Homiletic Review ,1925      Quilt Culture Cheryl B. Torsney,Judy Elsley,1994 As a blanket a commemorative covering and a work of art the quilt is a nearly universal cultural artifact In recent years it has been recognized as one of our most compelling symbols of cultural diversity and the power of women In this collection Cheryl B Torsney and Judy Elsley bring together eleven provocative essays on the quilt as metaphor in literature history politics and philosophy This interdisciplinary approach makes Quilt Culture an extraordinarily rich exploration of a cultural artifact whose meaning is far more complex than that of a simple bed covering Publishers website      Metropolitan Pulpit and Homiletic Monthly ,1925      Good Housekeeping ,1896      Good Housekeeping Magazine ,1896      Sandra

Cisneros's The House on Mango Street Harold Bloom, 2010 A collection of essays exploring various aspects of Sandra Cisneros novel The House on Mango Street The Search for Wholeness and Diaspora Literacy in Contemporary African American Literature Silvia Castro-Borrego, 2011-05-25 This volume has as a cohesive argument the exploration of the different manifestations of the search for wholeness and spirituality in the writings of contemporary African American women writers covering different literary genres such as fiction both novels and short stories drama and poetry Together with the issue of spirituality the African American search for wholeness is analyzed as a source of creativity and agency As expressed in the contemporary literature of black women writers starting in the 1980s the search for wholeness reflects a beauty realized through the healing of the spirit and the body and is a process that takes on dimensions of reconciling the past and the present the mythical and the real the spiritual and the physical all in the context of an emerging world view that welcomes synthesis and expects both synthesis and generative contradictions The book will be a valuable collection for scholars of African American literature comparative American Ethnic literature American literature and spirituality as well as women s studies In addition it will be an important text for both undergraduate and graduate students in those fields As Professor Johnnella Butler 2006 points out the African American search for wholeness is tightly linked to the search for freedom and agency Ever since the 19th century African American writers have given expression to an African American self which functions in Western civilization simultaneously as a colonized other and an assertive self Due to the continuous ordeal of the African Diaspora this self is caught in between the binaries proposed by the material and the spiritual world seeking a balance where the person can become whole The search for wholeness feeds from cultural roots that imply the presence of ancestral spiritualism rememory and double consciousness Contemporary black women writers reflect the metaphor of building spiritual bridges seeking the possibilities of building a bridge to the archetypal African past that is carried in their memories as a presence that offers sustenance via spiritual reconnection Their works seek to bridge the gap between the myths and traditions of the past and contemporary African American culture The texts included in this collection are examples of writing as an exercise of what V v Clark calls Diaspora literacy The texts written by contemporary African American women writers explicitly show how to recognize and read the cultural signs left scattered along the road of progress In this way material acquisition is achieved along with cultural dispossession becoming a metaphor for the history of the African in America The powerful message is that one should not exclude the other I Could Name God in Twelve Ways Karen Salyer McElmurray, 2024-09-10 I could dream in poetry could summon words for spiritual experience could name God in twelve ways and in ten times and places in history Award winning writer Karen Salyer McElmurray details her life s journey across continents and decades in a poetic collection that is equal parts essay as memoir memoir as K nstlerroman and travelogue as meditation It is about the deserts of India A hospital ward in Maryland The blue seas of Greece A greenhouse in Virginia It is about the spirit houses of Thailand The mountains of eastern Kentucky The depths of the Grand

Canyon A creative writing classroom in Georgia An attic in a generations old house It is about coming to terms with both memory and the power of writing itself At turns lyrical poignant and alluring McElmurray probes her personal history from the stance of different places perspectives and vulnerabilities as she tenderly and fiercely searches for acceptance and a place to call home The Greatest Works of Kate Douglas Wiggin (Illustrated Edition) Kate Douglas
