Past Meets Future Antoinette J. Lee, 1995-07-19 Emanating from a special National Preservation Conference leading experts present 33 essays on future trends in the historic preservation field Topics range from cultural diversity to the future of American communities This book will guide preservations and anyone concerned about our built environment into the next quarter century

Heritage Conservation in the United States John H. Sprinkle, Jr., 2023-05-25 Heritage Conservation in the United States begins to trace the growth of the American historic preservation movement over the last 50 years viewed from the context of the civil rights and environmental movements The first generation of the New Preservation 1966 1991 was characterized by the establishment of the bureaucratic structures that continue to shape the practice of heritage conservation in the United States The National Register of Historic Places began with less than a thousand historic properties and grew to over 50 000 listings Official recognition programs expanded causing sites that would never have been considered as either significant or physically representative in 1966 now being regularly considered as part of a historic preservation planning process The book uses the story of how sites associated with African American history came to be officially recognized and valued and how that process challenged the conventions and criteria that governed American preservation practice This book is designed for the historic preservation community and students engaged in the study of historic preservation

J. Rymsza-Pawlowska, 2017-10-03 During the 1976 Bicentennial celebration millions of Americans engaged with the past in brand new ways They became absorbed by historical miniseries like Roots visited museums with new exhibits that immersed them in the past propelled works of historical fiction onto the bestseller list and participated in living history events across the nation While many of these activities were sparked by the Bicentennial M J Rymsza Pawlowska shows that in fact they were symptomatic of a fundamental shift in Americans relationship to history during the 1960s and 1970s For the majority of the twentieth century Americans thought of the past as foundational to but separate from the present and they learned and thought about history in informational terms But Rymsza Pawlowska argues that the popular culture of the 1970s reflected an emerging desire to engage and enact the past on a more emotional level to consider the feelings and motivations of historic individuals and most importantly to use this in reevaluating both the past and the present This thought provoking book charts the era s shifting feeling for history and explores how it serves as a foundation for the experience and practice of history making today

Bird versus Bulldozer Audrey Mayer, 2021 An examination of the struggle to conserve biodiversity in urban regions told through the story of the threatened coastal California gnatcatcher A well written and thoroughly researched book Provides a detailed examination of the struggle to conserve biodiversity in urban areas Susan Catherine Cork Conservation Biology The story of the threatened coastal California gnatcatcher is a parable for understanding the larger ongoing struggle to conserve biodiversity in regions confronted with intensifying urban development Because this gnatcatcher depends on vanishing coastal sage scrub in Southern California it has been regarded as a flagship species for biodiversity protection since the early 1990s But the uncertainty of the gnatcatcher s taxonomic classification and whether it can be counted as a listable unit under the Endangered Species Act has provoked contentious debate among activists scientists urban developers and policy makers Synthesizing insights from ecology environmental history public policy analysis and urban planning as she tracks these debates over the course of the past twenty five years Audrey L Mayer presents an ultimately optimistic take on the importance of much neglected regional conservation planning strategies to create sustainable urban landscapes that benefit humans and wildlife alike Yesterday Tobias Becker, 2023-12-05 Nostalgia supposedly is the sphere of the sentimentalist But also and most definitely it is a force in the creation of the present and future and thus worth careful thought Yesterday argues that nostalgia s critics defend an idea of progress as naive as the longing they denounce while conflating nostalgia itself with historical whitewashing Design & Historic Preservation David L. Ames, Richard D. Wagner, 2009 This collection of papers addresses two questions central to design and historic preservation what are the parameters of compatibility in the design of additions to historic buildings and of new infill buildings in historic districts and landscapes Presented at the Third National Forum on Historic Preservation Practice A Critical Look at Design in Historic Preservation held at Goucher College
