the wars and policy debates that followed. Instead, they have been active participants as potential military recruits and organizers for social justice amid anti-immigration policies as students in schools learning about the attacks or readers of young adult literature about wars. The War of My Generation is the first essay collection to focus specifically on how the terrorist attacks and their aftermath have shaped these new generations of Americans. Drawing from a variety of disciplines including anthropology, sociology, cultural studies, and literary studies, the essays cover a wide range of topics from graphic war images in the classroom to computer games designed to promote military recruitment to emails from parents in the combat zone. The collection considers what cultural factors and products have shaped young people's experience of the 9/11 attacks, the wars that have followed, and their experiences as emerging citizen subjects in that moment. Revealing how young people understand the War on Terror and how adults understand the way young people think, The War of My Generation offers groundbreaking research on catastrophic events still fresh in our minds. 108th Street T. David Lee, 2008-09 In this warm and funny portrayal of life in a simpler time, the author creates a vivid story line about one boy's quest to be the best. Even though young David Lee hasn't a clue about how to manage it, he's determined to be declared the smartest boy in school. The lengths to which he goes and the depths to which he falls in pursuit of his goal frame an intimate tale set against the backdrop of life in the 1950s in the greatest city in the world. Soldiering on - Finding My Homes Christine Kriha Kastner, 2011-04-27 Some military brats rode camels in Arabia; others leaped from parachute training towers; but this little army brat rode backwards in the rear jump seat of the family station wagon all the way across America without a seatbelt. Christine Kriha Kastner grew up the only way she knew: on military bases stateside and around the world. By the time she turned in her military I.D. card when her father retired from the U.S. Army, she had lived in fifteen different houses and attended ten different schools. Situation normal for an army brat. Living on Okinawa was a memorable overseas assignment. So when an opportunity to return to that little island in the Pacific Ocean arose after forty years, she couldn't pass it up. Kastner returned to the island she remembered from her youth with the 73-year-old mother of one of her best friends. Together they took a Kubasaki High School reunion trip timed to coincide with the 4th Uchinanchu Festival that brought thousands of Okinawans back to the island from all over the world. It was the adventure of their lifetimes, just not quite the karaoke sake and pachinko experience they expected. Weekly World News, 1998-09-01 Rooted in the creative success of over 30 years of supermarket tabloid publishing, the Weekly World News has been the world's only reliable news source since 1979. The online hub www.weeklyworldnews.com is a leading entertainment news site. Women at War Elspeth Cameron Ritchie, Anne L. Naclerio, 2015 Women at War reviews the epidemiology, changes in policy, and demographics of women in the services; the factors affecting their health and health care while serving in austere environments; issues related to reproductive and urogenital health; and how health care providers can help prepare and prevent illness. The book also looks at mental health issues to include PTSD and other psychological effects of war, intimate partner violence, sexual assault, and suicide as well as the veteran experience Wheels Down Bret A. Moore, Carrie H. Kennedy, 2010-08-15 As a military service member you're looking forward to life after deployment and being back home among family and friends. But adjusting to normal life again can bring its own challenges. You're not the same person you were when you left on deployment. This book, written by military psychologists Moore and Kennedy, is a down-to-earth guide that's full of practical advice. The authors talk straight about both the joys and challenges of returning home, advising that one size does NOT fit all when it comes to making the transition. They share thoughtful, constructive tips for dealing with unwanted surprises like relationship break-ups, financial problems, and kids who are suddenly strangers. Experiences shared by many returning service members like sleep disturbances, anger management, and learning to live with hyperstartle are also discussed. For those whose transition has been more difficult, chapters on identifying the signs of PTSD, living with disturbing memories, and seeking relief from suicidal thoughts are particularly valuable. A final appendix is the definitive guide to support services for military members, with resources on everything from kids' books to financial management websites. Stanley Sipka, 2020-10-07 The book is about me and my interaction with students, faculty, and everyone else I want to move through my life from birth to the present. The 85 years of life have been eventful, and I am grateful for those who helped me arrive at this point in life. I want to convey the events that guided me through my early years, grade school, Army marriage, college teaching, and retirement. Each day was a learning experience. The goal was to make teaching more rewarding to the students. Many assignments that are included were not present when I started in 1965. My work during the summers helped me understand the innovations: NC (numerical control), CNC (computer numerical control), EDM (electric discharge machining). That learning helped me convey that knowledge to the students. Included are jobs made by the students that were designed to provide similar experiences found in the machining industry. There are stories about students and teachers that filled my days as a teacher. Lastly, there are assignments a person can try. My only comment is don't do the last two because they are difficult. That was a favorite comment to get students to work the difficult problems. Right from Wrong Mark Alan Smith, 2022-11-15 Where does morality come from? Apologists: people who offer a formal defense of their religion point to God as the answer. By inspiring scriptures that people can read, study, and teach, God supposedly gave humanity a guidebook for how to live. Award-winning scholar of religion and politics Mark Alan Smith shows the errors in this chain of assumptions. Apologists find themselves forced to accept a book that condemns same-sex love and authorizes slavery, genocide, capital punishment for minor offenses, and many other practices widely recognized today as immoral. Apologists try to protect their worldview by ignoring the offending passages, constructing strained reinterpretations, rationalizing the indefensible, or appealing to God's mysterious ways. Is there a non-religious method for discovering the elements of an objective morality? Yes, Smith argues, the worldview of humanism. Humanists apply reason, logic, and evidence to all subjects. Smith's humanist approach to morality relies on discussion and debate among diverse participants as the best means to attain a moral code stripped of the biases of each individual group and society The result is a hopeful portrait of how to build on the moral progress humans have achieved since the writing of religious scriptures Airman, 1979 Instinct for Survival Pat C. Hoy II, 2012-04 The essays in Instinct for Survival explore fundamental ideas about the ties of community the trials and tribulations of family life the sacrificial nature of public service the yearnings of the spirit and the tangled joys of teaching From his childhood in Arkansas to his career as both Army officer and professor of literature Pat Hoy uses his rich experiences as departure points in his quest for meaning In Mosaics of Southern Masculinity Hoy recalls his absent father and develops a multilayered inquiry into male identity that includes memories of his own sons and reflections on the ways other southern writers have grappled with father son relationships The Spirit Was Willing and So Was the Flesh stems from Hoy's attempts to come to terms with the feminine aspects of his own personality and with the apparent dichotomy between the spiritual and the physical Hoy toys with his own personal poetics and philosophy of writing in Conversing with Images where he articulates the unspoken power of images A fascination with life's mysteries informs these essays which together create a transcendent and marvelous mosaic of life

In Back of the Shamrock Doug Lowe, 2021-12-15 In Back of the Shamrock By Doug Lowe East Durham a small Irish resort town in upstate New York was the backdrop to an innocent childhood for a tight knit group of friends From sledding adventures in the winter to endless summers at the ball field in back of the Shamrock Frazer Doc Ranker Whiz and more shared childhood adolescence and young adulthood experiences that shaped who they became as men As the boys become men and eventually go their separate ways a tragedy brings them together once again and reveals the true strength of their lifelong bond and their unyielding loyalty to one another
