School for Cool Eitan Y. Wilf,2014-05-05 Jazz was born on the streets grew up in the clubs and will die so some fear at the university Facing dwindling commercial demand and the gradual disappearance of venues many aspiring jazz musicians today learn their craft and find their careers in one of the many academic programs that now offer jazz degrees School for Cool is their story Going inside the halls of two of the most prestigious jazz schools around at Berklee College of Music in Boston and the New School for Jazz and Contemporary Music in New York Eitan Y Wilf tackles a formidable question at the heart of jazz today can creativity survive institutionalization Few art forms epitomize the anti institutional image more than jazz but it s precisely at the academy where jazz is now flourishing This shift has introduced numerous challenges and contradictions to the music s practitioners Solos are transcribed technique is standardized and the whole endeavor is plastered with the label high art a far cry from its freewheeling days Wilf shows how students educators and administrators have attempted to meet these challenges with an inventive spirit and a robust drive to preserve and foster what they consider to be jazz s central attributes its charisma and unexpectedness He also highlights the unintended consequences of their efforts to do so Ultimately he argues the gap between creative practice and institutionalized schooling although real is often the product of our efforts to close it
