You can print an application from the college website www.sheffield.ac.uk or obtain one from any college campus.

Section 1 - Personal Details

This is to identify who you are and enable the College to communicate directly with you. Make sure that you include your date of birth and correct address as this enables us to identify you and send information through the post to you. If you have a Unique Learner Number (ULN) please insert, otherwise please leave blank. Please give us contact phone numbers so we can talk to you about your application, if necessary.

Section 2 - What would you like to study?

Section 8 - Medical Conditions

Please tell us about anything we need to know to ensure your safety on college premises.

Section 9 - Criminal Convictions

The College is very keen to create a safe and welcoming environment for all its users. Occasionally this may lead us to decide not to allow someone to join one of our courses due to the nature of their criminal past. This will only happen in very rare circumstances and will be fully discussed with the applicant. Do not hesitate to contact the College if you have any queries about this section. Higher Ed: Tough Times in a World Divided Phillip L. Beukema, 2025-04-02 It is no secret that the world of higher education in the U S is in trouble It faces image problems some of the worst financial pressures ever political turmoil in at least half the states in our country and much more Not all these challenges are of academia's own making but many are Too many silos deep roots in tradition and confused institutional missions all contribute to the state of affairs Chapter by chapter the author lays bare what he regards as the most consequential matters confronting our higher education enterprise today These include everything from enrollment volatility and decline to the impact of a culture war on the DEI movement dim prospects for improved operational funding growing partisanship of university trustees and system boards the impacts of heavy reliance on contingent faculty increasingly unattractive and non competitive faculty salaries and institutional missions that have strayed or enlarged with unintended consequences As exhausting as this short list is it covers only part of the territory Colleges and universities of all stripes are affected from community and technical colleges to four year and graduate colleges and universities both private and public While there is no silver bullet at the ready the author outlines a rough blueprint for the kinds of initiatives and strategies needed to tackle the most consequential challenges we face today For many a school survival is truly at stake but achieving a turnaround is possible only if their leaders have the vision and courage to guide their institutions in the direction of life changing innovation and renewal Resources in Education ,1998 Fall Enrollment in Higher Education ,1974

Widening Participation in Higher Education T. Hinton-Smith,2012-10-30 This collection offers an authoritative up to date commentary on the challenges facing higher education today across both the UK and internationally The book charts the impact of global economic trends and recent policy developments for students academics providers and changing course provision Fall Enrollment in Higher Education National Center for Education Statistics,1975 Higher Education in the U.S.S.R. Seymour Michael Rosen,1963 Bulletin ,1963 Life and Death in Higher Education Clare Debenham,2021-01-28 This study is the result of many years of research but is topical because of the current teacher shortage At its peak in 1961 there were 40 000 men and women who entered colleges of education in Britain compared to 50 000 who entered traditional universities There have been interesting histories of individual colleges but this book takes a holistic approach which was supported by the historian Professor Asa Briggs This controversial study is packed with fascinating facts that will intrigue and inform readers As well as the relationship between colleges and schools social issues are analysed such as the role of working class teachers and the battles of women staff and students New evidence is provided for the colleges expansion and their sudden closure The study draws on undiscovered official and local archival sources An important feature is the testimony drawn from interviews from former college students the oldest being 101 years This immensely readable book appeals to general readers as well as specialist historians of education It is of particular interest to teachers especially those whose institutions were originally colleges of education Political scientists and sociologists will find much of relevance as will feminists who have enjoyed Debenham s last two published books Hearings ,1962 Trends in Educational Equity of Girls & Women Yupin Bae,2000 This statistical report responds to a request by Congress for a report on educational equity for girls and women The report assembles a series of indicators that examine the extent to which males and females have access to the same educational opportunities avail themselves of these opportunities perform at the same level succeed at the same rate and obtain the same benefits Data are drawn mainly from surveys conducted by the National Center for Education Statistics The report begins with an overview that summarizes the major findings A series of 44 indicators follows beginning with preparation for school and moving through elementary and secondary education to postsecondary education with a consideration of outcomes of education Data show that in school and in college females are now doing as well or better than males on many indicators and that the large gaps in educational attainment that once existed between men and women have in most cases been eliminated and in others have significantly decreased Women continue to lag behind males in mathematics and science achievement in high school and they are less likely to major in these fields in college Women are still under represented in doctoral and first degree professional programs although they have made substantial gains in the last 25 years Contains 57 tables and 63 figures SLD Higher Education and the State Roger Goodman,Takehiko Kariya,John Taylor,2013-05-13 The relationship between the state and higher education institutions has always been a complex one The state itself in this context is a heterogeneous mix of elite people bureaucrats politicians committees of co opted academics and business leader and it increasingly faces pressures from diverse stakeholders including students themselves an increasingly diverse community staff families employers and businesses local regional and multinational This volume explores the rapidly evolving relationship between the state and higher education in Europe and in East Asia through a combination of empirical studies secondary analyses and personal observations from many of the leading scholars in the field of comparative education studies A scenario emerges where the state seeks to encourage stakeholder influence while at the same time acts to moderate such influence in order to ensure that wider objectives are satisfied markets are controlled elements of demand and supply are manipulated and funding is targeted to meet particular policy priorities through a model that is described as controlled stakeholder steering which offers a new explanation of the relationship between the state and higher education certainly in the countries addressed in this book American Education,1965
