The Foreign Film Renaissance on American Screens, 1946-1973 Tino Balio, 2010-11-05 Largely shut out of American theaters since the 1920s foreign films such as

Open City Bicycle Thief Rashomon The Seventh Seal Breathless La Dolce Vita and L Avventura played after World War II in a growing number of art houses around the country and created a small but influential art film market devoted to the acquisition distribution and exhibition of foreign language and English language films produced abroad Nurtured by successive waves of imports from Italy Great Britain France Sweden Japan and the Soviet Bloc the renaissance was kick started by independent distributors working out of New York by the 1960s however the market had been subsumed by Hollywood From Roberto Rossellini s Open City in 1946 to Bernardo Bertolucci s Last Tango in Paris in 1973 Tino Balio tracks the critical reception in the press of such filmmakers as Fran ois Truffaut Jean Luc Godard Federico Fellini Michelangelo Antonioni Tony Richardson Ingmar Bergman Akira Kurosawa Luis Bu uel Satyajit Ray and Milos Forman Their releases paled in comparison to Hollywood fare at the box office but their impact on American film culture was enormous The reception accorded to art house cinema attacked motion picture censorship promoted the director as auteur and celebrated film as an international art Championing the cause was the new cinephile generation which was mostly made up of college students under thirty The fashion for foreign films depended in part on their frankness about sex When Hollywood abolished the Production Code in the late 1960s American made films began to treat adult themes with maturity and candor In this new environment foreign films lost their cachet and the art film market went into decline

Cinema of Interruptions Lalitha Gopalan, 2019-07-25 A framework for understanding the distinctiveness of Indian cinema as a national cinema within a global context dominated by Hollywood is proposed by this book With its sudden explosions into song and dance sequences half time intermissions and heavy traces of censorship Indian cinema can be identified as a Cinema of Interruptions To the uninitiated viewer brought up on the seamless linear plotting of Hollywood narrative this unfamiliar tendency towards digression may appear random and superfluous yet this book argues that such devices assist in the construction of a distinct visual and narrative time space In the hands of imaginative directors the conventions of Indian cinema become opportunities for narrative play and personal expression in such films as Sholay 1975 Nayakan 1987 Parinda 1989 Hathiyar 1981 and Hey Ram 1999 Cinema of Interruptions places commercial Indian film within a global system of popular cinemas but also points out its engagement with the dominant genre principles implemented by Western film. By focusing on the action genre work of leading contemporary directors J P Dutta, Mani Ratnam and Vidhu Vinod Chopra, brazen national style is shown to interact with international genre films to produce a hybrid form that reworks the gangster film, the western and the avenging woman genre. Central to this study is the relationship Indian cinema shares with its audience and an understanding of the pleasures it offers the cinephile. In articulating this bond, the book presents not only a fresh framework for understanding popular Indian cinema but also a contribution to film genre studies.
