Passing On A Novel

Eva Aldea, Geoffrey Baker

Passing On A Novel:

The Lesbian and Gay Studies Reader Henry Abelove, Michèle Aina Barale, David M. Halperin, 1993 On homosexuality

Passing Interest Julie Cary Nerad, 2014-06-16 The first volume to focus on the trope of racial passing in novels memoirs television and films published or produced between 1990 and 2010 Passing Interest takes the scholarly conversation on passing into the twenty first century With contributors working in the fields of African American studies American studies cultural studies film studies literature and media studies this book offers a rich interdisciplinary survey of critical approaches to a broad range of contemporary passing texts Contributors frame recent passing texts with a wide array of cultural discourses including immigration law the Post Soul Aesthetic contemporary political satire affirmative action the paradoxes of colorblindness and the rhetoric of post racialism Many explore whether one drop of blood still governs our sense of racial identity or to what extent contemporary American culture allows for the racially indeterminate individual Some essays open the scholarly conversation to focus on ethnic passers individuals who complicate the traditional black white binary while others explore the slippage between traditional racial passing and related forms of racial performance including blackface minstrelsy and racial masquerade

Passing Brooke Kroeger, 2004-12-01 Despite the many social changes of the last half century many Americans still pass black for white gay for straight and now in many new ways as well We tend to think of passing in negative terms as deceitful cowardly a betrayal of one's self But this compassionate book reveals that many passers today are people of good heart and purpose whose decision to pass is an attempt to bypass injustice and to be more truly themselves Passing tells the poignant complicated life stories of a black man who passed as a white Jew a white woman who passed for black a working class Puerto Rican who passes for privileged a gay Conservative Jewish seminarian and a lesbian naval officer who passed for straight and a respected poet who radically shifts persona to write about rock n roll The stories interwoven with others from history literature and contemporary life explore the many forms passing still takes in our culture the social realities which make it an option and its logistical emotional and moral consequences We learn that there are still too many institutions environments and social situations that force honorable people to twist their lives into painful deceit ridden contortions for reasons that do not hold Passing is an intellectually absorbing exploration of a phenomenon that has long intrigued scholars inspired novelists and made hits of movies like The Crying Game and Boys Don't Cry

Passing Illusions Kerry Wallach, 2017-08-22 Challenges the notion that Weimar Jews sought to be invisible or indistinguishable from other Germans by passing as non Jews

Fakes and Forgeries Peter Knight, Jonathan Long, 2004 The possibility that works of art and literature might be forged and that identity might be faked has haunted the cultural imagination for centuries That spectre seems to have returned with a vengeance recently with a series of celebrated hoaxes and scandals ranging from the Alan Sokal hoax article in Social Text to Benjamin Wilkomirski's fake Holocaust memoir But as well as creating anxiety the possibility of faking it has now been turned into entertainment Traditionally these activities have been dismissed as dangerous and immoral but more recently some scholars have begun to speculate for example that all forms of national identity rely on forged myths of origin Recent cultural theory has likewise called into question traditional notions of authenticity and originality in both personal identity and in works of art Despite critical pronouncements of the death of the author and the substitution of the simulacrum for the original however making a distinction between the genuine and the fake continues to play a major role in our everyday understanding and evaluation of culture law and politics Consider for example the fiasco surrounding the forged Hitler diaries law suits against auction houses for failing to detect forgeries in the art market or the problem of plagiarism at universities It still seems to matter that we can spot the difference especially in the historical moment when we are capable of making copies that are indistinguishable perhaps even better than the original This collection of essays considers the moral aesthetic and political questions that are raised by the long history and current prevalence of fakes and forgeries The international team of contributors consider the issues thrown up by a wide range of examples drawn from fields ranging from literature to art history These case studies include little known subjects such as Eddie Burrup the Australian aboriginal artist who turned out to be an 81 year old white woman as well as new interpretations of familiar cases such as faked holocaust memoirs The strength of the collection is that it brings together not only a wide range of cultural examples of fakes and forgeries from different historical periods but also offers a wide variety of theoretical takes that will form a useful introduction and casebook on this growing field of inquiry

Jewish Anxiety and the Novels of Philip Roth Brett Ashley Kaplan, 2015-02-26 Jewish Anxiety and the Novels of Philip Roth argues that Roth's novels teach us that Jewish anxiety stems not only from fear of victimization but also from fear of perpetration It is impossible to think about Jewish victimization without thinking about the Holocaust and it is impossible to think about the taboo question of Jewish perpetration without thinking about Israel Roth's texts explore the Israel Palestine question and the Holocaust with varying degrees of intensity but all his novels scrutinize perpetration and victimization through examining racism and sexism in America Brett Ashley Kaplan uses Roth's novels as springboards to illuminate larger problems of victimization and perpetration masculinity femininity and gender racism and anti-Semitism For if as Kaplan argues Jewish anxiety is not only about the fear of oppression and we can begin to see how these anxieties function in terms of fears of perpetration then perhaps we can begin to unpack the complicated dynamics around the line between the Holocaust and Israel Palestine

The Post-Zombie C. Wylie Lenz, Angela Tenga, Kyle William Bishop, 2025-05-21 The living dead have come a long way from the shambling corpses depicted by George A Romero While traditional zombie monsters continue to flourish thanks in part to the ongoing popularity of The Walking Dead universe the global community now features reanimated zombies resurrected zombies protagonist zombies robotic zombies romantic zombies fake zombies zombie adjacent monsters and post zombie zombies This collection of scholarly essays considers recent and contemporary examples of zombies in fiction literature popular culture and politics from around the world and makes the case that because of the evolution of the undead the zombie remains an important allegorical feature of horror fiction satire and ideological perspectives

The Cambridge Companion to the African American Novel Maryemma Graham, 2004-04-15 The Cambridge Companion to the African American Novel presents new essays covering the one hundred and fifty year history of the African American novel Experts in the field from the US and Europe address some of the major issues in the genre passing the Protest novel the Blues novel and womanism among others The essays are full of fresh insights for students into the symbolic aesthetic and political function of canonical and non canonical fiction Chapters examine works by Ralph Ellison Leon Forrest Toni Morrison Ishmael Reed Alice Walker John Edgar Wideman and many others They reflect a range of critical methods intended to prompt new and experienced readers to consider the African American novel as a cultural and literary act of extraordinary significance This volume including a chronology and guide to further reading is an important resource for students and teachers alike

ClassPassing , Class Passing draws on dozens of examples from popular culture from old movie classics and contemporary films to print ads and cyberspace to illustrate how flagrant displays of wealth that were once unacceptable under the old rules of behavior are now flaunted by class passing celebrities Book jacket

Narrative Reliability, Racial Conflicts and Ideology in the Modern Novel Marta Puxan-Oliva, 2019-03-07 How does racial ideology contribute to the exploration of narrative voice How does narrative unreliability help in the production and critique of racial ideologies Through a refreshing comparative analysis of well established novels by Joseph Conrad William Faulkner James Weldon Johnson Albert Camus and Alejo Carpentier this book explores the racial politics of literary form Narrative Reliability Racial Conflicts and Ideology in the Modern Novel contributes to the emergent attention in literary studies to the interrelation of form and politics which has been underexplored in narrative theory and comparative racial studies Bridging cultural postcolonial racial studies and narratology this book brings context specificity and awareness to the production of ideological ambivalent narrative texts that through technical innovation in narrative reliability deeply engage with extremely violent episodes of colonial origin in the United Kingdom the United States Algeria and the French and Spanish Caribbean In this manner the book reformulates and expands the problem of narrative reliability and highlights the key uses and production of racial discourses so as to reveal the participation of experimental novels in early and mid 20th century racial conflicts which function as test case to display a broad new area of study in cultural and political narrative theory

Realism's Others Eva Aldea, Geoffrey Baker, 2010-07-12 For at least a century scholarship on realist narrative and occasional polemics against realist narrative have assumed that realism promotes the values of sameness against those of otherness and that it does so by use of a narrative mode that excludes certain epistemologies ideologies and ways of thinking However the truth is more complex than that as the essays in this volume all demonstrate Realism's Others examines the various strategies by which realist narratives create the idea of difference whether that difference is registered in terms of class ethnicity epistemology nationality or gender The authors in this collection examine in detail not just the fact of otherness in some canonical realist

and canonical magical realist and postmodern novels but the actual means by which that otherness is established by the text. These essays suggest that neither realist narrative nor narratives positioned as anti realist take otherness for granted rather the texts discussed here actively create difference and this creation of difference often occasions severe difficulties for the novels representational schema. How does one represent different types of knowledge other aesthetic modes or other spaces for example in texts whose epistemology has long been seen as secular and empirical whose aesthetic mode has always been approached as pure descriptive mimesis and whose settings are largely domestic. These essays all begin with a certain collision of nationalities of classes of representational matrices of religions and go on to chart the challenges that this collision presents to our ideas or stereotypes of realism or to the possibilities of writing against and beyond realism. This question motivates examination of key realist or social realist texts in some of these essays by Honoré de Balzac, George Eliot, Franz Grillparzer, Theodor Storm, Gottfried Keller, Theodor Fontane, Wilhelm Raabe, María Amparo Ruiz de Burton, Henry James, William Dean Howells, Charles Chesnutt, Theodore Dreiser, H. T. Tsiang, Alan Sillitoe, and Richard Yates. However, it is no less central a question in certain non realist texts which engage realist aims to a surprising degree, often to debate them openly. Some of these essays discuss in this light fantastic magical realist and postmodern works by Abram Tertz, Paul Auster, Alejo Carpentier, Toni Morrison, Gabriel García Márquez, Salman Rushdie, and A. S. Byatt. Realism becomes more than an aesthetic aim or narrative mode. It becomes rather a value evoked and discussed by all of the works analyzed here in order to reveal its impact on fiction's treatment of ethnicity, nationality, ideology, space, gender, and social class. Indigenous

Knowledges, 2021-02-22. How should new knowledge systems for the academy be reflective of a 60 000 year old Aboriginal histories? Indigenous Knowledges: Privileging Our Voices offers an answer to this question with generative and sometimes challenging narratives and addresses a unique higher education situation in Australia. At NIKERI Institute, Indigenous and Non Indigenous academics engage in collaborative discipline specific learning and teaching. In this collection of writings, these joint and sole authors find ways to present their world views to scholars, Indigenous communities, and researchers alike. Knowledge systems and ways of knowing are made accessible in 10 chapters building on occasions of reflection as communities of practice positioned around Australia's unique indigeneity as known at NIKERI. The notion of respectful encounter is at the heart of these chapters. Depth, ecology, personal and collective narratives, along with other ways to deliver research design and teacher education are considered through the lens of Indigenous Knowing in this unique community of academics at Deakin University, Melbourne, Australia. Sexual Discretion, Jeffrey Q. McCune, Jr., 2014-03-07. African American men who have sex with men while maintaining a heterosexual lifestyle in public are attracting increasing interest from both the general media and scholars. Commonly referred to as down low or DL men, many continue to have relationships with girlfriends and wives who remain unaware of their same sex desires, and in much of the media, DL men have been portrayed as carriers of HIV who spread the virus to black women. Sexual Discretion explores the DL phenomenon, offering refreshingly innovative analysis of the significance of media space and ideals of black masculinity in understanding down low communities In Sexual Discretion Jeffrey Q McCune Jr provides the first in depth examination of how the social expectations of black masculinity intersect and complicate expressions of same sex affection and desire Within these underground DL communities men aren't as highly policed and thus are able to maintain their public roles as properly masculine McCune draws from sources that range from R and from E Lynn Harris's contemporary sexual passing novels to McCune's own interviews and ethnography in nightclubs and online chat rooms Sexual Discretion details the causes pressures and negotiations driving men who rarely disclose their intimate secrets

No More Separate Spheres! Cathy N.

Davidson, Jessamyn Hatcher, 2002-05-10 Argues against the use of male female gender categories to characterize public and domestic life CrossRoutes, the Meanings of "race" for the 21st Century Paola Boi, 2003 This collection reflects the still urgent project of historical recuperation as well as an examination of literary representations and other cultural manifestations of the Black Diaspora Disciplinary work within the boundaries of African American Studies has been enhanced by more general considerations of the history of race and racism in globalized contexts The articles assembled here reflect recent empirical research as well as challenging theoretical considerations Contributions address particular formations of racialized modernity owed to the impact of the Atlantic slave trade and slavery and thus broaden the approach to the Middle Passage to improve our understanding of it as a constitutive transatlantic phenomenon in the widest possible sense

Reimagining the Republic Sandra M. Gustafson, Robert Levine, 2022-12-20 Albion W Tourg e 1838 1905 was a major force for social legal and literary transformation in the second half of the nineteenth century Best known for his Reconstruction novels A Fool's Errand 1879 and Bricks without Straw 1880 and for his key role in the civil rights case Plessy v Ferguson 1896 challenging Louisiana's law segregating railroad cars Tourg e published more than a dozen novels and a volume of short stories as well as nonfiction works of history law and politics This volume is the first collection focused on Tourg e's literary work and intends to establish his reputation as one of the great writers of fiction about the Reconstruction era arguably the greatest for the wide historical and geographical sweep of his novels and his ability to work with multiple points of view As a white novelist interested in the rights of African Americans Tourg e was committed to developing not a single Black perspective but multiple Black perspectives sometimes even in conflict The challenge was to do justice to those perspectives in the larger context of the story he wanted to tell about a multiracial America The seventeen essays in this volume are grouped around three large topics race citizenship and nation The volume also includes a Preface Introduction Afterword Bibliography and Chronology providing an overview of his career This collection changes the way that we view Tourg e by highlighting his contributions as a writer and editor and as a supporter of African American writers Exploring the full spectrum of his literary works and cultural engagements Reimagining the Republic Race Citizenship and Nation in the Literary Work of Albion Tourg e reveals a new Tourg e for our moment of renewed interest in the literature and politics of
