Ministère de l'Europe et des affaires étrangères, PLAN International, UNESCO, 2020-10-15 All About Black Girl Love in Education Autumn A. Griffin, Yolanda Sealey-Ruiz, 2024-07-25 Drawing from bell hooks's 1999 book All About Love this volume builds on theories of love as they relate to Black Girlhood in education shedding light on educational practices rooted in love and exploring strategies for centering Black girls and love in Grades K-12 Bringing together voices of scholars poets and visual artists who theorize Black Girlhood the collection pays particular attention to practices acts communities and pedagogies of love An antidote to the physical emotional and psychological violence to which Black girls in the United States are subjected on a daily basis at the hands of those who work in schooling environments it shows how teachers school leaders community educators and researchers might use love as a framework for changing the narrative and experiences of Black girls Crucially though in conversation with negative aspects of how Black girls experience school it argues for a shift in perspective that highlights the myriad of ways Black girls do and can receive love within schooling spaces Read through one of the most influential Black feminist scholars of all time it presents a novel alternative to the dearth of research that focuses on the violence neglect and exclusion Black girls experience in schools expands the scholarship on Black girls re-centers love in the work that educators do and connects theoretical orientations that characterize Black girl love to practice both in and outside of classrooms It will appeal to scholars researchers and educators working in the fields on urban education race and ethnicity in education gender studies literacy multicultural education and diversity and equity in education IDA's Partnership for Poverty Reduction Catherine Gwin, 2002-01-01 During its 40 year history the International Development Association IDA has worked to improve global welfare by allocating resources to growth and poverty reduction programs In 1990 a new framework for IDA's poverty reduction efforts was created which resulted in significant structural change to its programs The focus of the programs became one of labor intensive growth and expanded access to social services and safety nets to improve incomes levels among the poor Additionally the IDA agenda was expanded to include gender the environment and governance as facets of the poverty reduction framework This report evaluates IDA's performance from 1994 through 2000 against the three specific replenishment commitments of the period While finding the performance level only partially satisfactory the review suggests ways to improve the effectiveness of IDA programs replenishment process and its ability to match corporate and country priorities Teacher Preparation Programs, Partnerships, and the New Landscape for the Profession ,2024-10-02 In this book readers will have the opportunity to reflect on the multidisciplinary ideas and experiences presented by higher education and PreK 12 leaders seeking to establish effective partnerships in order to impact collaboration opportunities for innovation and growth Authors explored how identifying nurturing and sustaining partnerships in systematic and structured ways is not a one size fits all experience Partnership development requires flexibility and ongoing engagement with stakeholders The impact of individualization access to resources and support systems and the value of multiple perspectives and experiences is also shared Each chapter ends with reflective questions to support further reflection on experiences and ideas presented Contributors are Louis Bruschi Eileen Corigliano Jane DeFazio Lorrie DeSena Jose Luis Diaz Jr David Gordon Josephine Marcantonio Dina Prisco Vanessa Smith Washington Patricia Tooker and Joao Arnaldo Vembane Human Capital in Gender and Development Sydney Calkin,2018-05-11 Human Capital in Gender and Development addresses timely feminist debates about the relationship between feminism neoliberalism and international development The book engages with human capital theory a labour economics theory associated with the Chicago School that now animates a wide range of political and economic governance The book argues that human capital theory has been instrumental in constructing an economistic vision of gender equality as a tool for economic growth and girls and women of the global South as the quintessential entrepreneurs of the post global financial crisis era The book s critique of human capital theory and its role in Gender and Development gives insights into the kinds of development interventions that typify the Gender Equality as Smart Economics agenda of the World Bank and other international development institutions From the World Bank to NGOs and private businesses discourses about the economic benefits of gender equality and women s empowerment underpin a range of development interventions that aim to unlock the untapped potential of the world s women Its implications are both conceptual and material producing more interventionist forms of development governance increased power by private sector actors in development and de politicization of gender equality issues Human Capital in Gender and Development will be of particular interest to feminist scholars in Politics International Relations Development Studies and Human Geography It will also be a useful resource for teaching key debates about feminism neoliberalism and international development The Journal of Education ,1900 Critical Reflections on Public Private Partnerships Jasmine Gideon,Elaine Unterhalter,2020-12-21 This book argues that despite the hype within many policy circles there is actually very little evidence to support the presumed benefits of Public Private Partnerships PPPs in reducing poverty and addressing inequalities in the provision of and access to public services Taking a cross sectoral comparative approach this book investigates how PPPs have played out in practice and what the implications have been for inequalities Drawing on a range of empirical case studies in education healthcare housing and water the book picks apart the roles of PPPs as financing mechanisms in several international and national contexts and considers the similarities and differences between sectors The global COVID 19 pandemic has raised significant questions about the future of social provision and through its analysis of the emergence and expansion of the role of PPPs the book also makes a vital contribution to current discussion over this rapidly changing landscape Overall this wide ranging guide to understanding and evaluating the role of PPPs in the Global South will be useful to researchers within development international relations economics and related fields as well as to policy makers and practitioners working in development related policy
