Mannon,2024-02-02 The Georgic Mode in Twentieth Century American Literature The Satisfactions of Soil and Sweat explores environmental writing that foregrounds labor Ethan Mannon argues that Virgil's Georgics as well as the georgic mode in general exerted considerable influence upon some of America's best known writers including Robert Frost Willa Cather and Wendell Berry and that these and others worked to revise the mode to better fit their own contexts This book also outlines the contemporary value of the georgic literary tradition two thousand years of writing that begins with the premise that humans must use the world in order to survive and search for a balance between human needs and nature's productive capacity In the georgic mode authors found an adaptable discourse that enabled them to advocate for the protection and responsible use of productive lands present rural places and people in all of their complexity explore human relationships with laboring animals and advertise the sensory pleasures of rooted work The New American War Film Robert

Burgoyne,2023-10-10 A look at how post 9/11 cinema captures the new face of war in the twenty first century While the war film has carved out a prominent space within the history of cinema the twenty first century has seen a significant shift in the characteristics that define it Serving as a roadmap to the genre's contemporary modes of expression The New American War Film explores how in the wake of 9/11 both the nature of military conflict and the symbolic frameworks that surround it have been dramatically reshaped Featuring in depth analyses of contemporary films like The Hurt Locker Zero Dark Thirty Eye in the Sky American Sniper and others The New American War Film details the genre's turn away from previously foundational themes of heroic sacrifice and national glory instead emphasizing the procedural violence of advanced military technologies and the haptic damage inflicted on individual bodies Unfolding amid an atmosphere of profound anxiety and disillusionment the new American war film demonstrates a breakdown of the prevailing cultural narratives that had come to characterize conflict in the previous century With each chapter highlighting a different facet of war's cinematic representation The New American War Film charts society's shifting attitudes toward violent conflict and what is broadly considered to be its acceptable repercussions Drawing attention to changes in gender dynamics and the focus on war's lasting psychological effects within these recent films Robert Burgoyne analyzes how cinema both reflects and reveals the makeup of the national imaginary To Sin No More David Rex Galindo,2018-02-27 For 300 years Franciscans were at the forefront of the spread of Catholicism in the New World In the late seventeenth century Franciscans developed a far reaching systematic missionary program in Spain and the Americas After founding the first college of propaganda fide in the Mexican city of Quer taro the Franciscan Order established six additional colleges in New Spain ten in South America and twelve in Spain From these colleges Franciscans proselytized Indians in frontier territories as well as Catholics in rural and urban areas in eighteenth century Spain and Spanish America To Sin No More is the first book to study these colleges their missionaries and their multifaceted sweeping missionary programs By focusing on the recruitment of non Catholics to Catholicism as well as the deepening of religious fervor among Catholics David Rex Galindo shows how the Franciscan colleges expanded and shaped popular Catholicism in the eighteenth century Spanish Atlantic world This book explores the motivations driving Franciscan friars their lives inside the colleges their training and their ministry among Catholics an often overlooked duty that paralleled missionary deployments Rex Galindo argues that Franciscan missionaries aimed to reform or reawaken Catholic parishioners just as much as they sought to convert non Christian Indians
