Patent Law And Policy Cases And Materials 1992 Edition:

Seduced by Science Steven Goldberg, 2000-10 American religion Steven Goldberg claims has fallen into a trap Just at the moment when it has amassed the political strength and won the legal right to participate effectively in public debate it has lost its distinctive voice Instead of speaking of human values goals and limits it speaks in the language of science In the United States science has extraordinary influence and respect American religious leaders seeking prestige for their point of view regularly couch their responses to technological developments or defend their faith in scientific terms They claim for instance that medical studies demonstrate the power of prayer that science validates the Bible including its account of creation and that patenting the genetic code is dangerous because genes are the essence of who we are But when ministers priests and rabbis expound on double blind studies and the genetic causes of behavior they do not elevate religion Goldberg maintains they trivialize it Seduced by Science examines how by allowing scientific discourse to set the terms of the debate American religious leaders facilitate religion s move away from its more appropriate and important concerns of values morality and humility Science can tell us a lot about what is but precious little about what ought to be and our religious leaders often miss the chance to add an important voice from a faith based perspective to the public debate that follows scientific advances Discussing the most recent and pressing collisions between science and religion such as the medicinal benefits of prayer the human genome project and cloning Goldberg raises the timely guestion of what the appropriate role of religion might be in public life today Tackling the legal aspects of religious debate Goldberg suggests ways that religious leaders might confront new scientific developments in a more meaningful fashion Invention by Design Henry Petroski,1996 Petroski delves deep into the mystery of invention to explore what everyday artifacts and sophisticated networks can reveal about the way engineers solve problems Atmospheric Flight in the Twentieth Century P. Galison, A. Roland, 2013-03-07 All technologies differ from one another They are as varied as humanity s interaction with the physical world Even people attempting to do the same thing produce multiple technologies For example John H White discovered more than I 1000 patents in the 19th century for locomotive smokestacks Yet all technologies are processes by which humans seek to control their physical environment and bend nature to their purposes All technologies are alike The tension between likeness and difference runs through this collection of papers All focus on atmospheric flight a twentieth century phenomenon But they approach the topic from different disciplinary perspectives They ask disparate questions And they work from distinct agendas Collectively they help to explain what is different about aviation how it differs from other technologies and how flight itself has varied from one time and place to another The importance of this topic is manifest Flight is one of the defining technologies of the twentieth century Jay David Bolter argues in Turing s Man that certain technologies in certain ages have had the power not only to transform society but also to shape the way in which people understand their relationship with the physical world A defining technology says Bolter resembles a magnifying glass which collects and focuses seemingly disparate ideas in a culture into one bright sometimes piercing ray 2 Flight has done that for the twentieth century Food Security, Biological Diversity and Intellectual Property Rights Muriel Lightbourne, 2016-04-15 This volume advances the claim that the FAO International Treaty on Plant Genetic Resources for Food and Agriculture ITPGRFA adopted in 2001 is the only existing international agreement with the potential to promote food security conservation of biodiversity and equity However for germplasm rich countries national interests come into conflict with the global interest This work shows that the pursuit of national interests is counterproductive when it comes to maintaining genetic resources food security and rent seeking and that optimally the coverage of the FAO Treaty should be Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 widened to apply to all crops innovation the proper balance of competition and patent law and policy: a report by the Federal Trade Commission. United States. information about ourselves what some call informational privacy is rapidly diminishing Data mining and digital profiling are opening up what most would consider private domains for public consumption and manipulation Post 9 11 issues of national security have run headlong into individual rights to privacy and free speech concerns While constitutional guarantees against unwarranted searches and seizures have been relaxed access to vast amounts of information held by government agencies libraries and other information storehouses has been restricted in the name of national security Information Ethics Adam D. Moore, 2005 This anthology which focuses on the ethical issues surrounding free speech and information control includes writings by Aristotle John Stuart Mill and Immanuel Kant as well as expert 20th and 21st century commentators on Justifying Intellectual Property Robert P. Merges, 2011-06-13 In a sophisticated defense aspects of the current debate of intellectual property Merges draws on Kant Locke and Rawls to explain how IP rights are based on a solid ethical foundation and make sense for a just society He also calls for appropriate boundaries IP rights are real but they come with Law Books in Print: Title index Glanville Publishers, Incorporated,1997 real limits Patent Law: Cases, Problems, and Materials 3rd Edition 2023 Lisa Larrimore Ouellette, Jonathan S.
