology of advanced old age to life in states of physical and or mental frailty and to the survival of the self in these circumstances There is a strong emphasis throughout on up to date empirical research and illustrative case examples The reader is constantly encouraged to take a critical perspective to understand the strengths and limitations of different studies and to think about the issues raised in terms of their own lives

Mental Health in Later Life Alisoun Milne, 2020-02-19 Focusing on mental health rather than mental illness this book adopts a lifecourse approach to understanding mental health and wellbeing in later life Well respected author and scholar Alisoun Milne explores the influences of lifecourse experiences structural inequalities socio political context history gender and age related factors and engages with new ways of thinking about preventing mental ill health and promoting mental health in later life Drawing together material from a number of different fields the book analyses the meaning and determinants of mental health among older populations and offers a critical review of the lifecourse ageing and mental health discourse for students professionals policy makers and researchers

The Evolution of British Gerontology Miriam Bernard, Mo Ray, Jackie Reynolds, 2020-04-01 Half a century of UK gerontology research theory policy and practice are under the spotlight in this landmark critical review of the subject that places the country's achievements in an international context Drawing on the archives of the British Society of Gerontology and interviews with dozens of the most influential figures in the field it provides a comprehensive picture of key developments and issues and looks to the future to plot new directions in thinking

This is the story of the remarkable progress of gerontology told through the eyes of those who have led it The Therapeutic Purposes of Reminiscence Mike Bender, Paulette Bauckham, Andrew Norris, 1998-12-28 I was impressed with the accessibility of the book offering a guided tour through the history context and purposes of reminiscence therapy the range of applications from promoting social and emotional stimulation to reminiscence as psychotherapy It also provides a brief overview of its theoretical underpinnings As a book for health professionals interested in reminiscence work it is a must for the shelf most importantly it emphasizes the need for adequate training and supervision for those undertaking this type of work the authors also provide a very good working guide to the assessment process Aging and Health In this practical and accessible book leading exponents of reminiscence work de

Countering Discrimination in Social Work Bogdan Lesnik, 2017-07-05 Discrimination Isn't there enough talk about discrimination Yes indeed That is why we have to begin countering discrimination We need strategies that will make it inoperative or at least limit its scope But first we need to think how discrimination works and identify it where it works It concerns far more than mere procedural hitches for which a few legal provisions will do Countering Discrimination Volume 1998 of International Perspectives in Social Work yearbook brings papers that analyse mechanisms of social discrimination in a variety of such locations and bring proposals for counter strategies This is essential in social work if causes rather than manifestations of the problems it is concerned with are to be addressed But it is also essential that everybody who opposes discrimination recognise its subtle and dispersed ways of operation in the human services regardless of their own basic field of work In this respect the book will be useful to a very wide audience Cognitive Analytic Therapy and Later Life Jason Hepple, Laura Sutton, 2004 Cognitive Analytic Therapy and Later Life highlights that any attempt to work psychotherapeutically with older people must take into account the effects of working within a context of institutional ageism It explores the specialist skills required when working with older people covering the delayed effects of early trauma narcissism and the re emergence of borderline traits and dissociative states the emergence of treatment resistant depression and anxiety the use of the cognitive analytic therapy model to challenge the child centred paradigm of psychoanalytic theory Clinical psychologists psychiatrists psychotherapists nurses social workers and occupational therapists alike will find this an illuminating and thought provoking book Living with Terror, Working with Trauma Danielle Knafo,2004 This book addresses the ways that mental health practitioners can assist survivors of terrorism Drawing upon the experience of leading practitioners and renowned experts throughout the world this edited volume explores the most innovative methods currently employed to help people heal and even grow from traumatic experiences It argues for a multi dimensional approach to understanding and treating the effects of terror related trauma

Psychology of Aging Aimee Spector,2017-03-02 The psychology of aging is an exciting and rapidly developing field This volume provides a collection of classic original and often widely cited papers including some older papers which may be hard to find through conventional searches Taken together they help to address some key questions what are the cognitive changes related to aging Is mental exercise useful To what extent might intelligence education or stimulating mental activities delay or even reduce cognitive symptoms of dementia However the book goes well beyond cognition and addresses social and emotional changes in aging as well as looking at how lifestyle factors may be influential in psychological functioning The section on the psychology of dementia covers the evolving psychological models plus innovative types of psychological interventions As more people live to an age where they are dependent on others the book also considers the stresses on carers and how carers can be supported Lastly other aspects of mental health problems in old age are addressed including depression PTSD and personality disorder This collection of intriguing and inspiring papers will liven up the shelves of students researchers and academics in the field as well as being a very useful resource for research teaching and study Depression in Later Life Steve Iliffe,Jill Manthorpe,2005-04-15 The authors take a multidisciplinary approach and employ both medical and psycho social models of depression The medical model is used to identify symptoms make diagnoses and work towards optimal treatment Psycho social perspectives provide insight into the scale and complexity of the condition and point to its social causes

Perspectives on Rehabilitation and Dementia Mary Marshall,2005 This book offers new insights into the application of a well established approach to people who have traditionally been thought not to benefit from them It demonstrates that rehabilitation has positive outcomes for people with dementia s quality of life and self esteem especially if rehabilitation is seen as a positive philosophy of practice Introducing Cognitive Analytic Therapy Anthony Ryle,Ian B. Kerr,2020-06-08 Introduces the principles and applications of cognitive analytic therapy CAT Cognitive Analytic Therapy CAT is an increasingly popular approach to therapy that is now widely recognised as a genuinely integrative and fundamentally relational model of psychotherapy This new edition of the definitive text to CAT offers a systematic and comprehensive introduction to its origins development and practice It also provides a fully updated overview of developments in the theory research and applications of CAT including clarification and re statement of basic concepts such as reciprocal roles and reciprocal role procedures as well as extensions into new areas of expertise

Introducing Cognitive Analytic Therapy Principles and Practice of a Relational Approach to Mental Health 2nd Edition starts with a brief account of the scope and focus of CAT and how it evolved and explains the main features of its practice It next offers a brief account of a relatively straightforward therapy to give readers a sense of the unfolding structure and style of a time limited CAT Following that are chapters that consider the normal and abnormal development of the Self and that introduce influential concepts from Vygotskian Bakhtinian and developmental psychology Subsequent chapters describe selection and assessment reformulation the course of therapy the ideal model of therapist activity and its relation to the supervision of therapists applications of CAT in various patient groups and settings and in treating personality type disorders use in reflective practice a CAT perspective on the difficult patient and systemic and contextual approaches Presents an updated introduction and overview of the principles and practice of cognitive analytic therapy CAT Updates the first edition with developments from the last decade in which CAT theory has deepened and the approach has been applied to new patient groups and extended far beyond its roots Includes detailed applicable how to descriptions of CAT in practice Includes references to CAT published works and suggestions for further reading within each chapter Includes a glossary of terms and several appendices containing the CAT Psychotherapy File a summary of CAT competences extracted from Roth and Pilling the Personality Structure Questionnaire and a description of repertory grid basics and their use in CAT Co written by the creator of the CAT model Anthony Ryle in collaboration with leading CAT practitioner trainer and researcher Ian B Kerr

Introducing Cognitive Analytic Therapy is the definitive book for CAT practitioners and CAT trainees at skills practitioner and psychotherapy levels It should also be of considerable interest and relevance to mental health professionals of all orientations including clinical psychologists psychiatrists counselors mental health nurses to those working in forensic and various institutional settings and to a range of other health care and social work professionals

Elder Abuse Work Jacki Pritchard, 1999-01-01 The abuse neglect and exploitation of older people in community and residential care settings is increasingly being recognised and addressed as a serious social concern in Britain and Canada Elder Abuse Work gives an overview of the developments and issues in both countries and draws out good practice guidelines

The Oxford Handbook of Clinical Geropsychology Nancy A. Pachana, Ken Laidlaw, 2014-11-06 Throughout the world the population of older adults continues to grow The rise in geriatric populations has seen an increase in research on clinical diagnostic assessment and treatment issues aimed at this population Clinical geropsychologists have increased their interest both in providing mental health services as well as developing approaches to improve quality of life for all older adults The Oxford Handbook of Clinical Geropsychology is a landmark publication in this field providing broad and authoritative coverage of the research and practice issues in clinical geropsychology today as well as innovations expanding the field s horizons Comprising chapters from the foremost scholars in clinical geropsychology from around the world the handbook captures the global proliferation of activity in this field In addition to core sections on topics such as sources of psychological distress assessment diagnosis and intervention the handbook includes valuable chapters devoted to methodological issues such as longitudinal studies and meta analyses in the field as well as new and emerging issues such as technological innovations and social media use in older populations Each chapter offers a review of the most pertinent international literature outlining current issues as well as important cultural implications and key practice issues where relevant and identifying possibilities for future research and policy applications The book is essential to all psychology researchers practitioners educators and students with an interest in the mental health of older adults In addition health professionals including psychiatrists social workers mental health nurses and trainee geriatric mental health workers will find this a invaluable resource Older adults comprise a growing percentage of the population worldwide Clinical psychologists with an interest in older populations have increased the amount of research and applied knowledge about effectively improving mental health later in life and this book captures that information on an international level The book addresses how to diagnose assess and treat mental illness in older persons as well as ways to improve quality of life in all older persons It has a great breadth of coverage of the area including chapters spanning how research is conducted to how new technologies such as virtual reality and social media are used with older people to improve mental health The book would appeal to all psychology researchers practitioners educators and students with an interest in the mental health of older adults It would also appeal to other health professionals including psychiatrists social workers and mental health nurses who work with older people It is a valuable resource for trainee geriatric mental health workers because it highlights key readings and important practice implications in the field

Memory, War and Trauma Nigel C. Hunt, 2010-05-13 Many millions of people are affected by the trauma of war Psychologists have a good understanding of how experiences of war impact on memory but the significance of external environmental influences is often disregarded Memory War and Trauma focuses on our understanding of the psychosocial impact of war in its broadest sense Nigel C Hunt argues that in order to understand war trauma it is critical to develop an understanding not only of the individual perspective but also of how societal and cultural factors impact on the outcome of an individual's experience This is a compelling book which helps to demonstrate why some people suffer from post traumatic stress while other people don't and how narrative understanding is important to the healing process Its multidisciplinary perspective will enable a deeper understanding of both individual traumatic stress and the structures of memory

Becoming a Trainer in Adult Abuse Work Jacki Pritchard, 2001-02-07 Agencies working with vulnerable adults are increasingly finding they have to train staff internally to become trainers on the issue of adult abuse and this trend is likely to continue Based on the author's considerable experience this timely and practical manual will help agencies develop effective basic awareness programmes

Dementia in Close-Up Bere Miesen, 2016-02-04 Dementia in Close Up is a clear and practical guide to dementia and the world of the dementia sufferer Bere Miesen assumes no medical or specialist knowledge and uses first hand accounts and real life examples to examiners on patterns of behaviour and responses of sufferers and their carers He focuses on the complex and varied relationships between the sufferer their family and professional carers and explores the conflict that can sometimes be engendered by dependency fear and sustained closeness Going beyond the purely medical descriptions of dementia Dementia in Close Up strives to give families and health professionals the means to form caring and rewarding relationships and to help everyone involved

Life Review In Health and Social Care Jeff Garland, Christina Garland, 2005-11-08 How can understanding our past help us face the future The key to gaining awareness of the present and preparing for the future lies in our understanding of the past yet there is little coverage of this topic in the existing psychology and counselling literature How can people improve themselves by greater self knowledge Jeff and Christina Garland break new ground in making a straightforward presentation of the theory and practice of the everyday process of life review which is a therapeutic approach for helping clients make sense of their past and can be used to help change undesirable behaviour and plan for the future The theory and structure of the life review process are examined and clinical examples of how it works in practice are given this includes interviews both with narrators people engaged in life review and listeners health and social care professionals These examples demonstrate how professionals can use life review to help their clients overcome difficulties in their lives and face the future with confidence Life Review will appeal to trainees and practitioners in occupational developmental clinical and health psychology social work counselling psychotherapy and nursing

A Relational Approach to Rehabilitation Ceri Bowen, Siobhan Palmer, Giles Yeates, 2018-05-08 This book is one of very few books on the topic of family adaptation and relationships after brain injury It is an important topic because of the unique impact that such a trauma can have on families Whether professionals are working in the community doing home visits or working in rehabilitation and care settings where family members visit the issues are important not just to help family members cope in adverse conditions but also to improve outcomes for the people with brain injuries This book will be of value to all health and social care practitioners working in the field of brain injury and chronic illness e g physicians clinical psychologists neuro psychologists social workers speech therapists occupational therapists physiotherapists dieticians nurses
