Intellectual Property and Theories of Justice A. Gosseries, A. Marciano, A. Strödel, 2008-10-27 Fourteen philosophers economists and legal scholars address the question Can intellectual property rights be fair What differentiates intellectual from real property Should libertarians or Rawlsians defend IP rights What's wrong with free riding How can incentives be taken into account by theories of justice New Frontiers in the Philosophy of Intellectual Property Annabelle Lever, 2012-07-05 Examines the justification of patents copyrights and trademarks in light of the political controversy over the TRIPS agreement Intellectual Property Rights in China Zhenqing Zhang, 2019-02-22 Over the past three decades China has transformed itself from a stagnant inward centrally planned economy into an animated outward looking decentralized market economy Its rapid growth and trade surpluses have caused uneasiness in Western governments which perceive this growth to be a result of China's rejection of international protocols that protect intellectual property and its widespread theft and replication of Western technology and products China's major trading partners particularly the United States persistently criticize China for delivering at best half hearted enforcement of intellectual property rights IPR norms Despite these criticisms Zhenqing Zhang argues that China does respect international intellectual property rights but only in certain cases In Intellectual Property Rights in China Zhang addresses the variation in the effectiveness of China's IPR policy and explains the mechanisms for the uneven compliance with global IPR norms Covering the areas of patent copyright and trademark Zhang chronicles how Chinese IPR policy has evolved within the legacy of a planned economy and an immature market mechanism In this environment compliance with IPR norms is the result of balancing two factors the need for short term economic gains that depend on violating others IPR and the aspirations for long term sustained growth that requires respecting others IPR In case studies grounded in theoretical analysis as well as interviews and fieldwork Zhang demonstrates how advocates for IPR typically cutting edge Chinese companies and foreign IPR holders can be strong enough to persuade government officials to comply with IPR norms to achieve the country's long term economic development goals

Conversely he reveals the ways in which local governments protect IPR infringers because of their own political interests in raising tax revenues and creating jobs
